SPECIAL TRAIN WRECKED AND AUTO NEARLY UPSETS

Portland, Ore., Sept. 19 [Special]. —Gov. Dewey had two narrow escapes from death today—once in a train wreck and again in a careening automobile—but the Republican Presidential candidate arrived here unscathed and unruffled tonight for a scheduled address on the theme there "are no indispensable men."

The train wreck, which occurred at 11:50 a. m. PWT [1:50 p. m. in Chicago] when the candidate's special train plowed into the rear end of a passenger train held up near Castle Rock, Wash., by a freight train collision, injured 24 persons in the Dewey party and subjected the New York governor to a shaking up and a blow on the chest from a piece of falling baggage. Mrs. Dewey, who was sitting in a compartment with the governor, received a sharp bump on the head which left her with a headache.

Auto Mishap Follows.

The automobile mishap took place a few hours later when an automobile in which Dewey was proceeding from Castle Rock to Portland was threatened by a furniture truck which made an abrupt left hand turn ahead of the governor's car without signaling.

Other members of the Dewey party in cars behind that of the governor saw the vehicle swerve crazily to the left as the driver slammed on the breaks, then held their breath as the machine went into a long skid.

For an instant, they said on arrival here, disaster to the Dewey car, either thru collision with the truck or thru overturning, seemed inevitable. The car cleared the truck by inches, however, and remained upright after teetering precariously on two wheels as it slid to a stop.

Inspects Two Trains.

Police said the truck driver was not held, since an arrest would have required swinging out of the Dewey convoy and delaying the party still further.

Following the train wreck, Dewey toured the coaches to inspect damage and look to the welfare of their occupants. He then visited the train ahead, into which his had crashed, repeating the performance there.

This was a Great Northern passenger train which had left Seattle about midnight and been forced to stop while wreckers were clearing the track ahead of debris caused by the crash of two freight trains last night. Several soldiers aboard the passenger train were given first aid treatment, but no serious injuries to persons on this train were reported.

Among the more seriously injured aboard the candidate's special was Mrs. Esther Van Waggoner Tufty, a sister of former Gov. Van Waggoner of Michigan and correspondent in Washington for a string of Michigan papers, who suffered a broken rib.

Train Goin 55 M. P. H.

Kirkland King, Albany, N. Y. United Press correspondent, also received a broken rib, and Charles Fendrych, representative of the New York Central railroad, suffered a possible fracture or dislocation of the right arm.

A. L. Sloan of the Chicago Herald-American had his head bruised. Carl McCardle of the Philadelphia Bulletin sprained his neck.

Engineer E. A. Wells of the Dewey train said the train was winding thru the wooded hills of southwestern Washington at a speed of about 55 miles an hour when he rounded a curve to see the passenger train stalled ahead of him. He applied the brakes immediately and slowed the train to 20 miles an hour before the crash.

"If I had had two more car lengths, I would have been able to stop without hitting it," Wells said.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Portland, Ore., Sept. 19. — Gov. Dewey, greeted with the most thunderous ovation of his campaign, after a hectic day in which his life was twice endangered, delivered a nationwide radio address here tonight, accepting President Roosevelt's avowed indispensability as the main issue of the November election.

Attacking the President personally the 42 year old Republican nominee cited what he called a record of Roosevelt arrogance and strife to conclude that a change in the White House occupancy is indispensable to the future peace and prosperity of America.

Roosevelt's name was booed repeatedly by a crowd of 7,000. Boos also followed references to the President's claims of indispensability.

Other Indispensabilities.

Also indispensable, Dewey said, are an end to the following unhealthful Washington situations:

1. The promotion of dissension, class against class, race against race, business against labor, government against capital, labor against industry, and one labor group against another.

2. Secretary of Interior Ickes' shrill and abusive tirades.

3. Vice President Wallace recklessly denouncing unspecified Americans as fascists.

4. Disruption in the war production board with the chairman "shipped off to China" and his first assistant resigning.

5. President Roosevelt's attempts to discredit congress as an institution.

6. Conditions which brought about the Washington birthday denunciation of Roosevelt by his majority leader, Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.].

Trouble with Congress.

Dewey declared that President Roosevelt has demonstrated he cannot work with the present Democratic congress and asked how he could be expected to get along with the Republican congress he expects to be elected this fall. Dewey's comments drew cheers from an overflow crowd about 60 per cent women.

In the field of post-war domestic economy Dewey challenged Roosevelt's indispensability by citing the record of the New Deal's prolongation of the depression with 10 million unemployed after spending 58 billion dollars.

In the field of foreign relations, Dewey declared that America's world influence for peace cannot be stronger than its strength at home. He discredited possibilities of a permanent peace "made privately by rulers of nations," and "dependent upon the life span and continued friendship of two or three individuals."

Parents Plan to Fight School Edict in Court

BY JOSEPH GREEN.

An injunction suit seeking to halt enforcement of the no-transfer order in Chicago schools will be filed in Circuit court this morning, Atty. Charles Liebman, representing protesting parents and backed by the Citizens Schools committee, said last night.

The only thing that would stop filing the suit would be a lifting of the general transfer ban, Liebman said after a conference of several hours with leaders in the parents' revolt.

Liebman said those attending the conference agreed that steps should be taken to bring a grand jury investigation of allegations of malfeasance in office against Supt. William H. Johnson.

Avoid Political Tieup.

Other points that the conference agreed upon, he said, were:

1. That the protest movement shall have no political aspects, and shall be confined to seeking remedies in the law.

2. That the protestants consider the school administrative office irresponsible, on the ground that altho the press was informed late Monday that children formerly barred at Earle school would be readmitted, 42 children tried to attend the school yesterday and were refused.

Liebman said "only gross inefficiency" would permit a notice to the press without a notice at the same time to the school principal. The principal could not confirm the superintendent's new order until nearly 3 p. m., when school was dismissed, Liebman said.

Ruling Angers Others.

The superintendent's retraction of the transfer ban at Earle school, 6121 S. Hermitage av. and in the Forest Glen community on the northwest side added fire to the anger of parents in sections of the city where conditions were said to be just as serious.

At Sutherland school, 10015 Leavitt st., in Beverly Hills, parents of more than 50 children prepared to tutor their children at home.

Twelve mothers with children banned from O'Toole school, 6550 S. Seeley av., have volunteered to teach 75 children in the Marlboro church, 68th st. and Damen av. Plans will be completed in a meeting tonight.

A survey indicated at least 50 children were staying out of Caldwell school, 8546 Cregier av.; about the same number at Scammon school, 4201 Henderson st.; nearly 100 at Ray, 5631 Kimbark av.; 80 at Peirce, 1423 Bryn Mawr av.; 66 at Sutherland, and large numbers at Kellogg, Barnard, and Clissold schools in the Beverly Hills neighborhood; the Bryant, Lawson, Gregory, Penn, Mason, Howland, Whitney, and Gary schools on the west side, and Waters, Bateman, Cleveland, Henry, Murphy, and others on the north side.

ONLY DEATH OF JAPS WILL END THE WAR, VICE ADMIRAL SAYS

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 19 (AP).—"There's only one way to end the Pacific war and that is to kill all the Japs," Vice Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of the navy bureau of personnel, said today.

"I'm not fooling," added the admiral, here on his annual inspection tour. "It will be strictly a navy function to get troops and supplies to where they want to go."

Because of that, he explained, instead of demobilizing when the axis breaks in Europe, the navy will continue expanding until at least June 30, 1945, and perhaps after that. The admiral predicted the postwar navy, even after demobilization, would be "much larger" than the pre-war force.

YANKS TO COME AND GO FOR 40c IN GRAND HOTEL

PARIS, Sept. 19 (AP).—A luxury club for allied enlisted troops, the pet idea of Gen. Eisenhower, will be opened Oct. 1 in the famous Grand hotel.

Directing officers say the club will be the first of its kind in the world, a place where all allied enlisted personnel will be able to mingle and enjoy furloughs on a scale comparable with that of the wealthiest set.

G. I. Joe will sleep between clean white sheets in soft beds in the establishment about which a famous novel was written around the theme that "people come and people go, but nothing ever happens." A room will cost 20 francs [40 cents].

Dime Heiress Asserts Count Beat Her Baby

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 19 (AP).—Barbara Hutton Grant, five and dime heiress, filed a new legal action today against her former husband, Count Haugwitz Reventlow, alleging he struck their son, Lance, on the head in a "fit of temper" when the child was two years old.

Mrs. Grant also charged Reventlow represented himself to be of Danish birth, and did not tell her until after their child was born that he was born in Gemany and was a veteran of the German army in the last war.

The suit, filed in United States district court, asked a temporary injunction immediately restraining Reventlow from benefiting from a trust fund of 1½ million dollars which she established for him when they separated in 1938. In the same court two weeks ago she sued for a permanent injunction.

Tells of Son's Screams.

Mrs. Grant, now the estranged wife of Cary Grant, the film actor, said Reventlow struck Lance in their Paris apartment in April, 1938, just before they separated.

"I was awakened by the screams of my son, Lance," her petition said, "I entered Reventlow's bedroom and found that in one of his fits of temper he had struck the child on the head with his hand.

"I seized the child, took him into my room, and after giving him into the care of his nurse, returned to Reventlow's room.

"I informed him that I could no longer continue to live with him. I told him I had to leave him."

Clash Over Custody.

Mrs. Grant's attorneys said the immediate reason for her effort to stop payments to Reventlow was his alleged violation of a custody agreement under which, she says, Reventlow should have returned the son to his mother last June 30. Instead, the attorneys allege, he took the boy to Canada.

[The new action followed filing of suit in Wilmington Sept. 5 in which the heiress sought to cut Reventlow off from the income of the trust fund. In the earlier suit she charged that Reventlow had his eyes on her fortune.]

Widow Gets 'Good, Clean Pensioned' Mate Thru Ads

FINLAND TO PAY 300 MILLIONS, 2 PORTS TO REDS

'Hardest Terms' in Its History.

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP).—Finland has agreed to pay the soviet union a heavy price in territory and cash reparations for losing its gamble in fighting on the side of Germany, it was disclosed tonight.

Acting Prime Minister Ernst Von Born, broadcasting to the Finnish people terms of the armistice signed with Great Britain and Russia, called them "the hardest terms in our history," and questioned whether the nation could survive.

Premier Hantti Hackzell, near death in a Moscow hospital, was sinking rapidly and was unaware that the armistice that he went to the Russian capital to obtain had been signed. A bulletin on his condition, broadcast from Moscow, said he had lapsed into unconsciousness.

The 23 clause armistice, terms of which stiffened as the Finns stalled for months in getting out of the war, cost the Finns $300,000,000 indemnity to be paid within six years and these vital territorial concessions:

1. Immediate restoration of the 1940 Russo-Finnish border fixed after the 104 day war. This meant the loss of Karelia, the area west and north of Lake Ladoga, which includes the city of Viipuri and is the most industrially developed region of Finland, containing 10 per cent of its total population, and a slice of the border territory to the north where the sovists planned a tributary to their Murmansk railway.

Give Up Naval Base.

2. The Petsamo area in the far north with its port and rich nickel mines.

3. The leasing to Russia for 50 years of Porkkala peninsula with its naval base on the Finnish gulf. With the peninsula went a "considerable stretch of sea land." It was reported that this leased territory would extend to a point only eight miles from the Finnish capital of Helsinki.

In addition, Von Born disclosed that the Finns had granted the allies temporary possession of air fields in south and southwest Finland and handed over the Finnish merchant fleet for the allies' war time use with promises to "help the allies with deliveries of materiel."

Must Disarm Germans.

The Finns promised to disarm German troops in Finland and hand them over to the allies, "and this," Von Born said, "altho we must prepare hastily for our army to return to peace time footing."

Von Born disclosed that the Russians cut in half the cash indemnity asked of the Finns during negotiations last spring, but he added, "nevertheless, it is relatively heavier than any demand for reparations made on any country after the last war." The same price, however, has been fixed for payment by Romania.

The Finnish peace delegation to Moscow "did their best," Von Born said, and "it is not our fault that the result is not what the Finnish people dared to hope for despite everything."

He called on the nation to "stick to reality and try to build up our existence with the opportunities that are left to us," and reminded the people that "we are Russia's neighbor and must always take this into account."

HERO'S BROTHER TELLS OF LONG HIKES TO SCHOOL

Lt. Samuel Magill of Ashtabula, O., who used some military psychology in engineering the surrender of 20,000 trapped Nazis in southern France on Sept. 10, walked four miles a day to attend high school in Kingsville, O., his brother, Policeman Frank Magill of the Jefferson Park station, recalled yesterday. Lt. Magill, who ordered an air mission to circulate over the German area at Chateauneuf-sur-Cher as French intelligence officers went to tell the German general he would have to give up or face destructive air attacks, lived in Chicago when he was a child and attended Trumbull elementary school, his brother said.

NAZIS BESIEGE KING; TIGHTEN GRIP ON DANES

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 19 (AP).—Aging King Christian X. of Denmark and his family were reported besieged in the Amalienborg palace by German marines tonight, but there were indications that the nation-wide rioting resulting from Nazi seizure of government buildings and police stations had ceased. Word from Copenhagen said the capital was calm tonight.

The Free Danish press service said an appeal had been made by the Free Danish council, asking all Danes to stop fighting but to continue a general strike until Thursday in protest against German dissolution of the Danish police force of 12,000 men.

The Free Danes said the strike would be complete except for continued functioning of gas, water, and electric facilities and added that all trains in Sjaelland stopped running at 6 p. m.

An earlier report from Halsingborg, on the Swedish coast across from Denmark, said Danish constabulary fought a fierce but uneven battle in defense of the royal palace and killed at least 14 Nazis, but were subdued by light artillery.

The Danes were forced to surrender, this report said, and a number of Danish police officers fled to Sweden.

Call General Strike.

The struggle for the Copenhagen police headquarters was fierce, with the Danish constabulary holding out for four hours before succumbing, another report said.

[OWI quoting a Swedish radio report said three civilians were killed and 16 wounded in the fighting in Copenhagen.]

Immediately after the German coup at noon a general strike was called at 2 p. m.

The Germans employed a ruse in the new control, staging a false air raid alarm thruout the country and then moving into the government buildings and police stations while the Danes were taking shelter. The Danish police force was dissolved immediately.

Civilians Aid Police.

German police cars filled with soldiers and gestapo agents moved against the police stations thruout Denmark. Fighting began in scattered areas and civilians were reported to have assisted the police. Some stations were taken quickly and the police removed to internment camps.

Declaring a state of emergency in the tiny nation, the Nazis warned the Danes that their "patience" was at an end.

A proclamation broadcast over the Nazi controled Danish radio said the Germans could no longer tolerate the communistic conditions now prevailing in the country. They accused the Danish police of creating this state of affairs at a time when the occupation forces were fighting for their existence. Therefore, the broadcast said, German troops were directed to exercise police supervision of the country.

The proclamation said all opposition would be ruthlessly suppressed and that henceforth all Danes found in possession of firearms would be shot summarily and those who attempt to obstruct the new Nazi measures "will be punished strictly, in certain cases even with the death penalty."

All automobile traffic, except vehicles used by doctors and milk companies, was banned in rural districts.

YANKS FORCE NEW CROSSING INTO GERMANY

Sky Troopers Open Way for 2d Army.

SUPREME HDQ., ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sept. 19 (AP).—The Germans in desperation have turned flying bombs onto American troops in the Moselle valley, headquarters disclosed tonight.

Information at headquarters was that flying bombs as well as continuing artillery and tank fire had been turned on Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3d army. The heaviest fighting was said to be in the Nancy area, but little ground changed hands.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American 1st army made another crossing into Germany in the vicinity of Sittard, north of Maastricht, Holland. Sittard was occupied.

Artillery of the 1st army began shelling Duren, 20 miles southwest of Cologne, and Prum, 45 miles west of Coblenz.

[Radio France at Algiers said today the German garrison in the French port of Boulogne had surrendered. Earlier the clandestine anti-Nazi radio Atlantik said the port of "Brest is in allied hands." There was no immediate allied confirmation of the reports.]

Poised for Drive on Ruhr.

The British 2d army forged a solid link with allied air borne troops in Holland and swung into position for a headlong drive into Germany's industrial Ruhr valley. Armored columns shot across southern Holland, 50 miles in 48 hours, racing to roll up the northern end of the Siegfried line. They reached the last big pocket of air borne troops on the edge of Nijmegen.

[A British broadcast said 2d army troops had penetrated the outskirts of Nijmegen.]

Allied air borne troops, who aided the British in capturing Eindhoven, seventh city of the Netherlands, held open the gateway to the Ruhr as the British reached the huge pocket between Arnhem and Nijmegen, and were four miles from Germany on the southern banks of the Waal Rhine.

The British dashed thru country largely cleared of the enemy by American, British, Polish, and Dutch sky troopers.

Germans Held at Bay.

On a dozen different battle grounds the Germans were held at bay while the allies' power blow on the northern flank took shape rapidly. Attention centered on Nijmegen and Arnhem, officially identified as the targets of Sunday's landings by the air troops.

A front dispatch said the Nazis gradually were recovering from the shock of landings by Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's sky trains and were stiffening their resistance. Heavily reinforced Germans, facing entrapment in western Holland, opened counter-attacks, the dispatch said.

Thruout the day more allied troops dropped from the air in what were described officially as "strong forces."

Hold Open Vital Bridge.

The British drive thru southern Holland began at Valkenswaard, five miles south of Eindhoven. A spearhead bypassed Eindhoven and sent a column four miles east to Geldrop to protect the flank. Tanks rumbled and swayed across pontoons north of Eindhoven, where the Germans blasted the Wilhelmina bridge and raced across country to Grave, nine miles southwest of Nijmegen. There the air borne troops held a vital bridge across the Meuse against German attacks.

At Nijmegen allied troops were about 12 miles beyond the town of Kleve, which has been authoritatively described as the northern terminus of the Siegfried line. Uprooting of the enemy's right flank and a subsequent allied plunge into the German industrial Rhineland appeared to be imminent.

Enter City from Two Sides.

The German radio said American air borne troops fought into Eindhoven, a big communications center of 111,000 population, from the north, while British ground forces entered the city from the southwest. The enemy broadcast said grim fighting was in progress around Arnhem and Nijmegen, with allied landing forces being "immediately attacked by the Germans from all sides."

Additional landings of allied air troops were reported by the German DNB news agency to have been made in the Dutch provinces of Utrecht and Gelderland, north and northeast of Arnhem and Nijmegen. Nazi broadcasts stressed the great numbers of troops and the quantities of supplies and equipment raining down on Holland.

Holland "Center of Gravity."

A German broadcast asserting that Nazi counter-attacks had succeeded in halting the American drives from Aachen to Belfort, said that now the "center of gravity on the western front is clearly in Holland."

The allied operation to turn the enemy's northern flank took on increased importance as fall rains turned the front from Cologne to Belfort gap into a quagmire.

East of Aachen, Gen. Hodges' forces were being blasted by the greatest concentration of artillery the Germans had gathered since the fighting in Normandy, but an allied bulletin announced capture of more than a half dozen villages between Aachen and Trier.

The 1st army shelling of Duren and Prum included 105 mm. guns. Duren is an important road junction 15 miles east of Aachen and the last big hurdle before Cologne. Prum is 30 miles south of Aachen on the inner fringe of the Siegfried defenses and five miles east of Brandschied, where the Americans dug in.

Attack Yank Salient.

Northeast of Aachen armored elements drove thru Schnee Eiffel, while clear weather turned the airforce loose for the first time in several days. Heavy and medium bombers and fighter bombers pounded German lines heavily.

North of Trier in the Wollendorf area the Germans attacked an American salient thru the Siegfried line in another bitter effort to seal off the breach in their defenses. But the counter-thrust was driven back and at no point did the Americans give ground.

Since D-day the 1st army has captured more than 180,000 prisoners of war, or the equivalent of 15 full German divisions.

Three battles swirled in an arc east of Nancy, where the Nazis were counter-attacking against Lt. Gen. Patton's forces. A front dispatch said the German high command was throwing men and tanks recklessly in an effort to halt Patton's drive.

Use Bayonets and Knives.

A battle was raging north and east of Nancy, with fighting extended over an area of 50 square miles. Knives and bayonets were in frequent use. One force of about 2,000 Germans, when cut off and called upon to surrender, replied "we would rather die first."

There was little news from the 7th army front, where Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's men were slugging toward the Belfort gap. Fougerolles, 27 miles northwest of Belfort, fell to allied troops. French troops beat off an enemy counter-attack 10 miles south of Belfort.

GERMAN WAR REPORT.

Tuesday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded in New York by the Associated Press said:

"In central Holland, the enemy reënforced his units landed in the rear of our front with fresh air borne troops. Our own attacks against the landing places are slowly gaining ground against stubborn enemy resistance.

"From the Neerpelt bridgehead, the enemy with a strong tank formation attacked northward and entered Eindhoven. Forty-three enemy tanks were destroyed in embittered, close range fighting.

"Despite strong artillery fire and American tanks, the enemy was able to make only a small gain of ground northwest of Aachen. All enemy attacks west and south of the city were repelled.

"In the Luneville area, our own counter-attacks continued to prove successful, local fighting has been reported from other sections.

"With strong support by artillery and planes, the enemy again yesterday [Monday] attacked Boulogne and Brest. After heavy fighting, the enemy was able to enter Boulogne but was repelled again from several battery emplacements. The town and harbor of Brest are only smoking ruins. The surviving garrison retreated to Le Crozon peninsula and continues to fight there."

PRISONERS SAY GERMANY WILL WELCOME YANKS

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY IN GERMANY, Sept. 19.—Since Hitler took over Germany in 1933, a German prisoner said today, taxes there became 10 times higher and must be paid 10 years in advance. He said many German civilians would welcome the allies as a means of ending the Nazi regime. He estimated that only 20 or 25 per cent of the Germans would vote for Hitler today should an honestly conducted election be held.

One prisoner said his captain told him that American soldiers would rape all German women "on orders from Stalin." German veterans are disillusioned, the prisoners said. It is only the young who are eager for combat experience.

Some prisoners with a sense of humor spoke of German secret weapon V-15 as "a bomb of liquid rubber which would erase all English cities." Another German joke concerns the firm of Tengelmann, the German Woolworth. Field Marshal Goering is now called Tengelmann because, like a chain of retail stores, allied bombs now are found in every German town. All reservoirs in Germany now are covered by nets to catch bombs before they explode. This was done after one bomb exploded the reservoir at Moehnstal, drowning many German citizens.

Chicago Yank Helps Capture Nazi Garrison

16,000 STRIKE IN BRITISH AUSTIN MOTOR FACTORY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Government officials today investigated allegations by strikers at the Austin Motor works that the company had already embarked on production of peace time cars. The ministry of supply said it is satisfied that cars of the 1939 model are being manufactured for vital war work and not for civilian sale.

Sixteen thousand workers at Austin's Birmingham plant were on strike today after they said the company tried to pay 2,000 men pre-war wage rates. The workers claimed the cars were being made for post-war markets and that the company attempted to pay them wage rates which did not include war time bonuses. The workers demanded a 75 per cent increase on pre-war wages they said they were offered, and the company countered with an offer of 25 per cent in some jobs and 50 per cent in others, which the workers refused to accept.

Union shop stewards claim acceptance of the company's offer would mean a loss of $10 a week for some men. The company refuses to negotiate until the workers return to their jobs.

ROME, Sept. 19 (AP).—The trial of former Police Chief Pietro Caruso, which was disrupted just as it was about to start yesterday by the lynching of the principal state witness by a mob, will continue tomorrow in an improvised courtroom near the Regina Coeli prison.

Allied authorities have alerted troops to be ready to step in if the Italians are unable to cope with another attempt at mob justice.

Caruso, charged with corruption, was brought back to the Regina Coeli prison from the Palace of Justice today. It was learned from prison guards that prisoners—there are 2,000 in the big jail—rioted last night and the outbreak was curbed only after two were wounded.

The Rome press unanimously attributed the lynching of Donato Carretta, former vice director of the Regina Coeli jail, to the people's impatience at the slowness in carrying out the Fascist purge.

RHINELANDERS DISREGARD NAZI ORDER TO FLEE

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY, Sept. 19 (AP).—Adolf Hitler failed in a crucial test of Nazi authority when thousands of persons remained in their Rhineland homes today in defiance of evacuation orders.

As patrols of the United States 1st army stabbed thru the Seigfried line toward the heart of the Rhineland, many civilians were remaining quietly to receive them as occupying troops despite the fact their Nazi overlords had said such action would brand them as traitors.

Order Issued Sept. 12.

The evacuation order for the Cologne-Aachen area was issued by the regional gauleiter Sept. 12. Directed to 2,000,000 persons in the central Rhineland, it urged resistance to the American advance and laid down regulations for evacuation of those under 15 and over 60 years old. Others were to remain and help build community defenses until such time as ordered to withdraw.

The methodical Nazi officials outlined each step the people were to take in leaving their homes, even listing items mothers would take with them, such as milk bottles and bottle nipples. Women and children received priority in evacuation transportation.

"Nothing to Fear."

One German who refused to leave his home said, "If the American soldier conducts himself like his father did, then we know we have nothing to fear."

This does not mean the American soldier will fraternize with the Germans. He will not be permitted to do this for security reasons and will be expected to conduct himself in a reserved but soldierly manner.

12,000 POUND BOMBS HURLED AT TIRPITZ IN NORWAY FJORD

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP).—R. A. F. Lancasters shortly after noon late Friday blasted the German battleship Tirpitz with 12,000 pound bombs in Kaa fjord near the northwest tip of Norway, the air ministry announced tonight. A smoke screen prevented observation of results. Stockholm reports said the great ship was heavily damaged and that at least 30 of the crew were killed and more than 100 injured.

The attack was made without fighter cover and without loss, the bulletin said.

BOMBERS BLAST RAIL ROUTES TO SIEGFRIED LINE

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP).—Seven strategic German rail junctions thru which the enemy must funnel troops and material to the front were blasted today in some of the heaviest daylight raids of the war.

Tonight air raid sirens howled in London as the Germans struck at southern England with their flying bombs. R. A. F. night bombers battered the German cities of Rheydt and Munchen-Gladbach in the industrial Ruhr valley.

Freight yards at Hamm and Soest, two key junctions, were attacked by 700 Flying Fortresses with equal fighter escort. Others struck at Coblenz, Dillenberg, and Wiesbaden. A large force of medium bombers struck heavily at the rail yards at Eschweiler, Duren, and Merzenich on the Cologne-Aachen railway.

All the yards were jammed with freight cars. Large fires were reported by the flyers. They said the yards were reduced to wreckage of warehouses, cars, roundhouses, and repair sheds.

Ten heavy bombers and nine allied fighters are missing. Incomplete reports showed that 26 German planes were downed.

The assault was carried into the night as a large force of R. A. F. heavy bombers raced over the east coast at dusk and headed toward Germany.

[The Hungarian and Slovakian home radios said several hundred allied bombers pounded targets in those countries last night, causing damage and casualties, particularly in the Tisza river valley.]

COBRA FIGHTS GIVE MARAUDERS A TASTE OF INDIA

Long Journey to Burma Front Is Described.

[This is the third chapter in a Chicago staff sergeant's first hand story of Merrill's Marauders and their lightning campaign thru jungles and over 8,000 foot mountains to smash Jap supremacy in northern Burma last spring. Yesterday's instalment covered the Marauders' arrival and early training in India.]

BY S/SGT. W. J. ANDERSON.
Composite Unit 5307 [Merrill's Marauders].
United States Army.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

In mid-January, 1944, supply trains reached our camp bringing us jungle equipment. The officers told us we would be moving soon.

There were strong canvas jungle boots that reached halfway to the knee, green denims for jungle fighting, steel helmets, and bolo and Gurkha knives. We received medical kits which fastened to ammunition belts and contained vials of atabrine, quinine, sulfanilamide, salt tablets, aspirin, halazone for water purification, insect repellent, and a small pack of sterilized bandages.

Every fourth man received a snake bite kit, containing a 12 inch rubber hose for use as a tourniquet, an ingenious suction cup for extracting venom, and a short, razor-like scalpel for cutting into the bite to free poisoned blood. We were glad to get them. India and Burma abound in snakes: Green vipers, the king and banded cobras which are the most notorious, and the krite and Russel's viper whose bites coagulate the blood almost immediately.

Cobra Fights Seen.

We had seen the dreaded cobras only in fights the fakirs staged near the bazars. Carrying the cobra in one bag and a mongoose in another, the fakir would drum up a crowd and collect his fee. This done, he freed the snake which, seeing itself surrounded, swelled its hood and coiled to strike. The mongoose, a furry, sharp snouted animal about the size of a fox terrier, hit the ground next. Some of the boys were disappointed. They had thought the mongoose was a bird that would fly away with the snake.

The mongoose edged in to the left, just out of the cobra's reach, treading more softly than any cat, extending his head. The snake brought itself gradually around, watching with beady eyes for a chance to strike. We yelled at the mongoose to stop leading with his chin. Then, with a movement so fast the eye could not follow it, the mongoose struck. He seized the big snake just back of the swelling hood and shook it as a terrier shakes a rat, quickly drawing blood. Here the fakir stopped the fight, explaining the mongoose's lunge is the only thing worth seeing.

He expected to stage other fights before using up his snake. We were amazed by the apparent carelessness with which he grabbed the cobra and dropped it back into the bag. But we were told he knew darned well where he was grabbing.

Supply Trains Come.

Supply trains continued to come in. We received a full complement of weapons: Rifles, carbines, machine guns, mortars, and some bazookas. We spent several days firing all these, then were told we were to meet our commander, Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill. He addressed us on the parade ground; a medium built, energetic fellow with ruddy complexion. He wore glasses and appeared to be good natured.

His talk was brief and informal. He said he was proud to be our leader; that he knew the history of all of us, and that he could see we were in trim shape and ready to go. He did not discuss the campaign ahead. His appearance was a sort of getting acquainted gesture. I never saw him again, tho he was in the same area with us several times.

Lord Louis Mountbatten paid us a visit shortly afterward and was even more jovial. He wore the uniform of a British general, without medals or ribbons. He said the campaign, to last six or eight weeks, would be very tough. He wished us luck.

Fumigant Dominates Odors.

On Jan. 29, A and B battalions moved out. We followed on Jan. 31, hiking 15 miles to the railway station in the darkness. The Indians had been excited several times by Japanese promises of liberation and it was feared that some of the natives might be acting as Jap spies. White robed Indian trainmen went thru the ramshackle coaches, whooshing their oversized fly sprayers against walls, floors and seats. The pungent fumigant dominated the medley of other odors as we went aboard about midnight.

Sgt. Bob Sanders and I opened a bottle of Scotch. We thought it might be our last drink together until after the war, when Sandy expected to open a roadhouse near his home in central Wisconsin. The little locomotives started up with a shrilling of whistles and deafening blasts of exhaust.

Sleep Cramped in Cars.

"They should be able to hear that in Tokyo without benefit of spies," Sandy remarked. The ride that followed was the most tiresome we'd had. It lasted three days and we slept in cramped positions on the benches and floors. But this was luxury, had we only realized it. At the end of the third day we made junction with a narrow gauge road and had to unload, then reload all our equipment. Three hours later we stopped for the night.

When daylight came we saw we were on the banks of a great river. Waiting for us was an old fashioned paddle wheeled, twin smokestack steamer, similar to those that plied the Mississippi in the last century. We loaded our supplies and artillery aboard. By utilizing all deck space, there was room for us to lie down. The ancient machinery clanked and we headed up the river toward Burma between banks lined by rice paddies.

Flatboats Are Towed.

Our steamer looked strictly 20th century as it churned past heavily laden flatboats being towed at the end of long lines by gangs walking along tow paths on shore. Toward the end of the second day the terrain grew hilly. We could see mountains in the distance. We landed at a frowsy river settlement of thatched houses, frame buildings, and unhealthy looking dirt streets. Here we met a number of American railway technicians. It was the first we knew that the United States, under agreement with England, was rehabilitating India's railroads.

We transferred our artillery to narrow gauge trains. After two more days of cramped riding and sleeping we disembarked in a valley camp, near Ledo, in Assam, India, on the Ledo road, which Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell was pushing southward to connect with the old Burma road.

We stayed there 24 hours. At 6 p. m. of the second day we strapped on our 80 odd pounds of equipment and began the first of a series of marches I'll never forget. We passed thru Margherita and saw a general hospital which was filled with Chinese wounded, flown back from the front farther ahead. Ledo came next.

We made 17 miles the first night. Tho the road was macadamized, we had been off our feet so long the first night's march left us exhausted and footsore. But we were in Burma at last.

As it turned out, the first 10 days of the march constituted merely a warmup. The road was protected by friendly troops. There were Chinese work gangs and American engineers, some of them Negroes. Our passing was a windfall to them, especially the first night as weary soldiers gave away denims, field jackets, and many other things to lighten their packs. Our first thrill came the second night. The Japs told us by radio that they knew of our presence.

DRIVE JAPS BACK 40 MILES EAST OF KWEILIN BASE

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 19 (AP).—The Chinese said tonight they had driven the Japanese back 40 miles and recaptured the Hunan province town of Taohsien, 90 miles east of Kweilin, but other Japanese columns were reported only 40 miles northeast of the big Kwangsi province city where the 14th United States airforce recently blew up and abandoned most of its installations.

North of Kweilin, the Chinese appeared to be resisting strongly. They claimed they had dislodged the Japanese from Tzeyuan and repulsed attacks on Paoching from three sides.

The Japanese continued, slowly but steadily, to shorten the gap in the line they are seeking to establish from Manchuria to the China sea and thereby cut China in half. Enemy columns were reported pressing closer toward each other from the Yungming and the Waitsap areas, with the Chinese resisting, but ineffectively.

JAPS FLEEING IN BURMA POUNDED BY BRITISH GUNS

SOUTHEAST ASIA HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, Sept. 19 (AP).—The British 14th army again caught up with the retreating Japanese 33d division today in the Burma border area and pressed the attack with artillery support.

Artillery was brought up after Indian troops developed their crossings of the Manipur river. Advancing allied forces also had air support, indicating a strong effort at covering the remaining 20 miles to Tiddim. The Japanese were falling back without taking time to bury their dead. More than 200 bodies were found unburied.

Allied planes again were out in all Burma attacking varied targets such as encampments and rivercraft in Arakan, on the Tiddim road and in Chindwin. United States Mitchell bombers left large fires at Bhamo while Lightnings scored hits on the west and east approaches of Okshitpin, 19 miles east of Prome.

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 19 [Reuter].—Mohandas K. Gandhi today told a prayer congregation here that he wished Indians to fraternize with each other tomorrow on the annual Moslem religious festival of Id-ul-Fitr. Referring to his current talks with Mahomed Ali Jinnah, the Moslem leader, Gandhi said he was not at liberty to divulge the nature of their conversation but that the public could rest satisfied they were not talking without hope.

WAR FUND DRIVE WILL OPEN TO TUNE OF PLEASE

The Community and War Fund campaign, which is to be started Oct. 2 with a goal of $12,980,000, will strike one dominant word—"Please." That will be the campaign's one word theme, said William S. Street, general chairman of Marshall Field & Co.'s retail stores, who is chairman of the fund's public relations committee.

"Please" will be carried on billboards, on menu stickers, on elevated platform posters and street car signs, in newspaper advertisments and elsewhere.

The campaign poster also depicts a soldier neck deep in water, and the slogan, "He's up to his neck, too—but he's giving." The poster was designed by M. Seklemian. A preview of campaign literature was shown yesterday to city leaders.

REDS 6 MILES FROM RIGA IN 4 DAY DRIVE

Smash Nazi Defenses on 75 Mile Front.

LONDON, Sept. 20 [Wednesday] (AP).—The Red army drove within six miles of the Latvian capital of Riga yesterday in the fourth day of a new all-out offensive that has captured nearly 3,000 towns.

One of the three Red army groups participating has smashed thru the deep network of Nazi defenses south and southeast of Riga on a 75 mile front 25 miles deep.

Closest approach to Riga came with capture of Kekava, on the west bank of the Daugava [Dvina] river.

The Russian war bulletin this morning said that the 1st Baltic army broke thru the Nazi defenses, crossed the Lielupe and Niemenek rivers south of Riga, and drove ahead to the Daugava thru the bitterly resisting enemy. In one day on this front the Germans lost more than 3,000 men besides many prisoners, the Russians announced.

Stalin Discloses Drive.

The offensive, which the German radio has told about since last Friday, was officially disclosed in an order of the day from Premier Stalin announcing capture of Valga, Estonian-Latvian border city, cutting the last rail connection between the enemy forces in the north and south. Two hundred additional towns were swept up in this drive by the 3d Baltic army.

A second order announced that the 1st Baltic army in four days had captured more than 2,000 towns south and southwest of Riga. Big population centers and German strongpoints falling in this drive included Iecava [Jesava], 21 miles due south of Riga; Bauska, 33 miles south; Vecmuiza, 25 miles southeast, and Jaunjelgava on the Daugava [Dvina] river 39 miles southeast of the Latvian capital.

The regular soviet midnight bulletin, confirming these gains, added capture of Plavinas, railway center 62 miles east of Riga, and 600 adjacent towns. This area, between the operations of the 1st and 3d armies, apparently was assigned to the 2d Baltic army, Repulse Nazi Attacks.

Simultaneously with the three-way drive, the Russians announced they had fought off German tank and infantry attacks west of Jelgava. This was in the area of the narrow corridor that the Germans have been struggling to maintain along the coast south of Riga. The German armies were cut off by the Russians on Aug. 1, but three weeks later the Germans reopened a narrow strip and extended it to a width of less than 20 miles.

The Russians were silent on numbers, but Stalin's order of the day made a point of the blows of artillery and air forces in the breakthru below Riga.

200,000 Nazis in Baltics.

Far to the south on the Romanian front the Russians captured Timisoara, 20 miles from the Yugoslav border and 73 miles northeast of Belgrade, Yugoslav capital.

The Russians were silent concerning the battle for Warsaw, but the Polish capital continued under heavy Red artillery fire across the Vistula river, where the Germans were reported to have gathered reinforcements.

Farther northeast of Warsaw in the Lomza area about 15 miles south of the East Prussian border, the Germans said there was only a series of probing actions, but that soviet regrouping was evident.

The Russian bulletin also kept silent on the campaign in mountainous Transylvania against German and Hungarian forces, but said nightly bombings were continued, with Budapest and other points hard hit Monday night.

BRITISH APPROVE JEWISH BRIGADE IN ALLIED ARMY

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The British government has agreed to the formation of a special Jewish brigade which will fight alongside troops of other allied nations as soon as it is equipped, trained, and transported to the war theater. The war office announced tonight that details of the plan are being worked out with the Jewish Agency for Palestine, under whose auspices the brigade probably will fight.

Based on Jewish battalions formed at the war's outset for the defense of Palestine, the new brigade will be able to take the field as self-contained units with service groups completely Jewish. There will be provision for enlistment of certain classes of Jewish refugees in England.

Million Fighting Now.

This is not the first time Jewish units have fought in this war. They were in Greece, Ethiopia, Libya, Syria, and are now fighting in Italy, while other groups are serving in Palestine and the middle east.

The Jewish Agency declared in a statement tonight that Jews thruout the world will be certain to welcome the announcement that they will be represented in the battle to overthrow totalitarian governments.

"Composition of the force will give concrete expression both to Jewish unity and to the central place of Palestine in Jewish life," the agency said. "About one million Jews are fighting in the armies of the united nations. Over 30,000 Palestinian Jews have volunteered for armed service. Formation of a Jewish brigade comes at a late stage of the war. It is an acknowledgment of services rendered and takes in account the Jewish desire for national recognition."

Seek Peace Table Place.

Tonight's announcement follows warnings by Palestinian leaders that failure to have Jewish units as such in the battle line will deprive them of representation in peace negotiations. It is their contention that they merit a place at the peace table.

Originally Palestinian units were enlisted only for technical and service tasks.

YANKS RESCUE CORRESPONDENT TAKEN BY NAZIS

U. S. 3D ARMY HDQ. IN FRANCE, Sept. 19 (AP).—War Correspondents Wright Bryan of the Atlanta Journal and NBC and Edward W. Beattie of the United Press were captured by the Germans on Sept. 12 four miles north of Chaumont, headquarters for Gen. Pershing in the last war. Bryan was wounded slightly in the left leg. Beattie was not injured. Both presumably were taken to Germany.

A third correspondent, John M. Mecklin of the Chicago Sun, was captured with Bryan and Beattie but was released when an allied armored column ran into his German captors.

Bryan made a recording for broadcast telling of air borne troops leaving a big transport in which he was riding over Normandy in the predawn darkness of D-day.

Hodges' Men Then Push On Into Germany.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY IN GERMANY, Sept. 19.—Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' left flank today captured Sittard, north of Maastricht, Holland, for the second time and then rolled on with tanks to the Wurm river, opposite Germany's Siegfried line, which is just back of the German border at that point.

Sittard had been taken last night with light forces which were pushed out by a German counter-attack but this morning a veteran tank fighter, who has seen more fighting in this war than any division commander over here, smashed back with tanks and completely occupied the town.

Guns and Road Blocks.

Those "lines," consisting of anti-tank guns, road blocks and open gun emplacements, were dug apparently after the Germans lost 25,000 men in the Mons-Maubeuge trap. Those men, it is believed, were being rushed back to Germany to man the Siegfried line pillboxes and support them with mobile fire power groups.

When this force was lost, the Germans pushed up any units they could get their hands on, and issued the order to "make the enemy pay for every inch. Local breakthrus can be expected but they must be blocked off immediately. Thru strong resistance time must be gained to allow new troops to be committed."

To a certain extent they were successful, for they gained a little time.

On Hodges' left flank the terrain favored the Germans. In four days, for example, our forces there had to lay 3,353 feet of bridge over different sites in order to advance.

Astonished the Dutch.

One of the greatest of their engineering feats was bridging the Maas river at Masstricht. This required a Bailey bridge more than 140 feet long, the longest Bailey [pontoon bridge] which has been constructed in this theater. And they built this, not from our western side, but—to the amazement of the Dutch—from the eastern side.

This strange deed was not done, however, until the Albert canal had been bridged. That was another engineering nightmare because the canal was constructed as a frontier barrier. Its steep, slanting side of concrete, with the enemy in position on the eastern shore, offered little opportunity near Maastricht.

So the engineers went downstream below Visé. There at a flatter spot and under fire they bridged the canal. Our troops crossed and fought their way north, taking the Germans by surprise, capturing Maastricht, and then starting the bridge across the Maas river.

HOTEL TENANTS PLAN A SITDOWN TO KEEP ROOMS

If the government intends to oust tenants of the Pershing hotel, 6400 Cottage Grove av., to convert the hotel into a distribution point for discharged Negro soldiers and sailors, it will have to move them out bodily, the tenants decided last night.

At a meeting in the hotel lobby of the Pershing Hotel Tenants' league, headed by O. T. Shelton, all the residents of the hotel, numbering more than 100, signed an agreement to stage a sitdown strike in their rooms if the government attempts to oust them Oct. 1.

YANKS CAPTURE 3 PEAKS IN PUSH FOR PO VALLEY

Face 27 Miles of Hills Before Bologna.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 5TH ARMY, Facing Gothic Line, Italy, Sept. 19.—Thrusting forward under fire from turret topped pillboxes and gun emplacements reönforced with concrete deep in the rugged hills of the Gothic line, American infantry men of the 5th army today took three strategic mountain positions.

Capture of Monte Pratone, Monte Altuzzo, and Monte Celli put the Yanks within 27 miles of Bologna. The day's advances were in the sector north of Florence where some of the fiercest fighting of the Italian campaign has taken place in the last two days.

Seize 600 Prisoners.

German commanders were trying desperately to block a breakthru into the flat plain country of the Po river valley beyond the Gothic line. Six hundred prisoners, including scores of Germans rushed to the front lines less than 12 hours before, have been taken by the 5th army within the last 48 hours.

Men of the Brazilian combat team in their first heavy engagement since they entered the line near the Tyrrhenian sea a few days ago captured a war buffeted town despite heavy mortar and artillery fire.

The terrible effect of the tremendous artillery barrages concentrated by the 5th army in the center of the Gothic line was discovered today. Hundreds of dead Germans sprawled behind the hill on trails or in their crumpled gun emplacements. German trucks, selfpropelled guns, and artillery pieces lay smashed into junk by the heavy and continuous American shelling.

One dead German sat upright behind the wheel of a small car. Dead men lay all around, but this one German's body was untouched by shrapnel or bullets. Concussion from a shell had ripped a huge crater in the earth a few feet away apparently had killed him without leaving a mark.

British in San Marino.

ROME, Sept. 19 (AP).—The British 8th army fighting toward Rimini, eastern doorway to the Po valley, drove into the little republic of San Marino and advanced a mile toward San Marino city today.

Canadian forces pushed to a point three airline miles southwest of Rimini to the Ausa river, and there engaged the Germans in a heavy tank supported battle.

San Martino fell to the Canadians after four days of relentless combat. Nine times the 1st Nazi parachute division drove the Canadians out of San Martino, but each time the Canadians reformed and smashed in again. Today, under relentless jabbing, the Nazis crumbled.

British destroyers sailed up to shell the Germans around San Martino, and aircraft dropped bombs. R. A. F. bombers paved the way for a Greek advance to the northern edge of Rimini air field. The Greeks in their new position stood two miles from the outer fringes of Rimini.

Allied light naval craft continued attacks on the enemy's sea borne supply lines, sinking two additional lighters in the Gulf of Genoa.

3 German E-Boats Sunk in Skirmish Off Dunkerque

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP).—A naval skirmish 23 miles north of Dunkerque resulted in the sinking of three German E-boats last night, an admiralty bulletin reported.

PARIS PRESS CHARGES PRO-NAZI OFFICIALS STILL SERVE IN PARIS

PARIS, Sept. 19 (AP).—The Paris newspaper Front National charged today that some Vichy government ordinances were still being enforced by Nazi-minded French administrative officials as the purge of collaborationists swept ahead.

"France without a doubt is governed by Gen. De Gaulle, but it is still administered by too many functionaries devoted to Petain and Laval—that is to say, Hitler," the paper said.

DUTCH CHEER AS BERNHARD PAYS HOLLAND A VISIT

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MAASTRICHT, Holland, Sept. 19.—Prince Bernhard, consort of Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, paid a visit today to his adopted country in an R. A. F. plane. Accompanied by an R. A. F. coastal command officer, Robert Sweeney, acting as his aide, Bernhard toured Maastricht in an American jeep. He remained for two hours before flying back to London.

It was all the Dutch police and Sweeney could do to keep the cheering throngs from tearing the bespectacled young man to pieces. Wherever he appeared he was immediately recognized. Burghers of Maastricht shouted, cheered, waved orange flags and besieged him, showering him with orange ribbons, papers and flags.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BESANCON, France, Sept. 19.—While the allies have been winning the battle of France, Gen. Charles de Gaulle has by no means gained a political victory, at least in the southern and eastern parts of the country. Most comment in these two areas of France has been of distrust for what dealings De Gaulle is suspected of having had with the Russians.

Symbol of Resistance Only.

It is true that laudatory posters of De Gaulle and crosses of Lorraine have appeared, but they are not many and frequently are covered over by arrays of tricolors, Star Spangled banners, and Union Jacks. The populace appears willing to regard De Gaulle as the symbol of resistance in the dark years but won't accord him the full stature of a political figure now that resistance is triumphant.

Most of the ministers with whom De Gaulle has surrounded himself in Paris are unknown here and untested in both aim and achievement, one hears on every side. Then, too, tho young political leaders are arising in the Provence, Burgundy, and Jura areas none as yet is of national importance, it is said.

May Become President.

The prediction that De Gaulle might be installed as president of France for a short period has been voiced here, but the president is a figurehead only and De Gaulle never is mentioned for the premiership, which is the real top post.

Shopkeepers, farmers and Maquis [patriots] are among those who express concern over what commitments exist between De Gaulle and the soviets, and often inquire, "What has he done? What exactly are his politics?"

Even the Franc Tireurs, Partisans, and other resistance groups with large Communist elements, are suspicious of De Gaulle, but their interest lies in knowing whether he is enough of a leftist for them.

PARIS EMBASSY OF U. S. BACK ON PRE-WAR BASIS

Expect Travel Facilities to Be Restored Soon.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Altho still short staffed, the American embassy in Paris now has an appearance of pre-war activity. Hundreds of persons are calling daily in an effort to contact friends and relatives in America and from the United States thousands of inquiries are pouring in regarding friends and relatives here.

The embassy was officially opened 12 days ago when Selden Chapin, former charge d'affaires in Algiers, arrived to take over. Consul John R. Wood, the last to leave the embassy in July, 1941, had been the first to return from Washington, D. C., taking over the embassy from the Swiss legation which had guarded the property during German occupation.

Only Slightly Damaged.

The embassy is intact, for the Germans never entered the premises. Once they broke down a back door but were stopped by a Swiss guard. Some damage was done also when snipers around Place de la Concorde opened up during Gen. Charles de Gaulle's parade. The total cost of repairs, however, was only about $2,000.

There has been no announcement as to when civilians will receive visa and other travel facilities but it is not believed they will be long delayed.

The British embassy is going full blast, but there has been some criticism in London regarding delays in allowing civilians to enter Paris. Some critics suggested that Americans were taking advantage of business opportunities in Paris while British civilians were excluded.

Slowly but surely Paris is returning to normal. Local transport is at 20 per cent of pre-war capacity, and 500 tons of coal is arriving daily—about one-sixth the normal consumption.

Find German Stores.

At the same time, enormous stocks of food and other supplies concealed by the Germans are being discovered in the city itself. Today American officers in Paris clubs and hotels ate German rations and in general rated them highly. Included was weiner wurst. It had been turned over by Maj. Gen. Erich Elsner in the surrender of his 20,000 German troops isolated south of the Loire river.

The countryside and agricultural districts surrounding Paris are heavily stocked with supplies and concern expressed by the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration over starvation in France seems unfounded.

The Metro, Paris subway, is operating with all lines except two—tho only to 10 p. m. Gradually, too, gas and electric services are being restored.

In nearly all hotels and apartment houses, however, there still is neither heat nor hot water, tho the weather is such that there has been no particular hardship so far.

COMPANY RECORDS VANISH.

After three men helped him push his stalled car in front of 2225 W. 13th st., yesterday, Frank Lemke, 7015 Laflin st., a messenger for the Standard Oil company, 20 N. Wacker dr., missed a brief case containing company records from the car, he told police.

COL. McCORMICK GIVES N. U. THIRD PARCEL OF LAND

Property Lies Near Downtown Campus.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, has given Northwestern university a valuable parcel of land close to the downtown campus, President Franklin B. Snyder of the university announced yesterday. This is the third such gift from Col. McCormick to Northwestern in the last five years.

The property fronts approximately 209.55 feet on Chestnut st. and 78.7 feet on Lake Shore dr. In the gift agreement Col. McCormick specified that it was to be used "for the general educational objects and purposes of Northwestern university."

One of Largest Gifts of Kind.

Northwestern said the three properties contained almost 72,000 square feet and represented one of the largest gifts of this kind ever made to the university.

In 1940 Col. McCormick gave Northwestern a vacant property at the northwest corner of Lake Shore dr. and Pearson st. with the stipulation that it be used "for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a fund, the income of which is to be spent for research in the medical school."

Irving Cutter Honored.

The fund was called the Irving S. Cutter Fund for Medical Research and was so named to honor the dean [now dean emeritus] of the medical school of Northwestern university and health editor of THE TRIBUNE.

In 1943 Col. McCormick transferred to the university title to the vacant property at the northeast corner of Chestnut st. and De Witt pl. This gift, like that of yesterday, was unrestricted and was intended to further the university's general educational purposes.

MAID AND $650 WATCH GONE.

Mrs. May Vehon, 1763 E. 55th st., reported to police yesterday that a Negro maid disappeared on her first day of work, and that a $650 watch also was missing from her home.

YANKS WIN HALF OF PELELIU ISLE; FIGHT ARTILLERY

PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Sept. 19 (AP).—Conquest by American marines of most of the eastern coastal area of Peleliu was announced today by Adm. Nimitz's headquarters.

[The marines have almost all of Peleliu in their hands, John Cooper, representing the combined American networks, reported last night. He said only the north tip remains to be invested.]

Japanese forces on Angaur, the smaller Palau Island south of Peleliu, continue to occupy only two isolated pockets in the face of advancing 81st division troops.

Americans now hold approximately the southern half of Peleliu, where the Palau Islands invasion was launched last Thursday, and the northern three-fourths of Angaur. The town of Ngardololok in the northeast part of Peleliu has been taken.

Japanese were reported resisting stubbornly on Peleliu from pillboxes and trenches with mortar and artillery support.

117 Jap Planes Found.

The 117 badly damaged Japanese planes found on the Peleliu airstrip included 77 single engine fighters, 28 medium bombers, eight light bombers, and four transports. A navy spokesman said these planes were in addition to those previously announced as destroyed.

In the Angaur campaign the troops occupied the town of Saipan yesterday and pushed the Japanese into the Cape Medorom area, only 1,000 yards deep and wide.

One American landing craft, equipped as a gunboat, struck a mine while firing rockets on Peleliu Sunday and sank in 20 minutes. All crew members were rescued.

Liberators bombed Shimushu Saturday in the Kuriles and Venturas strafed the personnel in a loaded boat and attacked a warship, possibly a destroyer, east of Paramushiro.

Japs Shackled to Posts.

ABOARD U. S. FLAGSHIP, Palau Islands, Sept. 19 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Fresh units of the 1st United States marine division moved into the front lines on Peleliu island today and the Leathernecks made slow, steady progress northward over difficult terrain against strong Japanese ridgetop positions north of Bloody Nose mountain.

The mountain, known as Umorbrogul, overlooks the air field now in American hands.

While not trying any of their crazed "banzai" counter-attacks, the Japanese defenders of Peleliu offered stubborn resistance from positions of depth on the ridges. But the marines now have reached the highest crest of the rugged hill battle line and gained an observation advantage.

Maj. Gen. Julian S. Smith, marine commander, said, "We have secured our primary objective on Peleliu—the air field." He observed there was no point now in trying a whirlwind campaign to clear out tough island defenses with heavy cost in men.

Already 5,495 Japanese dead have been counted on Peleliu. As the Americans made their way thru the coral ridge positions they found Japanese soldiers shackled hand and foot in observation posts and caves—supposedly tied up by their own commanders to prevent retreat.

Bomb Mindanao Airdrome.

ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, Sept. 20 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Mitchell medium bombers started many fires in a raid on Japanese positions on Mindanao, in the Philippines, headquarters announced today.

Gen. MacArthur's air arm resumed its attacks with blows at Buayan airdrome Sunday. The airdrome is on Sarangani bay, near the southern extremity of Mindanao. The Langoan airdrome in Dutch Celebes was battered with 145 tons of bombs. Three grounded planes were destroyed.

A third Japanese attempt to raid newly invaded Morotai Island in the Moluccas was repelled. One Japanese plane was downed. The first two raids were described as feeble and ineffective.

The sixth day of the invasion of Morotai Island still produced no report of any developing ground resistance. Patrols have been seeking Japanese who fled into the hills.

Japs Evacuate Civilians.

New York, Sept. 19 (AP). — The Tokyo radio said today that the Japanese navy had completed evacuation of civilians from the Palau Islands. The broadcast said the evacuation convoy included cruisers and destroyers escorted by planes.

Another Tokyo broadcast asserted that American losses in the invasion of Peleliu totaled 6,500 dead and 15 large ships sunk.

Tokyo said the Americans lost one cruiser, one destroyer, one submarine, one minesweeper and one craft of an unknown type sunk and more than 60 landing craft, 150 tanks and 26 planes destroyed.

The broadcast added that bitter fighting was in progress north of the airdrome and said that "the enemy still is landing reenforcements."

U. S. Submarines Sink 2 Jap Destroyers, 27 Cargo Ships

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—The biggest haul to date by American submarines was announced today by the navy, which said 29 more Japanese vessels — including three warships — have been destroyed.

At the same time, it was disclosed that three American ships—a submarine, mine sweeper and transport—have been lost, all presumably in the Pacific.

Apparently there was no loss of life aboard the submarine, the 1,525 ton "Flier." Casualties were described as very small on the minesweeper Perry, lost off Palau, while no one was injured or killed when the transport Noa sank after a collision.

Crew May Be Safe.

Wording of the navy's bulletin announcing loss of the "Flier" indicated that the submarine was part of a naval force attacking the Japanese, and that her crew of approximately 65 officers and men may have been picked up by other American craft.

The navy declined to answer any questions about the "Flier's" loss except to say that her skipper, Comdr. John Daniel Crowley, Springfield, Mass., is a survivor.

The minesweeper Perry, the navy reported, was lost in action during the present operations in the Palau Islands. She was commanded by Lt. William N. Lindsay Jr., New Haven, Conn., who is listed as a survivor, and carried a crew of 120.

Sinks in Collision.

The transport Noa sank after a collision with an American destroyer. She carried a crew of 120 under Lt. Comdr. Henry Wallace Boud, Beachwood, N. J.

The sinking of 29 enemy vessels raised to 931 the number of Japanese craft of all types sunk or damaged by United States submarines since the war started.

In addition to two destroyers and an escort vessel, the latest bag of sinkings included 23 cargo or transport craft and three tankers.

He Crawls Out of a Cave and Surrenders.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANGAUR ISLAND, Palaus, Sept. 19.—While the main body of the 81st infantry division moved southward, compressing the island defenders into smaller territory today, men and supplies poured ashore on the north end even as mop-up troops were killing by-passed Nips in the midst of the busiest rear area.

Three soldiers investigating the mouth of a cave almost at the center of Red beach, where the main army assault force hit Angaur Sunday morning, were startled to see a live Jap reaching for a hand grenade. They killed him and reported the incident. These three were Corp. Bernie Fite, Hot Springs, Ark.; Sgt. H. R. Smith, Philadelphia, Pa., and Pvt. Harold Stapleton, Fort Bristol, Va.

Three others volunteered to enter the cave, which had been blasted by demolition crews earlier. They are Pvt. Fritz Likey and Pvt. Noel James, Corning, Ark., and Pvt. Robert Nolan, Washington, D. C. With Nolan in the lead, the three wormed their way several feet to where in a corridor in the cavern there were 14 Nip bodies, several of them obviously suicides.

3 Japs in Hiding.

On a dug-in ledge on the far side three Jap soldiers crouched, playing possum. Nolan pulled the trigger of his carbine, which jammed. The soldiers left and returned immediately to get new weapons, with which they killed two of the Japs, one as he tried to escape to a passageway to the rear, and wounded the third. Then they withdrew and shortly afterwards the wounded Nip crawled out and surrendered. For most of the hundreds of soldiers working in the area it was the first live enemy they had seen.

The troops had their initial taste of customary Jap infiltration tactics at daybreak yesterday. The Japs, who had crawled back thru our lines during the night, opened up with machine guns and rifles just before dawn as their own line took off toward our positions. But alert machine gunners, aided by our steady rain of star shells from destroyers, nipped the attack in the bud.

Boats Wipe Out Snipers.

Some snipers, who had climbed trees near our beaches during the night, withheld their fire until midmorning, then began taking pot shots at rear echelon troops just offshore awaiting their calls. Machine guns on landing boats sprayed every remaining palm top with bullets. The snipers died in vain, for they failed to see our troops.

Casualties on the whole continue extraordinarily light, the counted enemy dead outnumbering our own 10 to one. Angaur's chief importance to the Japs was its phosphate. It will make an excellent air field site for us, however. The terrific heat is knocking out many Yanks.

You still hear much cheerful grumbling among the troops, who were all keyed up during the landing.

This correspondent covered this division's maneuvers in Tennessee last summer and so took time out from the Peleliu battle to see how its men looked in action. He also was curious to test the men's complaints on maneuvers that they were going stale from overtraining.

Well, if this is what overtraining does, I'm for it. Mortars were soaring, and these Wildcats were rarin' to go. Even the increasing heat of this windless, sun scorched day didn't bother these lads, who say it is a picnic compared to the temperatures in their desert maneuvers.

FLAME SPURTING JUNGLE DRAGON READY FOR JAPS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 [Special].—Information about four new weapons of chemical warfare—a portable flame thrower, a flame spraying tank, an amphibious smoke generator, and a gas detector kit—was disclosed today by the war department. All have been battle-tested in the Pacific theater.

The flame thrower, known as the jungle flame gun, and informally as the "atomizer," was designed especially for use in tropical climates. High tribute was paid to its potency and accuracy. It was built to fire jellied oil, which is most effective under great pressure, and is equipped with leakproof piping of great strength and an automatic pressure system.

Waterproof Weapon.

The flame thrower is described as being so waterproof that "it could be immersed in the ocean for several hours, pulled out and still be ready for action."

The flame man carries on his back two fuel tanks holding four gallons of oil, and fires the gun from a crouching position in two second bursts, pulling first the front trigger to start the ignition system and then the rear trigger to release the stream of oil.

The range of the new flame thrower, or "armored blowtorch" was not disclosed, but it was indicated that it surpassed that of an earlier model which had reached 60 yards.

Works Over Rough Terrain.

As a result of experiments in battle during the New Georgia campaign in 1943, the technique of combining portable flame throwers with tanks proved so effective the flame tank was developed to merge the destructiveness of liquid fire with the protection of armor plate.

The flame throwing tank is able to fire a stream of blazing oil while operating over rough terrain, and has proved itself useful in reaching enemy positions thru jungle and barbed wire and flushing out pillboxes and dugouts.

Converting 100 gallons of special hydrocarbon fog oil into white fog every hour, the amphibious smoke drake is able under favorable weather conditions to blanket a square mile in 10 minutes. It can move on either land or water as wind directions shift. The war department says it is the largest smoke machine in the world.

The gas detector kit is described as a miniature gas analysis set contained in a 2 pound carrier to be slung over the shoulder. It enables a trained soldier to spot the presence of all types of chemical agents.

'Petticoat Navy' Overseas Bill Goes to White House

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Legislation to permit WAVES, women marines, and SPARS—the petticoat components of the navy, the marine corps, and the Coast Guard—to serve outside the United States was passed by the house today and sent to the White House. Only those who volunteer for service in Hawaii, Alaska, or the "American area" outside the continental limits may be so assigned. The legislation does not change existing law barring assignment of women to foreign service.

750 AMERICANS DIE ON TORPEDOED JAP TRANSPORTS—TOKYO

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—A Japanese Domei news agency broadcast says 930 war prisoners, including 750 Americans, perished in the torpedoing of two Japanese transports in the Southwest Pacific.

The broadcast quoted front line dispatches received in Tokyo as saying the American prisoners and the Japanese crew were lost when a transport was sunk by an enemy submarine off Mindanao in the Philippines on Sept. 7.

The news agency said it had also been revealed that 180 war prisoners were killed in the sinking of a transport off Sumatra on June 26. Five hundred and forty other prisoners aboard, the broadcast said, were rescued.

Davao was the target of 50 bombers and fighters, including Liberators and Lightnings, Tokyo said. A hundred planes were reported to have attacked Koror Island.

GREEN TO SPARK G. O. P. CAMPAIGN IN COOK COUNTY

Governor Expected to Attend Loop Parley.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Gov. Green will help make certain that the Cook county Republican campaign is intensified without further delay, it was learned last night. If possible, he will come here tomorrow from Springfield for a meeting of the 80 ward and township committeemen in the La Salle hotel.

The governor is expected to consult party leaders to get ideas of each as to what action should be taken.

Leaders to Be Consulted.

Among those likely to be asked for advice are Werner W. Schroeder, national committeeman for Illinois; County Chairman George M. Fisher, who was reported to be in poor health; John T. Dempsey, nominee for state's attorney; Circuit Judge Julius Miner; Phillip W. Collins, state revenue director; Leslie P. Volz, administrative auditor for Gov. Green, and representative ward leaders.

A revitalized campaign is the aim of the leaders. Many look to the discussion to put the organization solidly behind every one of the county, sanitary district, and Municipal court candidates. The planners hope that evidence of this will arouse committeemen to greater efforts.

Seek to Combine Drives.

Additional enthusiasm is predicted if ways are found to combine the vote drives of county candidates with those of the state and national nominees appearing on the Nov. 7 ballot.

A south side committeeman said he would propose that Gov. Green, Dempsey, and Fisher appear at mass meetings of the precinct captains. There would be rallies on the south, west, northwest and north sides to boost morale of the precinct officials, who are considered the most important factor in political organization.

LYONS STATES ISSUE: JOBS OR NEW DEAL DOLE

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19 [Special].—Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator, said tonight that labor's post-war hope lies in "steady employment at satisfactory wages" during the opportunities for expansion to come under a Republican President and a Republican congress.

In the largest downstate city, where war plants have big payrolls, Lyons warned labor against the "New Deal theory of permanent unemployment and perpetual doles," under which at least 10 million were jobless before the war.

"The same burocrats at Washington who failed to develop an effective solution for 10 years now fully expect to take us back to the same old system when the war is over, and are preparing to squander new billions on fantastic schemes," Lyons said.

The candidate reaffirmed his friendliness to labor, pointing to roll calls during his 10 years in the Illinois legislature.

JACKSON SCHOOL ROBBED.

Baseballs, volley balls, soccer balls, and other athletic equipment valued at $133 were stolen from the basement of the Jackson elementatry school at 820 S. Carpenter st., the building engineer reported to police yesterday.

GET RADIO AUDIENCE OUT FOR ROOSEVELT TALK, KELLY ORDERS

Orders for every precinct captain in Cook county to organize a meeting to hear President Roosevelt's radio talk Oct. 5 were issued yesterday by Mayor Kelly as chairman of the Democratic county central committee.

This, said the mayor, is in line with the plans of the national committee, which has urged that at least 10 persons be brought to each meeting. With 3,795 precincts in Chicago and 784 in the suburban towns, Cook county, he said, is an important area in the national plan.

The mayor outlined the radio party arrangement at a meeting of the county committee called primarily to start a registration drive. Details for the President's broadcast have not been announced, but it is expected he will speak from Washington at 9 p. m., Chicago time. The national committee estimates there will be 125,000 precinct meetings thruout the country.

POST-WAR FARM AID PROGRAM IS TOLD BY GREEN

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP).—Flood control and drainage improvements to cost $5,500,000; and other post-war projects planned by the state for Illinois agriculture were outlined tonight by Gov. Green in conference with five representative farmers.

"State funds will back even more intensive disease prevention and eradication programs among cattle, hogs and poultry, and a long range and workable health plan is directed toward making Illinois the leading stock and dairy state," he said in an address broadcast from the executive mansion.

Gov. Green said post-war requirements of rural education will be presented to the legislature and the state agriculture department will "exert all possible pressure in directing the flow of sorely needed machinry and implements to Illinois farms."

KELLY MACHINE CHEATS JUSTICE, DEMPSEY FINDS

BY CHARLES BALLENGER.

A poor record of convictions by the state's attorney's office in the last decade and a half was charged to political tampering by the Kelly Democratic machine in a speech made last night by John T. Dempsey, Republican nominee for state's attorney.

Bringing the crowd of 350 residents of the 3d ward at 104 E. 51st st. to its feet several times, Dempsey assailed the "political interference in justice as practiced by the Kelly city hall group."

Points to "Poor Record."

He listed the following three points as evidence that "a poor record has been maintained by a state's attorney's office that is dominated by political expediency":

"1. During 1943 there were 8,349 burglaries in Chicago. The state's attorney's office obtained convictions in only 128 cases.

2. "During the last year 3,948 robberies were reported to police. The state's attorney's office obtained convictions in only 157 of the cases it prosecuted.

3. "Police records show that 5,132 murders have been committed during the last decade and a half. Of these there were indictments in 2,474 cases, but the state's attorney's office obtained a conviction in only half of the indictments."

'Hoodlums' Paradise.'

Dempsey then said:

"The record shows that a politically dominated state's attorney's office cannot act as an effective protector of the citizens. The state's attorney of Cook county has jurisdiction over 4 million persons, more than any other county in the nation, yet we are unable to show a better record than this.

"It is no wonder that Chicago is known as a 'hoodlums' paradise' among other cities of the nation. We will not be able to get rid of that kind of reputation until Chicago and Cook county voters toss the Kelly Democratic machine out of office thru their ballots."

The large Negro portion of the audience shouted its approval when the Republican nominee assailed the Democratic machine "for fostering racial prejudice thru ballot frauds and political maneuvering."

"Democratic ward heelers lacking in a sense of fair play," Dempsey asserted, "have played one racial group against another to gain their ends. Chicago Negroes are told that one man will aid them; then, thru ballot frauds, another man is slipped into office."

SOLDIER BALLOT ENVELOPES NOT TO BE CENSORED

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP).—Atty. Gen. Barrett was advised today that the war department will not allow army censorship of "any envelope plainly marked as containing balloting material."

The attorney general released a letter from Acting Secy. of War Patterson replying to Barrett's recent request for clarification of war department policy.

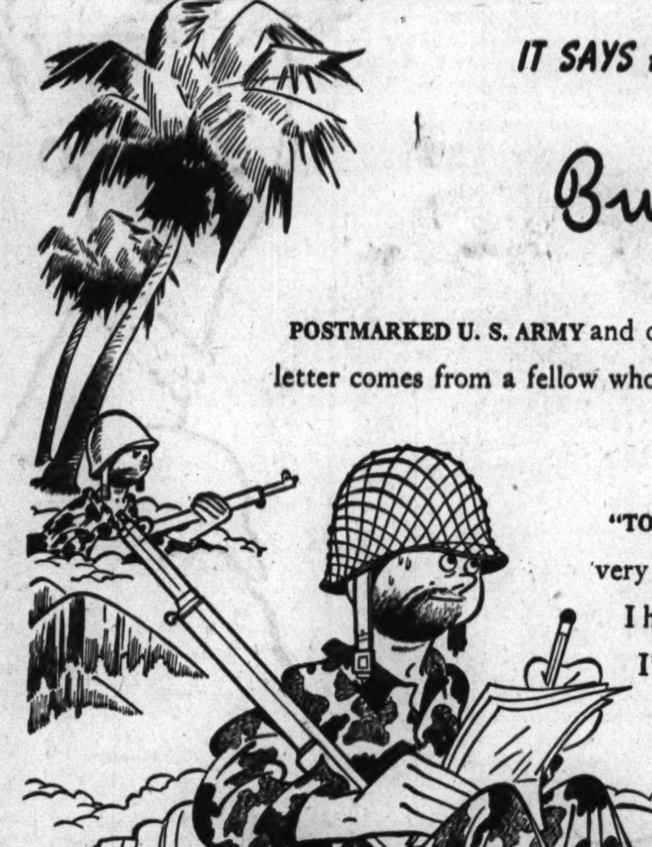
The natural hormones in EXETOL are absorbed by the skin below the surface where their activity aids in building new tissue. Results once considered "impossible" are now a regular performance of EXETOL, which is the potent ingredient of Queenol. : . : Used according to directions, QUEENOL helps to restore that smooth, youthful texture so essential to a lovely skin. WHAT GI's MISS MOST...WIVES, CHILDREN, SWEETHEARTS, MILK!

IT SAYS HERE IN A LETTER FROM BURMA

Bud Bowman

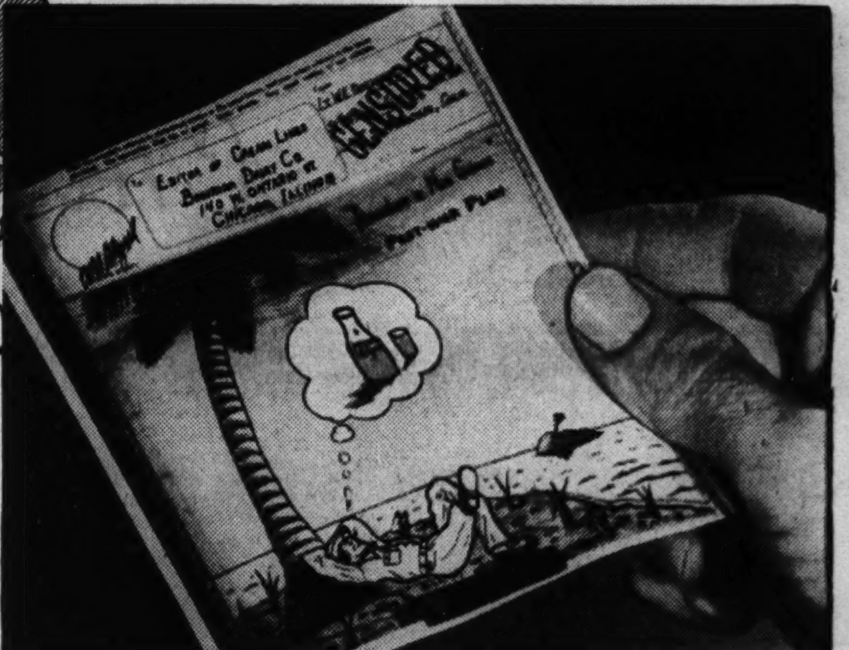
POSTMARKED U. S. ARMY and date-lined "Somewhere in Burma," this letter comes from a fellow who's been over there quite a while...



"TO START WITH," he writes, "there is very little pasteurized milk in India, and I have not had a drop of fresh milk since I've been over here. I think that next to wives, children, and sweethearts, milk is the thing that is missed most by the majority of GI Joes.

"JUST TELL EVERYONE that no matter how tough things might be at home, they should consider themselves fortunate in having such everyday things as milk, clean water, good food and even snow. A piece of ice over here is a godsend and no one can know how much we would give to have an ice-cold glass of milk."

WE GET LETTERS like that from every corner of the globe... from England, and Italy, and from men on ships cruising the seven seas. Even a leading magazine tells the same story: "The food taste Americans miss most in combat areas is that of fresh milk." That's what it said.



IT OUGHTA MAKE YOU GLADDER you're in America... in Chicagoland, as a matter of fact... with the friendly Bowman Milkman leaving bottles of rich, pure, pasteurized Bowman Milk on your doorstep regularly every other day! Or at your favorite store!

TOP CANDIDATE IN LEGION RACE IS SCHEIBERLING

New Yorker Leads Stelle in Election Forecast.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

Last minute caucuses of state delegations indicated last night, American Legion leaders said, that Edward N. Scheiberling of Albany, N. Y., will be chosen new national commander of the Legion when the organization meets in the concluding session of its 26th annual convention in the Coliseum today.

Scheiberling, who is vice chairman of the Legion's national legislative committee, has been regarded as the outstanding contender for the post now held by Warren H. Atherton of Stockton, Cal., since delegate pledges were posted at the executive committee's meeting last May.

Stelle Chief Contender.

Delegates pledged to Scheiberling's cause have sufficient strength to elect him on the first ballot over former Gov. John Stelle of Illinois, his closest rival in the race for the office, it was predicted in informed quarters at convention headquarters in the Palmer House, where vote trading was reported in progress until a late hour last night.

James Ringley of Commonwealth Edison post, Chicago, former Gov. Stelle's campaign manager, asserted his candidate was aware that Scheiberling had come to the convention with more than sufficient votes to insure his election. He added, however, that he and Stelle had not yet given up the fight and said they might carry it to the floor of the convention today.

At least 893 votes will be required for a majority in the election.

Wants Army to Rule Japs.

Speeding thru the second day of its gathering here, the Legion yesterday adopted a resolution advocating post-war military control of Japanese aliens and heard messages by Secretary of State Hull and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The convention also repealed a resolution adopted by the 1943 convention at Omaha, Neb., that censured Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] for alleged misuse of the franking privilege. The evidence upon which the original resolution was adopted had been under investigation since the Omaha session, the delegates were told.

Abuse of Franking Condemned.

The repealer of the resolution censuring Fish was voted originally by the national executive committee of the Legion, meeting in Washington, D. C., May 12. It took cognizance of the investigation by a special committee headed by Harry Colmery. This exploded the evidence that went into the Omaha resolution. The repealer closed:

"Be it further resolved, that resolution No. 296 of the Omaha national convention of 1943 be nullified and that we reaffirm our dislike for any abuses of the franking privilege."

Want Immigration Held Down.

The Japanese control resolution was presented to the convention by the Americanism committee. It advocated that after the war all immigration be halted until unemployment in this country drops to the one million mark and that control of Jap aliens be shifted from civilian authority to the army. All Japs found to have records of subversive activities would be returned to their homeland.

The resolution further advocated deportation immediately after the war of all German and Italian war prisoners and suggested a law prohibiting an alien from speaking on the radio in behalf of any political candidate.

Message from Secretary of State.

Secretary Hull's message, read to the delegates by National Commander Warren Atherton, advocated unity at home in support of a post-war movement to bring about lasting peace thru international cooperation. For the second time, said Hull's message, the United States has opportunity to help create a peace that will endure; to prevent another new world war such as that now raging.

The victory won on the fields of France in 1917-'18 by the men who now make up the American Legion was almost lost in the 25 years after the armistice, he said. The victory now being won in Italy, France, Germany, and in the Pacific must not be lost, the secretary's message said.

For labor stabilization after the war the Legion must unite with the American Federation of Labor to keep America a free land, Green told the convention. Urging that a full measure of credit to be given labor for its prodigious tasks performed to meet the crisis of war, Green asserted that in the past the Legion has been quick to issue condemnatory statements when clamor arose "in the press and radio."

Defending American Federation members, their president acknowledged that there have been strikes, but said they "have been few and far between," considering the vast amount of work accomplished.

"They have not materially affected the war program," he continued. "Furthermore, insofar as AFL unions have been concerned, they have been local, unofficial, and of short duration."

Warning to Labor Wanted.

A minority report containing a veiled warning to organized labor not to interfere with returning veterans in their post-war hunt for a job by requiring them to pay dues or belong to a labor union as a condition to employment was said to be under consideration for presentation as a resolution to the Legion delegates today.

Another resolution, calling for retention after the war of all army and navy bases deemed essential to the defense of the nation, was reported in process of formulation for indorsement by the convention.

The latter resolution, it is said, to avoid the possibility of embarrassing the United States in its relations with neutral and allied nations, will eliminate geographical designations of the post-war naval and military installations which the Legionnaires may ask congress to retain.

Haskell Blames Lack of Action.

Lt. Gen. William N. Haskell, United States army, retired, and now national director of the office of civilian defense, told the convention that in his opinion "the present war would not have occurred had a reasonable degree of preparedness been in existence in this country."

He added that mistaken ideas "about the wastefulness of spending the taxpayers' money" on expenditures for the army and navy and "the utterly ridiculous notion prevalent in some quarters that armaments must necessarily lead to war put the United States in a helpless" position when the peace of the world was at stake.

"Had we had only a part of the colossal armaments we now possess, no country or combination of countries would have dared challenge us," he asserted, "and the astronomical price we are paying for the war now would have been avoided."

GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY DOOMED, CLINNIN FEARS

Failure of the Atlantic Charter and "good neighbor" policies as a basis for peace was predicted by Maj. Gen. John V. Clinnin last night in a talk at the Dixie division reunion held in the Morrison hotel in connection with the American Legion convention.

"We cannot solve overnight the present day problems of races, religions, customs, hatreds, and superstituions, which are most complex," he said. "We failed in our recognition of these diversified questions in 1919 and we have not progressed far enough in our international education since the Versailles treaty to master the task ahead."

CHARGES CIO BINDS VETERANS TO JOIN UNIONS

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

The American Legion auxiliary, holding its 24th annual convention in the Stevens hotel, yesterday received with applause an appeal from Gov. Cooper of Tennessee that it "help protect the right of the returning veteran to work and earn a living without being compelled to pay involuntary tribute to any individual or organization whatsoever." Gov. Cooper is a member of the Legion's post-war planning committee.

"I understand that recently one veterans' organization signed a written compact with the CIO, in substance agreeing that veterans should be compelled to join a union before getting their pre-war jobs back," Gov. Cooper said. He asserted that "the returning veteran must remain free to work in occupations of his own choosing without being compelled to pay money to any man or set of men." He hoped, he said, that the Legion and auxiliary would "unequivocally declare themselves" on the issue.

Hails Future of Legion.

Discussing the Legion's future, Gov. Cooper said it is "the only organization I know of capable of withstanding the pressure groups that will threaten the American way of life in post-war America." He called for the women's help also in insuring the Legion's emergence from this war as "the one great veterans' organization without a peer or even a near rival."

"If we have two almost equally strong veterans' organizations," he told the women, "neither one will be worth belonging to, because both will be powerless to achieve results. One will be used by politicians to offset the other, and our power thru the ballot will be checkmated so the pressure groups will triumph after all."

Women Willing to Leave Jobs.

Most employed women are willing and many are eager to return home after the war, Mrs. O. H. Hahn of Omaha, Neb., assured the delegates. Reporting on a questionnaire circulated by the auxiliary's post-war planning committee, which she heads, Mrs. Hahn said that women workers, writing from war plants, factories, railway stations, and behind the wheels of taxicabs and buses, had answered repeatedly, "If a soldier needs my job, I am ready to give it up."

The survey, made in 26 states, disclosed 68 per cent of the workers questioned are willing to give up their present jobs after the war. Most of the 27 per cent who answered negatively were women who worked before the war and were obliged to support themselves. The majority of the employed married women indicated they would be willing to return to their homes if their husbands had "adequate" incomes.

Mrs. Charles B. Gilbert of Norwich, Conn., and Mrs. Pleasant I. Dixon of Americus, Ga., were nominated for president of the auxiliary.

No couple ever had a deeper love for their home than did Martha and George Washington. Both always spoke of it with great affection. "I can truly say," Washington once declared, "I had rather be at Mount Vernon with a friend or two about me, than to be attended at the seat of government by the officers of state and the representatives of every power in Europe."

ENJOYMENT OF Home

It's the little happy things about a home that make it so beloved by all the family and so dearly remembered through the years. Simple pleasure such as always having Martha Washington candies handy for everyone to enjoy help create those sweet memories of home. No wonder they've long been famous as "the family candies of the nation"—they're so delicious! Take home a tempting assortment of everybody's favorites often, and see how pleased the family will be!

TEXT OF DEWEY'S 'INDISPENSABLE MAN' ADDRESS

Blasts Peace Made by 2 or 3 Men.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 19 (AP).—Following is the text of Gov. Dewey's speech:

"It is with a warm and happy feeling that I come again to the great state of Oregon. It is a privilege to have the opportunity to thank you in person for the friendship your people have shown to me in the past and it is gratifying indeed to have been welcomed so cordially by your friendly and able Gov. Snell.

"Four years ago when I spoke here in Portland, I pointed out the danger which I believe has now become apparent to all—the danger of one man government in a free country.

Cites Truman's Words.

"At that time Mr. Roosevelt represented himself as indispensable to the peace of America. Now, four years later, he seeks a fourth term, for a total of 16 years as President. In the carefully supervised words of his own running mate, Mr. Truman, 'The very future of the peace and prosperity of the world depends upon his reëlection in November.'

"Peace and prosperity are, of course, the objectives of both parties. My opponent claims to be indispensable to peace and prosperity. In other words, he claims that the United States and the world cannot get along without him. He has chosen this as the issue of the campaign. I accept the issue, and I challenge it.

"Now let's find out what are the essential elements of that peace and prosperity we all seek.

Victory in Europe Held Near.

"We know that victory in Europe is close at hand. Soon we shall be able to throw our full strength into the Pacific for the total crushing defeat of the Japanese. If we in America are to do our share in helping to make secure the peace that will follow victory over both Germany and Japan, we must be a strong and united people.

"The first requirements for peace and prosperity are unity in our government and strength and unity among our people. Is a fourth term indispensable to that?

"The plain fact is that for 12 straight years the New Deal has given the country a continuous demonstration of quarreling, dissension, and disunity. It has set group against group, race against race, and class against class. Under this administration, business and labor have been set against each other and labor's own house became divided.

Ickes Tirades Described.

"We have listened without surcease to the shrill, abusive tirades of Mr. Ickes. We have heard Vice President Wallace recklessly denouncing unspecified Americans as fascists. We have been treated daily to blow by blow accounts of innumerable feuds within the New Deal itself. You will recall the long quarrel between the Vice President and the secretary of commerce in which they publicly called each other 'obstructionist' and 'liar.'

"Then there was the long series of quarrels within the war production board—quarrels we now know to have been promoted by the New Dealers, who have at length succeeded in taking it over. This running feud recently culminated in the resignation of several top officials of the WPB, while the head of the board was shipped off to China by Mr. Roosevelt himself.

"Can't Unite Own House."

"I do not believe in that quarreling, bickering kind of government—an administration which cannot unite its own house even in war can never unite the nation for the tremendous peace tasks ahead of us.

"We must have the strength of unity within our government and among our people if we are to contribute to the building of a lasting peace. As a first step to that end we must have a government in which the lines of responsibility are clearly laid down.

"We must have the kind of an administration that inspires teamwork and devotion to the service of the country. I propose that we install that kind of administration next Jan. 20.

Unity Held Essential.

"The one indispensable thing to achieving this teamwork and devotion, this unity in government we have so long lacked, is a change from the indispensable man. With that new unity in our government, we will achieve the unity among our people so essential to the peace and prosperity of America and of the world.

"Now there is a second thing that is essential to achieving our agreed objective of peace and prosperity. That essential thing is joint, harmonious action between the President and the congress. Is a fourth term indispensable to that?

"The steps we take in these critical years ahead must have the joint support of the congress and the President. Can any such joint action and harmonious relationship be achieved under this administration?

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the New Deal has continuously sought for 12 years to bring the congress of the United States into popular disrepute. As a result, no bill which this administration can propose to congress is today received with anything less than suspicion. The nation is now reaping the bitter fruit of executive arrogance toward the elected representatives of the people.

Barkley Rebellion Recalled.

"We need only recall the recent episode when Mr. Roosevelt vetoed the tax bill. On Washington's birthday he sent to the congress a veto message so savage and unjust that even the long suffering and subservient San. Barkley, Democratic majority leader, rebelled.

"You remember the moving and impassioned speech that Sen. Barkley made. You remember how, provoked beyond endurance, he rose in the senate to denounce the words of the veto message of Mr. Roosevelt as 'more clever than honest' and as 'a calculated and deliberate assault on the legislative integrity of every member of congress.'

"You remember how the other senators, regardless of party, rose as one man to cheer this declaration of independence by Sen. Barkley, and the members of the house, regardless of party, crowded into the senate chamber to shake Mr. Barkley's hand.

Division Called Hopeless.

"But this dramatic episode was only an example of a long continued trend. There exists today a hopeless division amounting to open warfare between the congress and the President. We cannot enter this critical period ahead with a chief executive at war with congress.

"It is a part of the job of a President to work in harmony with congress just as it is part of the job of a governor to work in harmony with the legislature. I can speak with feeling on that point. I have worked closely with the legislature of my own state. We have had many difficult problems to work out.

"But we have never found it impossible to reach agreement when we sat down together to discuss these problems. If we cannot agree at the first meeting we meet again, and often sit together far into the night talking the whole thing over and eventually reaching a meeting of minds.

Lesson from Fascism.

"If we have learned any lesson from watching the rise of fascism elsewhere in the world, surely we should have learned the need for strengthening, not undermining, representative government.

"My opponent has demonstrated that he cannot work with the present Democratic congress. How in the name of the future of our country can he be expected to get along with the Republican congress which will certainly be elected this fall?

"We need in this country an administration that wants to work with the elected representatives of the people and that knows how to do it. We can get such an administration only by getting a new chief executive.

"There is a third thing that is essential to achieving our agreed objective of world peace and prosperity. This absolute essential is a strong and vigorous America with jobs for all. Is a fourth term indispensable to that? Once again let's look at the record.

Long Depression Recalled.

"When this administration took office in 1933, the depression was already more than three years old. By 1934 that depression had lasted longer than any other in the previous 100 years of American history. Yet, there were then 12 million unemployed in the United States.

"By 1940, after the New Deal had been in office a full seven years, it had enjoyed unprecented power, it had spent 58 billion dollars, and there were still 10 million unemployed. My opponent had succeeded only in the incredible accomplishment of making a depression last nearly 11 years, twice as long as any depression in the previous century. Under the New Deal, we had to have a war to get jobs.

"What is the use of going back to the methods of the New Deal which failed so completely for seven years? We need a whole new approach to the relationship between the government of the United States and its people.

Dewey to Offer New Approach.

"I will introduce the new approach on the radio from San Francisco on Thursday night of this week. I shall present the philosophy by which I believe we can achieve our two great goals for America, freedom and security for all.

"Meanwhile, it is entirely clear that we need a new approach to the problem of the operation of our government. We need to revise and radically reduce the unnecessary burdens and handicaps placed by government upon the job-making machinery of our economic system. We need to revise our present tax policies which now deter every kind of business enterprise which makes jobs.

"We need a drastic change in government policies which now incite labor disputes and place handicaps upon responsible labor leaders in their work. Some of these changes I outlined at Seattle last night.

"We need above all, a government which believes in the future of the American people.

"These then are three elements essential to achieving our agreed objective of peace and prosperity in America and in the world. If we are to have unity we obviously need a new administration to bring it about; if we are to have harmony between the President and congress, if we are to have a strong and vigorous America with jobs for all, then we need a new administration to bring it about.

"Let's have no more of this pretense about indispensable men. If our republic after 150 years of self-government is dependent upon the endless continuance of one man in office, then the hopes which animated the men who fought for the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution have indeed come to nothing.

"The peace and prosperity of America and of the world can never depend on one man.

"The American people know that peace will be the work of many, many people all over the world for many years. We must build a structure of peace which our people and all people will support not merely this year—or the next four years, but for 25, 50, and many more years to come.

"It is for these reasons that I have taken unprecedented steps to put the present conferences at Dumbarton Oaks on a nonpartisan basis. It is my hope—my earnest hope—that in this we have laid the sound groundwork for a future American foreign policy which will always be nonpartisan, regardless of the party in or out of power.

Tentative Accords Planned.

"Now what will come after these conferences? Tentative agreements will be reached. Then each of the members of the conferences will go back to his own government for discussion of points of agreement and the solution of points of disagreement.

"Then we hope that the other nations of the world will be invited to conferences at the earliest possible moment. For there will be no peace unless it is a just peace in which the small and the weak participate as well as the great and the mighty.

"The diplomats of these nations also will work long and hard. Then, they, too, will report to their governments. Thru that process will come the sound, common understanding on which we move toward a strong, a just, and a lasting peace.

Way to Lasting Peace.

"That is the way to build a lasting peace. In this method there is no indispensable man. The peace we seek must not hang by the slender thread of personal acquaintance of any two or three men. The pages of history are littered with treaties proclaiming permanent peace made privately by rulers of nations and quickly and publicly broken. This case is too important to be trusted to discredited methods or to be dependent upon the life span and continued friendship of two or three individuals.

"I want to see a people's peace come at the end of this war. I want to see a peace which has been worked out in the full light of day before all the world. We all want to see a peace which has been labored over by the trained experts of all the nations who will be involved in it.

"We want, most of all—a peace which all the freedom loving peoples of the world have had a part in creating—a peace they have labored for and believe in—a peace they will be willing to sacrifice and work for in all the years to come."

MRS. KATHAREN STANLEY.

Mrs. Katharen Stanley, 23, of Harrisburg, Saline county, accepted a $45,000 settlement yesterday from the New York Central railroad for the death of her husband, Frank, a railroad fireman who was killed Dec. 24, 1943, in a switching accident in the Harrisburg yards.

Attorneys Robert J. McDonald of Minneapolis, Minn., and Samuel Cohen, who represented Mrs. Stanley, announced the settlement, and Judge Rudolph Desort in Superior court dismissed a civil suit in which the woman, mother of four children, sought $150,000 damages. A jury had heard evidence for a day and a half in the case.

The suit was filed under the federal liability act, which exempts employes of railroads and other interstate carriers from the Illinois law that limits the amount of damages that can be collected for a death to $10,000.

F. D. R. IS DRUNK WITH HIS POWER, GOV. WILLIS SAYS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Simeon S. Willis, Republican govern of Kentucky, today asserted America "must choose between the New Deal party, nominated by Hillman and his cohorts, with its record of ruin and waste, and the Republican party which is led by dynamic young men, with truly American backgrounds and with records of success."

He spoke as a guest of the finance committee of the District of Columbia Kentucky Republican committee. He said Mr. Roosevelt was "drunk with power and leaping forward for more power at every opportunity."

The contrast, Willis said, Thomas E. Dewey "has won the hearts of all Americans by his battles for good government. The people of the United States now need his services."

VETS DEMAND JOBS, NOT DOLES, BRICKER SAYS

Asks if New Deal Plans to Keep Them in Army.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP).—Gov. Bricker tonight asserted the present administration had failed to "break a decade of depression and unemployment," and asked:

"Is the New Deal planning to meet the post-war employment problem by keeping our boys in the army and navy?

"Is it planning to meet the post-war employment problem by employing our workers in government-owned plants at taxpayers' expense?"

These, the Republican candidate for Vice-President asserted, "are legitimate questions and in the light of current developments they are pertinent questions."

He said "the returning soldiers as well as the war workers here at home are interested in jobs, not in doles."

Addresses 4,000 at Erie.

Gov. Bricker came here from Erie, Pa., where he told a crowd at the Union station that the Republican platform could be accepted "at full value with an assurance of performance." Police Capt. William J. McDonald estimated more than 4,000 persons were in the audience.

Bricker asserted in a press conference that if there was any justification for class legislation, war veterans were entitled to it. He remarked, however, that the veterans really "represent not a class, but the nation as a whole."

Assailing the CIO political action committee, Bricker in his Erie speech commented: "I believe it ought to be called the political auction committee. They are putting labor up for sale and a great party up for sale."

Speaking in Pittsburgh at the Syria mosque, Bricker said there was "no reason for defeatism in the thinking of business, labor, or government as they look toward production and employment after Germany and Japan shall have been defeated."

Great Future in Store.

He added that if the people used common sense and had faith, the stage was set for a great future. But, he continued, to reap the benefit of the nation's opportunity, "government must lend encouragement."

"It must encourage the utilization of all the latent powers of the American people. It must restore freedom of opportunity. It must break the shackles of burocracy and excessive taxation. It must restore the incentives that bring public and business confidence."

Bricker said this "can't be done by more planned economy, or more collectivism, or more government control. It can't be done by more appeals to class consciousness and racial prejudices, or by favoritism to noisy minorities. It can't be done by bigger debts and higher taxes."

From Pittsburgh Gov. Bricker's party will proceed by train to Harrisburg, where he will speak tomorrow.

CRUSHED BY CRATE, DIES.

Walter Miller, 44, of 3260 Maypole av., died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital of injuries suffered when a 2,700 pound crate fell on him at the Union station, where Miller was employed as a platform man.

form of the passenger, and a baggage car on the special, vacated only a few minutes before by photographers who were using it for a dark room, telescoped into the tender.

In a press car, 30 reporters, who were sitting elbow to elbow facing portable typewriters on two benches running lengthwise of the car, were tumbled toward the head of the train. Many of them landed on the floor amid typewriters and ash trays.

Gardner Bridge, an Associated Press man, was knocked out and unable to rise from the floor, but recovered after a few minutes and was able to file a story. Dick Lee, political editor for the New York News, had a cut on his nose, and eight others were bleeding from minor cuts.

Others Jolted Around.

In the dining car a few late breakfasters were thrown from their chairs. Dishes were smashed and tables collapsed.

In the two rear cars, used by Dewey and his staff, most of the campaign crew were in their rooms at work. File cases were upset, and Irene Kuehn, former New York newspaper woman, was thrown against a table and bruised. On the rear platform Frank Knida, a New York City detective, was thrown against a window, which shattered. He received a long sliver of glass thru his trousers but was not scratched.

A cry, "How about the governor?" rose from the press car while the reporters were still scrambling to their feet, but the question was answered by the appearance of Dewey before it was possible for the news men to go back to his car.

"Luckiest Trainload."

Apparently unpreturbed by the accident, Dewey stepped into the car, asking, "Are you all right, Charlie?" and "How's your arm, Bill?" He said he had been shaken up "quite a bit," but that "I am all right."

After he had completed his inspection of the train, Dewey commented that it was "the luckiest trainload of people in the world." He then announced plans to leave the train to travel by automobile to Portland for his address.

CONSTITUTION 'CURE' FOR U. S., LUEDER SAYS

Sullivan, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP).—State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder said in a campaign speech today that "there is nothing wrong with America today that strict adherence to the Constitution of the United States will not cure."

"We cannot attribute all of the ills of America today to the war. We also must not forget that before entering this great world conflict our nation under the New Deal was headed for one of the greatest depressions in her history. The New Deal had broken down and was on its way out."

IOWANS PREFER DEWEY'S WIFE IN WHITE HOUSE

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 19 [Special].—Iowa State Republican headquarters today compared Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt following the recent trip of the New York governor and his wife thru Iowa.

"In many minds in Iowa, where eyes looked upon the charming and graceful reticence of Mrs. Tom Dewey, there was another reason aside from political and Presidential duties for changing the administration in Washington," the statement from the state headquarters said.

"Whether it be fair or not to consider Mrs. Roosevelt a figure in the campaign, a figure she really is. The issue cannot be driven from the minds of many either by pleading discourtesy or by scolding about disrespect for her. After all, she has sought a place in politics and has assumed a position of trying to influence voters on very controversial questions. That she should, therefore, be considered a part of the fourth term campaign is not unfair, but very natural."

The Republican statement also quoted what it called "confidential reports" to the effect that a group of high ranking Democrats called on Mrs. Roosevelt before the Chicago campaign and, with her husband's consent, suggested a vacation from writing and speech making.

SUSTAIN RAPE SENTENCE.

The Criminal court sentence of Michael Marino to one to 14 years in prison for assault with attempt to commit rape was sustained yesterday by the Illinois State Supreme court.

BROWDER WON'T NAME REDS IN NEW DEAL FOLD

Defies House Probers on Aids in CIO.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Earl Browder, 53 year old Communist leader, who has served two federal prison sentences as a result of clashes with government authority, today defied a congressional committee request for information concerning communistic penetration of the New Deal.

Summoned before the special house group investigating election campaign expenditures, Browder spent more than four hours under persistent questioning. He squirmed in the witness chair as Rep. Church [R., Ill.], attempted to pin him down on inflammatory statements he voiced during the period when the peace pact between Adolf Hitler and Josef Stalin was in effect.

Has 80,000 Members.

The Kansas-born president of the Communist political association, successor to the Communist party which was dissolved last May, testified that his organization has some 80,000 members who contribute approximately $170,000 a year to New York headquarters. He insisted none of this money was being spent in furtherance of the election of President Roosevelt who has received unanimous Communist indorsement.

Asked to furnish the names of Communists who were active in the CIO political action committee or the Democratic national committee, Browder flatly refused.

"Let them answer for themselves," he said. "I wouldn't furnish such information."

Chairman Anderson [D., N. C.] and Rep. Brown [R., O.] reminded Browder that some persons have linked Communists with the CIO-PAC and the witness said:

"Leaders of our organization have taken the position that the purposes of the political action committee are laudable and should be supported."

He also stated that some of his colleagues are "active" in the Republican and Democratic parties, "in the Kiwanis, the Elks, in the ministerial associations, and so forth."

"Is John Curran a Communist?" he was asked by Rep. Brown.

[Curran is head of the National Maritime union [CIO], branded as Communist controled by the Dies committee on un-American activities, and high in CIO-PAC councils.]

12,000 of Party in Service.

"Let him answer for himself," said Browder. "A man's politics is his own business."

The questioning developed that 25,000 members were added to the Communist party rolls in the United States just before it was dissolved last May. All members were transferred to the new Communist party association which followed the pattern established by the Communist international, dissolved in May, 1943.

Twelve thousand Communists are presently in the fighting services, Browder said, asserting that all were discharged "from their obligations" for the period of their service.

Won't Define Communism.

He was reluctant to answer a request for a definition of Communism and fascism. He said finally that a Fascist could be detected if his statements were praised by Hitler and named former Ambassador William C. Bullitt in this connection, noting that a recent article by Bullitt in Life magazine had been later broadcast by German Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

A rule-of-thumb method for determining a good Communist was to note those attacked or imprisoned by Fascists, he continued. He volunteered at this point the assertion that the Communists in China were the "true allies" of the United States and that "the most solid and reliable foes of Japan in China are Communists."

The United States, Browder said regretfully, was not "ripe" for the abolition of capitalism. He estimated 98 per cent of Americans preferred the present system to communism.

The Communist party would not be revived after the war, he said, expressing the belief that "our present program" would gain the desired objectives.

Flares Up Over Post.

"And you can achieve those objectives best thru the Democratic party?" inquired Rep. Andresen [R., Minn.].

"If you mean the establishment of communism in this country—no," retorted Browder. "The quickest road to communism would be to support the reactionaries who would bring back such times as to cause revolution."

Browder flared up when reference was made to the period of the Stalin-Hitler pact as "the time when Hitler and Stalin were allies." That was a "dangerous distortion of history," he asserted, and if Russia was an "ally" of Hitler, the United States was likewise an ally because of its neutrality laws.

He denied any "inside information" on the Teheran agreements which he envisioned as "unfolding a new world—the only program that can save the world from catastrophe even after Hitler is beaten."

Quizzed on Aliases.

Then Rep. Church took over the witness and sharp words ensued. Church questioned Browder about the many aliases he used on passports to Russia which gained him a four year sentence to Atlanta penitentiary. He served 14 months and was then pardoned by President Roosevelt.

Browder refused to give the aliases he had used and Chairman Anderson upheld him, saying the questioning had gone "far afield." Church then brought out that Browder's first jail sentence had been served during the last war, in Leavenworth, for conspiracy to obstruct the draft law.

"You have stressed national unity in your testimony," Church remarked, "asserting that your organization has given unconditional support to the war effort since the beginning. Your conception of national unity has changed considerably from your views expressed before June, 1941, when Russia became a victim of German aggression, has it not?"

Praise of Pact Cited.

"America wasn't at war then," said Browder. "I wasn't for the British and the French war."

Church quoted Browder's statement in his book, "The Second Imperial War," published in 1940, which lauded the German-soviet pact and advocated "similar agreements by other nations."

"The only meaning I can read out of that statement is that you advocated a Roosevelt-Hitler pact," remarked Church.

"I was advocating joining with Russia—" said Browder.

"And with Hitler—" chimed in Church.

"You're trying to make a political speech," said Browder, hotly.

Questioned on Unity.

"You were striving for national unity on Sept. 29, 1939," pursued Church, "when you said at Philadelphia that 'if the gentlemen, statesmen, and diplomats of the so-called western democracies are not able to keep peace in the world, the peoples of the world are getting ready to show them how to do it'?

"That speech was delivered when German military might was creating bloody destruction in Poland. Were you furthering national unity or advocating revolution and civil war in the United States when you declared:

"'The only possible victory of the people will be the overthrowing of the bandits at the head of both camps. . . . We can support neither one side nor the other in the imperialist war. The former distinction between the fascist and the democratic nations has lost the meaning it once had and is rapidly losing any serious political meaning at all.'

"If that means what is seems to say, Mr. Browder, you viewed Hitler's Germany and the United States as being on the same plane, so long as Russia stood safely on the sidelines?"

"I reject all questions," said Browder, "based on the assumption that it was the patriotic duty of Americans to be on one side or the other before Dec. 7, 1941."

RUMELY GROUP DEFIES HOUSE PROBE OF FUNDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—The house committee investigating election campaign expenditures today voted to subpena records of the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., after the organization's officials refused to supply the names of contributors.

Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary, warned a subpena would be defied and a court test appeared certain.

The group reported to the committee that its income for the calendar year 1943 was $315,292, of which $260,000 was in contributions. It said more than 10,000 contributions of $10 or less had been received and only 22 over $500. It denied any funds had been used for or against any candidate.

HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL.

Thomas Patrick Daley, 50, who had no permanent address, hanged himself yesterday in his cell in the E. Chicago av. station a half hour after he was booked on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by the manager of the 10 W. Elm st. apartments.

POLLOCK HEADS GROUP OPPOSING HILLMAN'S PAC

New York, Sept. 19 [Special].—Channing Pollock, author and playwright, today announced the formation of an independent voters' protest committee of which he is chairman to serve as the spearhead of protest against "the brazen campaign of the political action committee to install Sidney Hillman as the power behind the throne of a fourth term administration."

In accepting the chairmanship of the organization, Pollock said he did so "because I am convinced that a deep and widespread resentment exists in the public mind against the arrogance of this man Sidney Hillman, who has taken it upon himself to use the high handed methods of communism to saddle his European concepts of government upon his adopted country."

Others who aided in the formation of the committee and will serve on it are John W. Hanes, Democrat and former undersecretary of the treasury, who is to act as treasurer for the group; Louis Bromfield, Booth Tarkington, Kenneth Roberts, Rupert Hughes, and Roy Chapman Andrews.

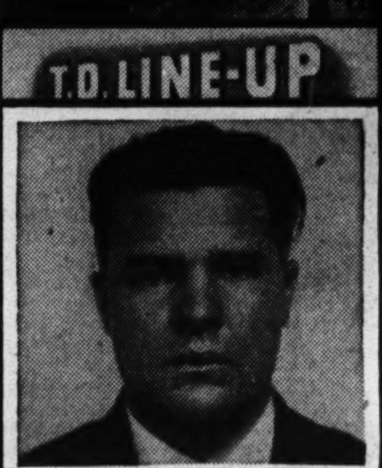
TRUE DETECTIVE
MASTER DETECTIVE



The Picture in True Detective that trapped "Pretty Boy" Floyd

The Line-Up is a department of thirteen years standing in True Detective and Master Detective. In cooperation with leading law enforcement officers it describes wanted criminals and offers rewards from the publisher, frequently from others. To date 321 criminals have been captured through the services of the Line-Up.

In his short, violent criminal career, he shot down eleven men—six of them police officers; he kidnapped twenty-three, using them as human bullet-shields in getaways from bank hold-ups—thirteen ruthless, bloody hold-ups.

Every city, town, hamlet and county in the Middlewest and Southwest formed posses—called on sheriffs, deputies, marshals, police chiefs, plain clothesmen and patrolmen to get this man "Pretty Boy" Floyd.

F.B.I. and great private detective organizations followed thousands of tips—only to find their wily quarry had just slipped away. Thirty-seven separate manhunts were organized—some covering vast areas where he was known to be—36 times he escaped nets that captured 39 lesser criminals. For this dangerous killer had an animal's wary sixth sense of imminent capture—always seemed to know when danger threatened.

Something lulled that sixth sense when he asked gentle, hospitable True Detective reader Robert Robinson for a sandwich. Perhaps because there was nothing of the police officer about this kindly old farmer. But Robinson was to prove his Nemesis within four hours of their meeting.

For the faintly familiar face haunted Robinson. Where had he seen it? Then when he saw his copy of True Detective on the living-room table, he remembered he had seen it in the T.D. Line-Up. He looked again—made doubly sure and hastened to his friend and neighbor, Constable Clyde O. Birch. Constable Birch immediately gave the tip to Federal Agents and the long-last chase—the 37th manhunt—started from Robinson's farm.

On the nearby farm of Mrs. Ellen Conkle, Federal Agent Melvin Purvis, with local police and three of his own Government agents spotted "Pretty Boy"—gave the sharp command "Halt! Stick 'em up!" Floyd, gun in hand, wavered, ran toward outbuildings, crashed under the officers' gunfire. The nation's most dangerous killer was dead.

ALIEN TO TAKE STUMP FOR F. D. R. IN NINE STATES

Big Democrats Honor Him on Departure.

New York, Sept. 19 [Special].—A $5 a plate dinner here tomorrow night in the main ballroom of the Hotel Commodore will be held by leading Democrats and Communists as a send-off for Ferdinand Smith, an alien and secretary of the CIO National Maritime union, who is embarking on a jaunt thru nine states to speak for the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

This was revealed in a copyrighted article today in the New York World Telegram which described Smith as a member of the executive committee of the CIO and one of the sponsors of Sidney Hillman's political action committee.

The article said Smith is a native of Jamaica, British West Indies, who came to the United States 25 years ago but neglected to become naturalized. He is a member of the Communist party, the newspaper stated, recalling an attestation to this effect last March 20 by Tim Holmes, former state official of the Communist party.

Sen. Mead a Sponsor.

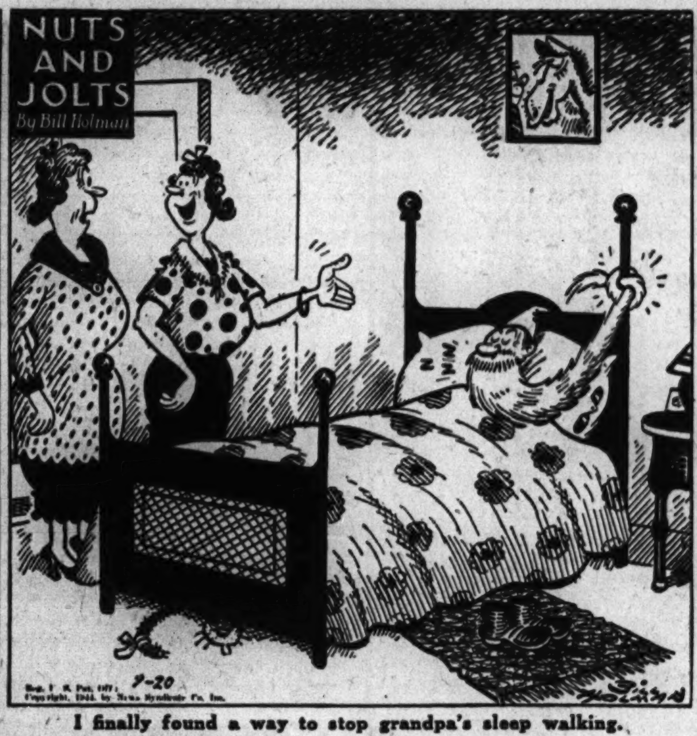
Smith's send-off dinner, according to the Daily Worker, Communist official newspaper, has among its sponsors such prominent persons as Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.] and Representatives Buckley, Capozzoli, Celler, Klein, and Barry [Ds., N. Y.], and Marcantonio [A. L., N. Y.].

Basil Harris, president of the United States Lines, is listed as honorary chairman of the dinner, and D. Stewart Iglehart, president of the Grace Lines, is listed as sharing the vice chairmanship with Rockwell Kent, president of the International Workers order, Communist fraternal arm, and others.

The World Telegram said Smith's first speech on his tour will be delivered Sept. 23 in Pittsburgh and quoted the Pilot, official organ of the National Maritime union as saying in its Aug. 11 issue that "Smith will concentrate his speaking engagements in the nine states where Negro votes hold the balance of power," and that "Smith is working closely with the national CIO political action committee, in whose offices Hannegan [Democratic National Chairman Hannegan] met with the Negro publishers this week."

Accused of Strike Breaking.

The newspaper said Smith has worked as a steward on various ships and began to achieve prominence about 1935. In 1938 he was charged with having been a strikebreaker because he worked on the ship Horace Luckenbach during the 1934 strike, it was recalled.



I finally found a way to stop grandpa's sleep walking.

TWO BOYS DROWN IN CLAY HOLE AS 20 LOOK ON

Two boys, 9 and 7, drowned in eight feet of water in a clay hole near Highland Park yesterday while 20 other children watched, then fled from the scene. The victims were Thomas and Lawrence Cash, only sons of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Cash, 650 Bob o' Link road, Highland Park. They had been playing on a raft a few yards from shore when they lost their footing and fell into the water. The other children, who had been wading, fishing, and swimming, ran to their homes. One of the children, however, notified a caddy master at a near-by golf club and the bodies were recovered half an hour later.

3 ILLINOISANS GIVEN AWARDS FOR WAR VALOR

The distinguished service cross has been awarded to Pvt. Leonard J. Gordon, 219 Lake st., Waukegan, and the silver star to two other Illinoisans, Staff Sgt. Robert L. Collier of Peoria and Sgt. William F. Tepatti of Pocahontas, Bond county, the war department announced yesterday.

The Gordon award was "for exceptional courage and aggressiveness" in the battle on Hill 260 at Bougainville, in the Solomons, last March.

The silver stars were for "extraordinary displays of tenacity and heroism" in the Italian campaign. In an engagement last February, Collier reorganized his men after intense artillery and mortar fire had confused and dispersed them. Tepatti was in an outfit that crossed the Rapido river last January and fought off the enemy for two nights and a day.

Kills Railroad Worker; Calls It Self-Defense

Frank Roti, 30, of 211 W. 23d st., last night was held by Pekin Inn police in connection with the fatal shooting of Louis Hernendez, 26, a railroad laborer who lived at Princeton and Archer avs., in front of 2254 Princeton av. Roti said Hernendez drew a knife when he attempted to intervene in a quarrel between Hernendez and a Negro and that he shot him in self-defense.

2,000 CIO STORE WORKERS URGED: STAY OUT OF PAC

Officials of the CIO Department Store Employes' union yesterday urged 2,000 members employed by three large stores not to participate in Sidney Hillman's political action committee, which was further repudiated by the resignations of three union stewards and one member from another CIO local in protest against political meddling in their personal affairs.

Employes of The Fair store, the Marshall Field & Co. warehouses, and the South Central department store were affected. The union recommended to its Boston Store unit members last week that they refrain from participating in the PAC program.

"Stay Out of Politics."

S. F. Sullivan, business manager and treasurer of local 291, which includes the store units, said the executive board believes that unions should be limited to labor representation and not "dabble in religion or politics."

"We feel we are responsible citizens and intelligent enough to know for whom to vote," Sullivan said. "Political activities would only make for dissension among union members."

In notices handed to members yesterday, the executive committee recomended "that you vote next November in the traditional American way, according to your conscience and your better judgment."

"The executive board feels that religion and politics are two subjects in which our local should not become involved," the board stated. "A motion was made and approved to the effect that, in order to maintain the unity of our membership, we turn down the proposal of participation in the CIO political action committee." The board recommended that the members register to vote.

Four Resign from Union.

Three stewards and a fourth member of the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers' union at the Chicago Flexible Shaft company, 5600 Roosevelt rd., announced yesterday they had resigned their memberships because the union insisted they "be politicians instead of labor union men." They are: Frank Jacobs, 5229 Monroe st.; Elmer Churchill, 1700 Humboldt blvd.; John Sobus, 1809 N. Washtenaw av., and Carlo Giampapa, 1832 S. Hamlin av.

"We helped organize this union," they stated thru Atty. William J. Grace, "but now find it is a Communist dominated political organization."

U. S. RECOGNIZES SYRIA, LEBANON; NAMES MINISTER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—The United States today recognized the governments of Syria and Lebanon, and President Roosevelt nominated George Wadsworth, a career diplomat of Buffalo, N. Y., to be the first American minister to the two former French mandates? Said terms of the 1919 league of nations mandate recognized the right of the two countries to eventual independence and added that French cooperation in bringing it about had been of great assistance.

F. D. R. SEIZURE OF WARDS HELD DICTATOR STEP

Minority on House Group Denounces Action.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt's armed seizure of the Chicago plant of Montgomery Ward & company was upheld today by the four Democratic members of a house committee, while the three-man Republican minority denounced the action as "completely disregarding" the Constitution and setting a "pattern for complete dictatorship."

In a head-on split along party lines, the Democratic majority of the committee investigating the seizure last April concluded that the action "was not only within the constitutional power but was the plain duty of the President."

The minority found, however, that "The seizure was in direct defiance of the will of congress and in complete disregard of the Constitution of the United States which the President is sworn to uphold and defend."

Biddle Argument Assailed.

Both reports were filed with congress today by the special committee, headed by Rep. Ramspeck [D., Ga.], set up by the house last May to investigate the legality of the seizure. The inquiry was ordered on the motion of Rep. Dewey [R., Ill.].

The minority report by Dewey, Elston [R., O.], and Curtis [R., Neb.] declared that Atty. Gen. Biddle's testimony before the committee in support of the seizure propounded a revolutionary doctrine of tyranny as a replacement for democratic government by law.

Taking issue with Biddle's claim the President has a nebulous "reserve of power" to seize private property, the minority said: "We can conceive of no more effective pattern for complete dictatorship. The President [under Biddle's view] makes the laws thru executive orders. He alone passes upon 'the gravity of the emergency or the necessity of the taking,' and denies the courts the right to substitute their judgment for his judgment.

Fails to Find Specific Law.

"In a word, according to the attorney general's theory, the President is the government."

The majority report, by Chairman Ramspeck and Representatives Clark [D., N. C.], Byrne [D., N. Y.], and Monroney [D., Okla.], confessed there was no apparent specific language in congressional statutes to justify the seizure.

It contended, however, that congress "intended" to give some form of enforcement power to the executive branch to force compliance with orders of the war labor board—as in the case of Ward's, which defied a WLB order prior to the seizure.

The minority found, however, that congress, while giving the WLB power to issue orders in labor disputes, did not delegate to the executive branch power to enforce such orders, particularly without court review of their legality.

Held Usurpation of Power.

On the legal issue of the actual seizure, the minority said: "The conclusion is inescapable that the seizure of the property of Montgomery Ward & Co. was an indefensible usurpation of power, without the semblance of legal authority or precedent to support it.

"The opinions expressed by the attorney general . . . would, if true, make the President of the United States a military dictator in time of war.

"At the time of the seizure, the courts were open and congress was in session. Yet a startled nation witnessed the spectacle of an officer of the Ward company [Chairman Sewell Avery] being forcibly ejected from the company's property simply because he dared to assert a constitutional right.

"He was not carried from his office because he had violated any court order, because neither he nor the company had had a day in court. No court proceedings had been instituted.

Removed by Armed Men.

"He was removed by soldiers in full battle array solely upon the command of the President for failing to obey a command of the President—the necessity for which command the President, and the President only, decided."

The minority report recalled that the command to throw Avery out of his office was given by Biddle himself, who, it added, said: "Throw him out. What are you waiting for?"

"This," the report said, "resulted in the picture published thruout the nation which caused all Americans to stop and take inventory of the rapid loss of their liberties."

If this theory that the President has power in war time to act without regard to the law is correct, the minority continued, "it follows, of course, that the President has power to take over every corner grocery, every gasoline filling station, every restaurant, every farm, every newspaper, or radio station—in fact every business of every kind."

SHIPSTEAD SAYS F. D. R. BUILT UP NAZIS TO POWER

Holds Him Responsible for the War.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

Sen. Shipstead.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Silver haired Sen. Shipstead [R., Minn.] today charged during heated senate debate that President Roosevelt, hailed by New Deal fourth term campaigners as indispensable commander in chief in the war, should bear a full measure of responsibility for starting the world conflict. The senator, tracing 11 tortuous years of New Deal foreign policy, blamed the President for the growth of German and Japanese militarism.

History will fix the responsibility for the rise of German military power and the growth of Japanese might, he said, "upon the one man whose experience, knowledge and skill are now represented to his fellow citizens as indispensable to their salvation."

Augustus and F. D. R.

"The record of this administration in world affairs will be its own everlasting judgment," Shipstead asserted. "It was said proudly of the Emperor Augustus that he found Rome a city of brick and left it a city of marble.

"I am inclined to think that a fair proportion of posterity is going to think of Mr. Roosevelt that he found the world in grave economic distress, trying to recover from the consequences of the war of 1914-'18, and he left it in total war, with 30 million men and women in uniform."

As he concluded, the Minnesota senator was challenged by Sen. Hatch [D., N. M.], staunch New Deal supporter, who expressed resentment at the accusation the commander in chief, holding that responsibility for the war weighs "heavily and terribly on all of us."

Urges Past Be Forgotten.

"It behooves none of us to fix responsibility for war on others," he said. "Let us turn our backs on the past. Don't find fault with each other. Let us look forward to discharging our responsibility in the future in the light of future events."

Shipstead reported that it is impossible to get away from the past, that the past must be known if we are to know the future.

As he concluded his colleague, Sen. Ball [R., Minn.], member of the internationalist bloc, deplored criticism of the Dumbarton Oaks conference between representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia, which has hit a snag in its search for a formula for world security. Soviet representatives have reportedly refused to indorse proposals they consider as hamstringing Red participation in the proposed new world peace organization.

Burton Joins in Plea.

Following Ball, who delivered a 3,000 word speech, Sen. Burton [R., O.], another internationalist, made a 5,000 word plea for nonpartisan adoption by the senate of the proposal for an international armed force to enforce the peace treaty.

Sen. Shipstead opened the consideration of foreign policy by asserting he intends to discuss foreign policy, with emphasis on the relation of the powers of congress and the chief executive and on the foreign economic policy during the two decades in which he has been a member of the senate. He said he would tax Republican as well as Democratic administrations for failures.

Lifted Restrictions on Germany.

He recalled the American and British governments refused to cooperate with the French in the continuation of restrictions on German armaments, holding that Mr. Roosevelt influenced Britain's decision.

"The entire diplomatic and moral strength of the American government," he said, "was thrown against the French republic, and on behalf of the remilitarization of Germany by Hitler and his gangsters. The British government, abandoning the stand it had taken only three months previously, aligned itself with the American government.

"It was this situation which enabled Hitler on Oct. 14, 1933, to announce Germany's withdrawal from the disarmament conference and also from the league of nations. The French, Czech, and other governments insisted that the conference continue. But the American and British governments desired that it should adjourn to give Hitler an opportunity to reconsider! Which meant, in effect, to give him a free hand to carry on his remilitarization of Germany — which he did.

Germany Weak in 1932.

"For almost three years we have been fighting to crush Germany, to put her back into the position of 1932, before Mr. Roosevelt became President of the United States and Adolf Hitler became chancellor of Germany. Germany was militarily weak, and almost disarmed then. Why was she not kept that way?

"Why do we have to give the lives of our sons to put Germany back in the position she occupied before Mr. Roosevelt became President of the United States and began to exercise his influence in world affairs?"

Turning to the other side of the world, Sen. Shipstead cited American oil and scrap exports to Japan and American purchases at New Deal premium levels of gold and silver, which the Japs took out of China. He attacked the failure of the administration to enforce the neutrality act, which provided for an embargo on war materials, when Japan attacked China.

A Subsidy for Japan.

He asserted that in a very real sense, Mr. Roosevelt subsidized Japanese re-armament, by pulling Jap militarists out of their financial difficulties. The New Deal gold and silver program, he said, was as helpful to the Japs as lend-lease has been to the allies.

"Down to 1940-'41 we were steadily building up and strengthening the German and Japanese militarists," Shipstead said. "The German armed forces had grown from moderate levels up to the most powerful fighting machine on the face of the earth. The Japanese had grown from a second rate power to a first rate military state."

Building and Tearing Down.

From building up the totalitarian military machines the administration shifted to tearing them down, Shipstead said. He said if the administration was right up to 1940 then it could not be right after 1940, holding that the pre-1940 policies and the post-1940 policies cannot both be right, altho they might both be wrong.

"I have spoken of the remarkable shifts and turns and reversals of American government policy during the 12 years of the present administration," he said. "There was the building up of Nazi Germany and militarist Japan to the position of great powers, then the switch over to the other side and the building up of the Stalinist union against Germany—and against all eastern Europe, and possibly against China.

Stalin Rises to Power.

"We have seen support to Japanese militarism supplemented and then replaced by support to Chinese militarists, tho these latter may be turned over, like the Poles, Finns, and Balkan peoples, to the tender mercies of Marshal Stalin. We may yet see Moscow dominant in western China as in eastern Europe. What a reward to China for having fought the Japanese."

In his speech Sen. Ball sought to defend the secrecy of the Dumbarton Oaks conference. He objected to demands that international organizational plans be suspended until after the peace is made.

"The greatest question at issue," Ball told the senate, "is whether the United States shall reverse the decision it made in 1919 and this time join in a world organization having the authority and the force necessary to outlaw aggressive war.

"Let us not permit some fancied encroachment in the prerogatives of congress to distract our attention from that major question: Should the United States help preserve peace?

"The peace of the world and of these United States, for generations to come, may depend upon our answer."

HEART ATTACK KILLS MAN, 55.

Emery Iliff, 55, of 1742 W. 95th st., died yesterday after a heart attack in the offices of Paul H. Davis & Co., 10 S. La Salle st., where he was employed as a broker-salesman.

D-DAY SURVIVOR OF SHIP SINKING RETURNS HOME

Chief Boatswain's Mate Albert M. Stein of the Coast Guard, was back home at 5490 South Shore dr. yesterday after surviving the sinking of his infantry landing craft on the Normandy coast on D-day.

Stein said that his ship was hit by a German mortar shell, forcing the crew to abandon ship. He swam away from the ship, into the channel, while many of his mates swam for the beach. They ran into machine gun fire, he said, and had to dig in for from 15 to 20 hours. Stein said he was picked up 30 minutes later by a British ship.

Stein also participated in the invasions of Sicily and Salerno.

A FRANCHISE FOR THE SURFACE LINES.

Judge Igoe has ordered the Chicago Surface Lines into bankruptcy, ending the 17 year receivership in which the company has been held since just before the expiration of its franchise in 1927.

The chief concern of the people of Chicago in traction matters is to get superior service at reasonable cost. When the companies provide new and modern equipment, faster schedules, better roadbeds, and extensions to all points needing service—all at reasonable fares—the public's demands will have been met. If bankruptcy for the surface lines can help to bring this about Judge Igoe's action will be pretty generally approved.

Receivership is a court action intended to conserve the assets of a company for the protection of both creditors and stockholders, and bankruptcy is a court process to liquidate the assets of a company for the satisfaction of the creditors. It is hard for a layman to understand how either of these actions apply to the surface lines, which have reported net earnings for each of the 17 years since the receivership started and have about 30 million dollars in cash.

Seventeen years is a long time to hold any company in receivership and, with the kind of financial picture the surface lines presents, it seems that enough new capital should have been attracted long before this to enable the company to reorganize. Plenty of steam railroads with financial histories more complicated than this one have gone thru the wringer and emerged on their own, and it hasn't taken 17 years.

One trouble has been that the city council has not seen fit to grant the company a franchise. The right of the company to operate on the city streets has therefore been clouded. A company in that strait is not likely to attract new capital no matter what it earns.

Judge Igoe said that his court favored improvement of the surface lines' properties. It can be hoped, then, that the court, the new trustees, and everybody else connected with the surface lines will work for improvement and modernization. The best start that can be made toward that goal is to get the company a franchise and submit it to the people for approval in a referendum.

In recent years the Democratic city administration has obstinately refused to give the surface lines a franchise because Mayor Kelly was pledged to unify all of Chicago's traction facilities. Any new franchise would have to include the other companies as well. The recent report of the city commissioner of subways and superhighways, recommending that municipal ownership unification plans be dropped for the present because they are unattainable within the next two years, ought to give city councilmen courage to back a move to grant the surface lines some kind of a franchise. It need not bar future unification if that is desired.

Judge Igoe says that if the city can't unify and doesn't grant the company a franchise soon he will have to consider a "reorganization based on the rights which the traction companies claim under the ordinances which have expired." That would be something new and it might wind up in court battles which would last for years. Meanwhile, the same old rickety street cars and fume filled buses would be grinding thru our city streets.

If our aldermen show a little gimp, draft a franchise ordinance for the surface lines, and put it thru right now for submission to the company and the voters, they can boast that they have done more to solve Chicago's traction problems than their predecessors did in the last 37 years. A new franchise would be no cure-all, for there still is the bankrupt and unprofitable elevated system to consider, but it promises new, modern street cars, more and better street railway buses, and faster and more comfortable rides. Those are the things that the people of Chicago want.

WELCOME HOME.

The Foreign Policy association, a private research organization, said in a report recently that the conduct of American foreign policy in Washington and abroad should not be "left only to those who enjoy special privileges of money, or family connections, or training in exclusive schools." The association suggested that our state department be staffed with men who are conscious of American public opinion if a working partnership on foreign affairs between the people and the President is to be achieved.

For years, The Tribune has been a lone voice crying for Americanization of the state department. We have believed all along that most of our diplomatic troubles and failures have come from the nobility-aping state department set who are secretly ashamed of the fact that they represent a republic. These people feel great inferiority before titles of European nobility and are therefore unable to represent America abroad. They are responsible for the doctrine of American inferiority which dominates European diplomatic circles and they encourage other weak Americans to sell out our sovereignty and substance for the favor and comradeship of foreign noblemen.

Up to the present the Foreign Policy association has been of no more help in Americanizing the state department than has the English Speaking union. It is a pleasure to discover that the Foreign Policy association is awakening and we welcome this society back into the ranks of American patriots, along with George Wharton Pepper, the former senator from Pennsylvania, some of the New Deal senators who have spoken out for protection of our international air rights and possession of Pacific island bases, and others who have come recently to realize that American interests are their own personal interests.

COMMUNISTS FOR IMPERIALISM.

The communist daily newspaper, Humanite, in Paris, said recently that France should have been a party to the Quebec conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill because France has a great interest in the Pacific war. "A French expeditionary corps is going to participate in the final campaign against the Japanese," the paper said. "The French ought to be the first to liberate Indo-China, with the Indo-Chinese. Our Indo-Chinese troops will rise with the people against the despicable invader."

This final statement is debatable. French conduct in Indo-China certainly did not inspire the natives there to put up any resistance against the Japanese and it is doubtful that the vision of French reconquest will hearten them.

The most significant thing, however, is the declaration of French Communists for imperialism. This amounts to a guarantee that there will be no rights of man for the Indo-Chinese after the war unless Americans write them into the peace. The Indo-Chinese, on the basis of this declaration, take their place alongside the Poles.

STALIN AGAINST DEWEY.

The soviet magazine, War and the Working Class, has published an article denouncing Gov. Dewey and his candidacy. The soviet government owns and runs the paper; the denunciation is therefore the official expression of the Russian government's attitude. It is, in effect, an instruction to Stalin's followers in this country to redouble their efforts for Mr. Roosevelt in the CIO unions and political action committees.

Evidently Mr. Stalin did not heed the advice given him recently by Mr. Eric Johnston when they met in Moscow. Mr. Stalin continues to meddle in American politics. By doing so he can only succeed in keeping alive the distrust of his regime here.

The soviet government, in its comment on the issues to be decided at the election in November, says that the Republicans are isolationists. This is an astonishing position for Stalin to take. He is, in fact, the arch-isolationist of the world today. No Republican, and least of all Mr. Dewey, has intimated anything but the firmest determination to see the war against Hitler to a victorious conclusion. When has Mr. Stalin ever given any one reason to believe that he is going to join in America's war against Japan?

Does the soviet government's Polish policy offer any sign of a willingness to compromise for the sake of achieving a common goal in Europe? Russia is going her own way, taking the lend-lease aid that we have lavished upon her, but making no concessions to her allies. Stalin was unyielding at Teheran. He will not sit at the same conference table with Gen. Chiang and he will not do what he might toward bringing the Chinese Communists into accord with the Chinese government. On the other hand, he did make the treaty with Hitler in 1939 that started the war and for two years he not only isolated his own country from the conflict, but encouraged his followers in all countries to do what they could for Hitler. The slogan of his American spellbinders was, "The Yanks are not coming." If he hadn't been attacked, he would still be arch-isolationist, and it is a fair guess that as soon as Germany has been defeated by American soldiers and American arms he will revert to his original policy. Certainly he has given no indication to the contrary.

When Mr. Stalin uses isolationist as a term of reproach he is guilty of a monumental hypocrisy. In truth, he wants a Democratic victory, not because the Republicans are or ever have been more isolationist than he is, but because Mr. Roosevelt cannot say no to him. Mr. Stalin has Mr. Roosevelt where he wants him. Mr. Roosevelt needs the American Labor party votes that Stalin can deliver to him in New York and the CIO-PAC votes that he can deliver elsewhere in the country. In more than one close election, Mr. Stalin has proved himself invaluable to the New Deal. Stalin will have no such lever to use against Gov. Dewey. That's why War and the Working Class is for Roosevelt and against Dewey.

WHAT IS BIDDLE'S ANSWER?

The United Packinghouse Workers of America, district 1, CIO, is circulating a pamphlet in the stock yards district here asking for contributions to the CIO political action committee. The folder, entitled, "Is It Worth a Buck, Brother?" answers its own question on the second page: "It's worth a buck to kick out congressmen who keep your wages down and prices up—to keep men like him out [over a picture of Gov. Dewey]—to keep men like him in [over a picture of Mr. Roosevelt]."

The last paragraph on the last page says: "Note—The Smith-Connally act prohibits union contributions to party campaigns to elect pro-labor officials. The political action fund is, therefore, to be used for a mass educational and organizational campaign for democratic government, and not for party purposes."

Sidney Hillman and his communist friends in the CIO insist they aren't breaking the law governing campaign contributions. Atty. Gen. Biddle knows what they are doing. Even if he didn't read the newspapers, he has heard the story so many times from so many indignant congressmen that he must be weary of it. This pamphlet is all the evidence he needs to start proceedings. If he doesn't, he ought to be impeached for failure to carry out his sworn duty of enforcing the nation's laws.

The city of Nijmegen in Holland, reported as taken by allied air borne troops, is a problem for spelling bees. We find it as Nymwegen in a guide book, and as Nijmwegen, Nimeguen, Nymegen, and Nimwegen in an encyclopedia. But, however spelled, it is a surprising town to discover in the Netherlands, for it is built on hill slopes and some of its streets are stairways to higher levels. The tower of its ancient church and an adjacent belvedere provide long range views of landscape, which are rare in this flat country.

The Palau Islands, which were the Pelews in the days of sail, have figured in only one South seas romance of our acquaintance. This is "Van Zanten's Happy Days," by Laurids Bruun, first published in Danish about 30 years ago, and then in English, by the firm of Gyldendal of Copenhagen, Christiania [Olso] and London. A rare item, we fancy, so we're hanging on to our copy.

"Van Zanten's Happy Days" purports to be an authentic document of life in the Palaus in the 1870s, when the natives had never seen a white man except the narrator of this tale. It is strong on landscape, native customs, and primitive woo-ings. Nevertheless, after re-reading it we have no intention of posing as an expert on the pre-Japanese Palaus.

Add Horrors of War.

We are stationed in a small Italian town which possesses an inordinate number of bell towers. They chime the hours and the quarters with a persistence akin to that of a hungry mosquito, and about 12 o'clock the town sounds like New Year's eve in a carillon factory. Around 4 in the morning they ring for 15 minutes at a crack.

I once had the privilege of seeing a bell ringer in action. I was on a rooftop in Sorrento, enjoying the view of the Bay of Naples, when a little man climbed up a series of stairs to the small tower in which two bells were hung. There was little of the artist in him, I judged; there was no smile of anticipation as he grasped the bell rope. He just took hold and walloped away, first one bell and then the other, accelerating gradually until the perspiration flying from his forehead made him look like a lawn sprinkler.

Abruptly, he quit and went downstairs. A few minutes later the bells began again, but this time the virtuoso was concealed from view, tugging on a long rope. No doubt he had learned that it didn't pay to be standing out in an exposed position where at any minute a well-aimed piece of tile roofing could come whizzing by to shear off his nose.

These impromptu jam sessions which wake me up in the small hours have wrought me to the point where I am launching the League for the Suppression of Italian Bell Ringers. Those interested may sign on the attached form.

STRAYED FIDDLER.

He came to us from night's deep mystery,
A fiddler strayed from La Bohême, to cling
To some sweet radiance that he could see
Held in its glow a song he could not sing.
He touched with yearning our protecting screen,
As tho to draw thru it that tender light
And put it on above his coat of green
For greater warmth against the un-tender night.
And for a moment, then, one voice was stilled,
Altho in all the trees around a throng
Of green cicadae kept the darkness filled
With insistent violins. His silenced song
Held the world's wistfulness, the aching theme

A Right to the Kisser.

The first American troops in Paris had quite a time for the first three or four days as all the women wanted to kiss them. It was quite a novelty at first, but after a guy has been kissed by 500 women of all ages it begins to get monotonous. Every time a guy stopped to draw breath and figure out whether he was on the Place Vendome or the Boulevard de l'Opera, he started a riot.

Later on our army nurses began to arrive, and a poor man I know who had watched his wife kiss G. I. Joes all week thought here ought to be his chance to welcome the glorious allies. So he went up to a nice little nurse and kissed her, whereat she knocked him on the back of his neck with one wallop. What a strange race, les Americains!

E. A. B. writes: "I have been told that widows of World War I. and this war are automatically entitled to a pension, yet a friend whose husband died after being discharged about three months ago told me she had been told she did not qualify because her husband had been discharged under section X. Can you explain this?"

About the only circumstances under which the widow's pension is "automatically" payable to a widow of either World War I. or II. is when the service man is killed in line of duty or dies after leaving service as the result of a service connected disability for which he is receiving or would be entitled to receive a minimum of $10 a month compensation. In such instances, the widow receives $50 a month. If the veteran has a service connected disability, but dies of other causes, the widow may receive $35 a month provided she does not receive in excess of $1,000 annually from other sources, if no one is dependent upon her, or $2,500 if she has dependents. Otherwise the widow receives nothing, but it is always advisable for her to file a claim anyway and let the veterans administration determine eligibility.

RETURNING SOLDIERS AND TROPICAL DISEASE.

ONE of the results of the Spanish-American war was that the United States became responsible for the Philippine Islands and the inhabitants thereof. Our medical men were then confronted with numerous new problems, including the abolition of Asiatic cholera, as well as various parasitic diseases.

But our woes were not confined to the islands alone. Citizen soldiers brought back with them a goodly number of cases of amebic dysentery. We have been fighting this malady ever since and the end is not yet. The causative organism, Entameba histolytica, has been firmly established in our midst. While the ailment is not widespread, an occasional outbreak will take a score of lives. At any rate, it is with us to stay and constant vigilance on the part of physicians, hospitals, and public health authorities is demanded.

What will happen when our present day warriors come back from the Pacific theater? One thing is certain—namely, we need not dread cholera. That "visitation" can be stamped out by merely applying the rules of good sanitation. We must, however, be more cautious in protecting ourselves against plague, virulent forms of malaria, and many tropical disorders. The very fact that we have not been forced to combat these afflictions means that our people will be extremely susceptible. In other words, immunity has not been established.

It has been urged that we are in little danger because the carriers of most of these conditions will not be found within the borders of the United States. Unfortunately the natural spreaders [secondary hosts] of many of these infections are already here. Furthermore allied species of insects may acquire the vermin readily and adapt themselves to their presence. Already a type of filaria, common in Africa, has appeared in southern Mexico and in Guatemala. The transmitting agent is the buffalo gnat. The chances are that we will all become more "bug" conscious. In consequence a reasonable expenditure for insecticides and screens will be in order.

As we know, fleas can live on contaminated rodents and thus transmit bubonic plague. Rats alone are not essential. The tiny jumpers can thrive on ground squirrels, woodchucks, chipmunks, and many similar animals.

We must be ready for the return of millions of service men some of whom, in the line of duty, have contracted infections which will relapse after they have been discharged. This is particularly likely with amebic dysentery and malaria. We have powerful and effective antidotes which can be employed, but it is the hidden or "sleeping" type which will give us the greatest amount of concern. Trouble may blaze forth almost without warning and become a possible focus for dissemination to others.

America has offered a shining example to the old world of what hygiene and sanitation can accomplish in the preservation of health. But this does not oblige us to accept alien diseases with complacency. We can erect barriers against them just as we would deny citizenship to known criminals from foreign shores. Thus each community in the land can foster understanding of the value of public health measures to the end that the population shall be safe.

Identification.

A news photographer at the American Legion convention spotted Mayor Kelly in secretive conversation with an unknown gentleman and snapped a picture. Then he went to the unknown quantity and asked his name. "Young man," the gentleman said, grinning from ear to ear, "I'm so glad to meet you. It's nice to meet some one who will deflate one's ego." His name was Truman.

Butterfly Nets at War.

If the Chicago Museum of Natural History [née, the Field Museum] were staffed by men past 40, it probably wouldn't be getting a bit of good out of this war. As it is, it is doing nicely, thank you. About half its staff has gone to war, and what do you suppose those gentlemen are doing on the field of battle? Collecting beetles and bugs and sending them home to the marble hall on Chicago's lake front.

None of those words is uttered in jest. One boy from the museum was struggling thru barbed wire on his hands and knees, shells whizzing overhead, when his avaricious eye, being then at an altitude 10 inches from the ground, detected some rare beetles and snail shells. He paused long and carefully while he put them in his pockets.

Another, a medical corpsman in the Solomons who has been on Guadalcanal, Rendova, New Georgia, and the Russell Islands, has sent back a collection so extensive that for the first time it makes possible an accurate study of Solomon Islands fauna as a whole. His one regret is that he learned of some interesting caves he wants to visit, but unfortunately they are in Jap territory, and the trails to them are mined. But he is still optimistic. "I'll get in them as soon as the Japs get out," he promised.

Nothing is too small or too large for this indefatigable naturalist. His findings range from hideous eight inch centipedes to five birds, including three new to the museum's collection. You'll be surprised to know that one of the birds he sent home was a starling. It is not our starling, altho it is about the same size. Nor is it a nuisance there. The forests are too dense.

One of his prize catches was a large lizard with a prehensile tail, the only lizard to have this tree-swinging appendage. As such, it may be considered an FFV of tropical lizards, weighted down by its hallmark of respectability. With it the museum now has a complete lizard series, enough to make skeletons and study the evolution of the lizard's anatomy.

Another man specializes in minute beetles, so small that hundreds can be gathered in one vial. They live in debris and fungi and are known as the feather-winged beetle, but just what his tremendous collection means, if anything, no one at the museum knows. It is too short-handed to do anything more than label the vials and file them away for the beetleman's return.

A naval lieutenant, apparently stationed at Dutch Harbor on Amaknak Island, a man never connected with the museum, has sent in a treasure trove of Aleut [pronounced alley-oot] and pre-Aleut artifacts. In his spare time this gentleman digs in the middens. When he doesn't dig, the bulldozers do, and he wanders in their wake and picks up the gleanings. Several old village sites have been unearthed, and from them have come stone lamps, stone bowls, bone harpoon and lance heads, bone wedges for splitting driftwood, chipped flint knives, and ornaments. Many are thought to be 1,500 to 2,000 years old.

So far no one has sent in any butterflies, but hundreds of men stationed in the Pacific have written asking for information on the brilliant butterflies they see there. To answer these and other questions, the American Museum of Natural History and Karl P. Schmidt, curator of zoölogy here, worked up a book, "The Pacific World," which already is selling like a popular novel. Its first service edition was 100,000 copies. The museum is amazed by it all. People at last are interested in the world they live in, perhaps because for many of them that world is so close to death.

A PLANNED CRISIS IN ITALY?

Aurora, Ill., Sept, 13.—Recently, I read a story in The Tribune relating to the critical food situation in Italy. From other similar items appearing in various publications it is very apparent that a condition is existing in Italy which is steadily becoming more acute, and which promises to burst out into an ugly episode in the very near future.

There arises in my mind the question as to whether or not this might not be a planned crisis, with the thought that the Italian people in their misery might turn toward communism, hoping that something better [and certainly nothing worse] might accrue to them. Italy is predominantly Catholic, and the Catholic church and Catholics are violently opposed to communism. No easier way could be adopted by communist agents working under cover to so force a nation of people to rise against a semblance of order thru terroristic and communistic uprisings and incidentals than by starving them, especially if there are implied promises of something better.

CANADA'S GAS RATION.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Did you know Canadian pleasure cars are allowed 120 gallons of our gas a year against the 96 gallons we get? They can get it all at one time, so they can make long pleasure trips and apparently have no trouble getting B and C cards if they want them. Did you know that while we shoe the British empire and go barefoot, there is no rationing on Canadian shoes or on much of anything else; that meals on diners and hotels cost about half what is charged here where we are blessed [?] with an OPA. We are the prize boobs of all creation. As Mr. Roosevelt promises to continue to be an international Santa Claus, it looks to me as if a vote for Roosevelt was a vote for rationing for all eternity.

"ABSENT ON THE FIELD OF DUTY."

Warsaw, Ill., Sept. 11.—According to today's Tribune, Stalin declined to meet Churchill and Roosevelt in Quebec, and Secretary Early stated that they wanted it known they "thoroly understood he was properly absent on the field of duty."

Is this a rule which works only one way? Lots of us would feel better if we honestly believed and thoroly understood that our commander in chief was "properly absent on the field of duty!"

THIS TIME IT'S A BUST.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—In 1940, the New Deal peddled unwanted books at $250 a copy, and prospects had to buy them or else. This year it is a bust of Roosevelt. No doubt these busts may be obtained from trash cans for nothing after Nov. 7.

RUSSIAN AID AGAINST JAPAN.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Sen. Pepper says that Russian participation in the war against Japan depends on the November election. Isn't this the same contemptible interventionist who said we could slap Japan and her straw buildings down in 24 hours?

Now he admits it not an easy task and Russian help will be needed, but our country can't get this help unless a Democrat is elected. Isn't our country entitled to some help from Russia for our lend-lease aid to her, or is President Roosevelt personally giving this aid? Are the Democrats so miserably set up that they would block Russian aid against Japan if a Republican President was elected?

WANTS DEMOBILIZATION PLAN WITHDRAWN.

Camp Barkeley, Tex., Sept. 10.—The recently announced military demobilization program has not been as well received by the army as some opinion would indicate. It would seem that many considerations other than those announced should be given appropriate weight in any demobilization plan. Factors involving age, individual financial and physical hardship, and ready economic absorption are some important aspects that have been overlooked.

The discharge credits obtained by a computation of combat months together with other "points" unduly discriminate against the older men who were given no opportunity for combat service, but were retained for menial tasks within the United States. The plan for demobilization should be withdrawn for further study in order to render it equitable and harmonious.

WHITE HOUSE GETS SURPLUS PROPERTY BILL

Reconversion Measure Also Passes Senate.

BY PHILIP DODD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—By unanimous voice votes, the senate today passed bills providing for the disposal of an estimated 100 billion dollars worth of surplus war materials and for post-war reconversion of industry. The house is expected to act on the reconversion measure tomorrow, having passed the surplus property bill yesterday. The surplus bill now goes to the White House.

Passage of the two bills by the senate moved congress another step nearer a recess until after the Nov. 7 elections. No other major legislation is pending and congressional leaders have had difficulty in keeping bare quorums in town, with the entire house and one-third of the senate facing 1944 election battles.

Debt Reduction Plan Killed.

A prolonged battle was threatened over the surplus property bill in the closing minutes of the senate session tonight when Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.] objected to deletion by the senate and house conferees of an amendment stipulating that all funds realized from the sale of surplus properties be applied toward reduction of the national debt.

Wherry said the amendment, which he had introduced in the senate and Rep. Herter [R., Mass.] had introduced in the house, had been passed by both houses when the surplus property bill was previously considered. The treasury department had objected, he said, and the house-senate conferees had dropped the amendment when the bill was redrafted.

"This amendment was put in to make the country debt conscious and to take away from the executive departments the temptation to grab these funds for their own purposes," Wherry declared. "If we don't take steps now to reduce the staggering national debt, which may soon reach 300 billion dollars, the government's credit will be ruined."

Cites Senate Rules.

Wherry told the senate that under the senate rules he could insist the bill be sent back to conference, but did not insist on such action. The rule he cited provides that a conference between the two houses cannot remove from bills provisions adopted by both houses.

The surplus property bill sets up a three man board to administer the sale of surplus property. It forbids discrimination against small businesses in the sale of surpluses and gives former owners priority in the purchase of real estate purchased by the government for war purposes.

Other provisions of the bill require the board to report to congress proposed dispositions of government-owned war plants costing more than 5 million dollars. Sales would not be permitted until 30 days after such reports. Aircraft plants, shipyards, and transportation facilities were exempted from the restriction, however.

To Stockpile Raw Materials.

The bill also provided for the stockpiling for one year of minerals and metals declared surplus by the army-navy munitions board.

It was passed after Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] asked assurance that the three member board setup was "in no sense a vote of no confidence" in Surplus Property Administrator Clayton, who advocated one man control as provided in the original house bill. Clayton recently asserted he could not serve under the pending legislation.

The reconversion bill was reported to the senate by Sen. George [D., Ga.] after the conferees had met this morning and agreed to the house action of yesterday in knocking out provisions for unemployment compensation for 3,100,000 federal employes and for travel pay for discharged war workers returning to their homes.

The reconversion bill sets up an office of war mobilization and reconversion to coördinate the activities of all federal agencies dealing with the problem. It authorizes the federal government to make loans to the various states, if needed, to pay unemployment benefits to jobless workers during the reconversion period.

REVEAL UNRRA PLANS TO BUY LOCOMOTIVES

Submits Request for Motorcycles Also.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 19.—The locomotive took its place today with the quart of milk Vice President Wallace wishes to deliver daily to the doorstep of every resident of the world. UNRRA, the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, is secretly preparing to buy locomotives for Europe.

UNRRA didn't announce it, but it was disclosed when representatives of the combined British, American, and Canadian boards which control war supplies reported to the UNRRA conference on UNRRA's request for permission to begin buying the engines, a fleet of motorcycles, and other products.

Asked as Replacements.

UNRRA spokesmen declined to tell how many locomotives they plan to buy, but it was reported that they are intended to replace engines destroyed in war and to haul UNRRA supplies.

The combined boards didn't pass on UNRRA's requisition for locomotives, but said it was being considered. UNRRA was granted permission, however, to buy the motorcycles if it can get them. They are to be used to speed medical and other supplies over the war torn lands.

The reason for UNRRA secrecy on its purchasing plans, it was learned, is that UNRRA doesn't wish the news to appear until the combined boards have acted.

O. K. Farm Machinery Purchase.

The combined boards have now given their approval to the UNRRA farm machinery program, on condition that the United States meets 70 per cent of the cost and England and Canada each 15 per cent.

The combined boards informed the UNRRA that its requests to buy clothing and textiles for the first six months after the war total these proportions of the combined annual production of the United States and England; woolen woven goods, 69 per cent; cotton woven goods, 8 per cent; knit goods, 29 per cent.

The boards' report commented that UNRRA had requested very little rayon, altho rayon is a good substitute for cotton, even if higher priced.

UNRRA was authorized to buy 13 million pairs of shoes. It asked 78,500,000.

O. K. Meat Purchases.

Permission was granted to buy 100 million pounds of canned meat and 100 million pounds of fat backs [pork cuts]. But the boards commented that UNRRA had requested no share of the plentiful supply of dried eggs and suggested it be used to supplement meat.

UNRRA, meanwhile, received a disturbing report from military authorities. While UNRRA has been holding international conferences, the army has been quietly administering relief in liberated countries.

The reporting officers were Maj. Gen. Glen E. Edgerton and Lt. Gen. G. N. MacReady, American and British representatives, respectively, on the American and British combined chiefs of staff.

60 War Plant Strikers Vote to Resume Work

Urged by Lt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, 60 employes on strike at two plants of Clawson & Bals, Inc., 4701 Lake st. and 2508 Michigan av., yesterday voted to return to work immediately. The strikers, who are members of the CIO Steel Workers union, left their jobs last Thursday, in protest against the company's refusal to sign a contract including provisions still to be determined by the war labor board.

OPA CEILING PRICES ON FRESH FRUIT AND VEGETABLES LOWER

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices under weekly community ceilings will drop sharply tomorrow, the office of price administration said yesterday. Dry onions will be 8 cents lower at three pounds for 15 and 17 cents; white potatoes will be 23 cents for five pounds of United States size A's, off 5 cents; sweet potatoes will go down 5 cents to two pounds for 17 cents; peas will be cut 2 cents a pound to 20 cents; and topped bulk carrots will drop a cent to 6½ cents a pound. Tomatoes were taken off the list, Marion W. Isbell, area director, said, because they are selling at under ceiling prices; apricots were removed from price control because there are no supplies, and cabbage was removed from the list for the rest of this month.

Quack's Sentence Upheld by State Supreme Court

A 90 day jail sentence and $500 fine imposed upon A. Fred Kabana, notorious medical quack, last March 4 in County court were upheld yesterday by the State Supreme court in Springfield. Kabana was found guilty by Judge Don Scott of Saline county of violating the medical practice act.

TWO BROTHERS IN SEDITION CASE HERE GO AWOL

Federal and military authorities yesterday were searching for Walter F. Bober, 26, a radio technician, and his brother, Raymond, 23, both army privates who are AWOL from Camp Wheeler, Ga., and Camp Lee, Va., respectively. Walter was freed in federal court here last June on a sedition charge which grew out of a letter he wrote to Raymond, urging that he desert the army and that the two make their way to Germany.

W. F. Bober.

Because the United States Supreme court threw out a sedition case whose legal aspects were similar to the Bober case, Federal Judge William J. Campbell ruled it was his "painful duty" to dismiss Bober.

Shortly afterward, Bober was inducted and the prosecution did not appeal Judge Campbell's ruling. United States Atty. Woll said yesterday, however, the case may now be reopened. The brothers disappeared from their camps Sept. 7 and 8, renting a car in Macon, Ga. It later was found wrecked near Dalton, Ga.

WLB LIFTS BAN ON YULE BONUS OF $25 OR LESS

The war labor board has amended its regulations to provide that an employer may pay a Christmas or year-end bonus of $25 or less to each of his employes without WLB approval, regardless of whether such bonuses have been paid in the past, Edgar L. Warren, regional chairman, said yesterday. The WLB, he said, also, directed that stock exchange firms which paid year-end bonuses for 1943 in excess of those paid the preceding years may not use such payments as a basis for making similar payments for 1944.

Apology for Success

Blackie:

"I'm afraid we won't be able to take care of all of our friends, Whitey."

Whitey:

"Don't worry, Blackie, most of them will come back when BLACK & WHITE becomes plentiful again!"

Americans always will stand in line to get a superior product. That's why BLACK & WHITE simply cannot supply the demand today. As a result, we may lose some of our friends, temporarily—but we share Whitey's faith in the ultimate reunion—and we hope it won't be too long before there will be enough BLACK & WHITE to go around.

THE SAILOR ON FLIGHT 3*

2:00 a.m. . . . Again the United Mainliner stewardess studied the young sailor. He seemed restless; his face was flushed.

"Are you well?" she asked with concern.

Nevertheless she gave him a blanket. She watched him as the miles slipped past. Lights were dimmed. Passengers slept. Westward the Mainliner flew . . . Des Moines . . . Omaha . . .

The girl kept vigil. She checked his temperature and pulse. Rising! 4:00 a.m. . . . North Platte . . . He was asking for water . . . 5:10 a.m. . . . Pulse fast. Temperature over 102! This lad is ill, she knew. Yet, loyally, he insisted he must continue on to his base in California. Impossible! He was getting worse!

She called the pilot. A moment later he was talking on the two-way radio, his urgent words flashing through the night: "Flight 3 calling Denver . . ."

That boy had pneumonia. At Denver everything was in readiness. An ambulance rushed the young sailor to the hospital. Naval authorities were notified.

Considering the welfare of its passengers is the duty of United. But here was an incident in which a stewardess's human and sympathetic understanding sprang from something far deeper than merely following company rules. For at Denver she was now off duty. The boy was on the way to a hospital. Her job was done.

But no! She had to be certain that he received the finest possible attention. So she rode in the ambulance with him. Another thought troubled her. His family! She visualized their anxiety when they heard that their son, miles away and alone, was seriously ill.

So she wrote them detailed letters, reporting everything, cheering them when the boy was finally past danger. Only then did she feel free to mark the case closed.

The father wrote us: "Service such as this is over and above the line of duty. My wife and I are most thankful that Bob was traveling via United Air Lines when this emergency occurred."

Service? Yes, but something more. You'll find it in the thoughtful attention and cooperation offered by every United employee . . . the underlying spirit of United Air Lines itself!

NO FURTHER CUTS IN NEWSPRINT USE PLANNED THIS YEAR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Chairman Boren [D., Okla.] of a house subcommittee investigating the newsprint shortage announced today "there will be no further cuts in usage of newsprint" by newspapers in this country during the fourth quarter of this year.

Because newsprint usage during the fourth quarter is heavy, Boren said, WPB is taking steps to permit withdrawals from inventories in the hands of publishers in order to meet the difference between the new supply and the authorized usage for the fourth quarter.

Mail Service Used by Drake Case Figure.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Existence of a type of correspondence course whereby convicts receive latest decisions of courts on criminal appeals was disclosed yesterday as authorities prepared to remove Walter Brown, a lifer, from Stateville prison to Bloomington, Ill., on his self-prepared petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Brown is an important figure in the investigation of the murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams, who was shot to death by a "woman in black" in her Drake hotel room last Jan. 19. He has identified the murder gun as one he owned in 1933. He says he gave it to Adolph Valanis, a Chicago policeman. Valanis denies this. Valanis' sister, Mrs. Ellen Bennett, a former key clerk at the Drake, was requestioned as a result of Brown's story.

Begin Digging Today.

Today, Charles M. Wilson, director of the Chicago police crime detection laboratory, and a police detail will start digging on a farm plot near Bloomington for bullets Brown says he fired from the murder gun into the ground 11 years ago. It is expected that Brown personally will assist in the search en route to the Bloomington hearing, set for 11 a. m. Friday.

Brown's habeas corpus petition covered 19 typewritten pages, and contained such legalistic terminology as "attorney pro se," "forma pauperis," and "writ of error coram nobis." Some knowledge of law was indicated. There is no secret about it, explained Warden Joseph E. Ragen; many convicts become "prison lawyers."

Prisoners Buy Service.

A law publishing house, he said, has developed a voluminous business by sending to convicts for a fee—it is legal—latest decisions from federal and state appellate courts dealing with appeals from criminal convictions. These are called citations. Thousands of convicts thruout the country subscribe to the service, seeking loopholes thru which they may gain freedom. Some have suceeded, one even from the dread Alcatraz prison. Brown owns hundreds of these citations; most concern murder cases, since he is under sentence for the murder of a McLean county deputy sheriff.

Brown prepared his writ from such citations. Thruout he cited statutes and opinions. Specifically, he charged he did not receive a fair trial, that his worst offense was manslaughter. The petition was filed by his mother before Judge W. C. Radliff at Bloomington. Judge Radliff issued the writ after a conference with State's Atty. Clifford N. Coolidge of McLean county, and promised Convict Brown his "day in court" Friday.

IT'LL BE A LANDSLIDE FOR THE DEMOCRATS, COURTNEY PREDICTS

Canton, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP).—Thomas J. Courtney, Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, today said Illinois will be "overwhelmingly Democratic" in the Nov. 7 election and predicted a "sweeping victory for the entire Democratic ticket and President Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Appearing here on a campaign tour of counties, Courtney said the people of Illinois are determined "to restore good government" to the state. He charged Gov. Green has "repudiated every promise made as a candidate four years ago," declaring Green had promised to take the sales tax off food, increase old age pensions, eliminate unnecessary state jobs, and reduce taxes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt favors legislation for government financing of trips by mothers and other near relatives to the graves of service men killed abroad, Majority Leader McCormack [D., Mass.] told the house today.

McCormack read the house a letter sent him by the President Sept. 15, stating such legislation would be "desirable" at the "appropriate time."

The Democratic leader said he received the letter after showing Mr. Roosevelt a suggestion from Mrs. Catherine Sheehan, mother in South Boston, Mass., that the government finance such trips to foreign graves. Mrs. Sheehan's son, John, has been killed in action, McCormack said.

OPA PANEL QUITS IN PROTEST OVER 'SNOOPING' PLAN

Danville Board Rejects 'Gestapo' Policy.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 19 [Special].—To snoop or not to snoop—that is the issue which has provoked a crisis in the rationing program in Vermilion county. The Springfield district headquarters of the office of price administration, which advocates snooping, has cracked down on the local board by kicking out its anti-snooping price panel and firing a civil service clerk.

The situation became public today when former members of the price panel told of a stormy session at the board offices yesterday afternoon in which P. E. Rush, president of the Vermilion County Food Dealers' association and a member of the board's food panel, quit the board after an argument with C. H. Padgett, operations executive for the district board.

"I cannot conscientiously serve on the board and still be an American," Rush was quoted as telling Padgett. He was said to have invited Padgett to "step outside and settle things man to man" after an alleged threat by Padgett to bar the discharged clerk, Miss Catherine Davis, from future government employment if she appealed the discharge order.

Snooper Proposal Spurned.

The snooping issue came into the open last Wednesday, it was said, when 400 merchants of the county attended a meeting called by Dr. H. K. Allen, price executive of the district office, who sought their approval of what he called "price panel assistants," but which the merchants and the price panel members termed snoopers.

The meeting broke up in disorder, it was reported, after several merchants had denounced the OPA plan as an attempt to impose gestapo rule on the county.

Two days later, Miss Davis, who has been in charge of clerical work for the price panel, was fired on orders from Springfield. Her discharge brought such vehement protests that the entire panel was forced out of office.

The panel was an eight man body composed of Glenn T. Smith, chairman; Lou Deutsch, clothier; M. M. Dewey, store manager; C. H. Schloley, store manager; Arthur Ashwell, liquor dealer; John C. Funk, purchasing agent for a fuel company; Harry Reuther, truck company manager, all of Danville, and John Lutchka, Westville merchant.

One Ousted, Seven Quit.

Smith said today that Padgett demanded his resignation at yesterday's session, and the other seven members then resigned. He said the session was held primarily to protest the discharge of Miss Davis, and Padgett resented the panel's refusal to concur with the district office on the matter.

"The girl is efficient in our estimation," Smith said. "She is the oldest employe of the board, having served 2½ years. We asked Padgett what would happen if we testified for her at a civil hearing, and he assured us the OPA would take steps to see that the girl would never get another civil service job."

Smith and Rush said they did not know what the district office had against Miss Davis. They asserted that only a few weeks ago that office had recommended her for the job as chief clerk, which she turned down to continue her work with the price panel. Other members of the panel said they had the impression that Springfield officials felt she was "too friendly" with merchants and unsympathetic to the use of snoopers.

Plans Appeal.

At her home today Miss Davis said she will file an appeal from her discharge tomorrow. This step will lead to a civil service commission hearing at which the OPA will be required to produce evidence of specific violations of regulations.

Carter Jenkins, Springfield district OPA director, issued a statement in Springfield today explaining that Miss Davis had been discharged for "failure to discharge her responsibilities and duties in accordance with established policies and procedures."

Jenkins also accused Smith of "failure to comply with national policies and procedure relative to the price control program."

Smith said the only order from the district office which the price panel has failed to comply with was an order to name "price panel assistants" to ferret out local violations. He said he had interviewed more than 100 persons without success in an effort to enroll such investigators.

"The work of the price panel will continue uninterruptedly and new members will be appointed within a short time," Jenkins said.

Protest Snooper Plan.

Persons who attended Wednesday's courthouse meeting, in which Dr. Allen tried to convince merchants that snooping was necessary, said the price executive lost control of the meeting in a wave of protests from merchants.

"We've got 100 per cent compliance with rationing regulations in this county and we don't need an army of snoopers to get things upset," said Ernest Paxton, manager of a chain grocery concern.

Sam McKendree, dry cleaner, asserted, "This is plain Gestapo tactics. Why do we want people spying on each other when things are going all right?"

Other merchants expressed similar ideas, it was said, with applause greeting their remarks. Dr. Allen then adjourned the session.

JOHN THOMPSON, FAMED PASTOR IN LOOP, DIES AT 82

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Dr. John Thompson, 82, builder of Chicago temple, 77 W. Washington st., died early yesterday in Wesley Memorial hospital. Known as "the shepherd of the loop" during the 21 years he was pastor of First Methodist church, Chicago temple, Dr. Thompson was for many years one of the best known public figures in the city.

Dr. John Thompson.

Dr. Thompson was known in newspaper circles as "a newspaper man's man." In other words, he was always alert to the currents of public attention and was able to gear his preaching to them. His congregations in Chicago temple for many years far outnumbered the formal membership of First church.

Views on Divorce.

When his denomination, with other communions, defined marriage as indissoluble; that any divorce, except, perhaps, on grounds of adultery, was against the law of the church, Dr. Thompson said:

"The church has placed her guardian angel at the exit of the marriage Eden, but has forgotten to place any at the entrance. A marriage certificate may sometimes mean legalized vice. Jesus did not prohibit divorce as we know it. If He were here today he might recognize more than one ground for divorce."

Born in England.

Dr. Thompson was born in Nenthead, Cumberland county, England. Part of his education was earned in that country prior to his coming in 1893 to the United States, where he was graduated from Northwestern university and Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston. He is survived by his widow, Ruth; a son, Howard of Kaycee, Wyo., and a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Gamon of Wheaton.

Services will be at 10 a. m. Friday in Chicago temple, of which he had been pastor emeritus since 1941. Dr. Fred Stone, 740 Rush st., will be in charge of services.

CIO STEWARD'S BOND $15,000 IN RAPE CASE

Denies Girl's Story and Unnatural Act.

Howard McGarvey, 36, of 6129 S. Rockwell st., a chief steward of the CIO United Automobile Workers union at the Studebaker corporation, yesterday was held to the grand jury in bonds totaling $15,000 by Judge William V. Daly in Felony court, where he was arraigned on charges of raping a young woman and of committing an unnatural offense against a 14 year old boy.

McGarvey scowled when newspaper photographers attempted to take his picture, and his attorney, John Simpson, objected, saying that his client was a CIO steward and that the published photographs would not be advantageous to McGarvey.

Threatened with Knife.

McGarvey was arrested Monday in his apartment, where his accuser, Miss Helen Antoni, 18, of 3131 W. 131st st., said he had forced her at the point of a knife to accompany him.

She had been waiting for a street car early Monday at Bell av. and 64th st., Miss Antoni said, when McGarvey thrust a knife against her and compelled her to enter a near-by alley. There, she said, he blindfolded her and forced her to go to his room.

Tells of Escape.

In his apartment, the young woman said, McGarvey disrobed and attacked her. She said she escaped by locking McGarvey in the bathroom and seeking refuge in the bathroom and seeking refuge in another apartment from a woman who loaned her a bathrobe and summoned police. McGarvey, police said, denied raping the woman, and said that she accompanied him willingly.

The complaint of the boy was placed against McGarvey during investigation of that lodged by Miss Antoni because his description tallied with that of a man who annoyed the youth. The boy said that his assailant also threatened him with a knife and forced him to accompany him to a near-by basement. McGarvey also denied the offense against the boy.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS ABSENTEE DIVORCES LEGAL

A rule of Superior and Circuit courts of Cook county that plaintiffs must be present in court at divorce hearings was invalidated yesterday by an Illinois Supreme court opinion.

The Supreme court held that the rule of the Cook county courts contravenes the Illinois divorce act and burdens litigants beyond the extent prescribed by the statute.

Judge here expressed fear that the opinion may open the way for fraud and abuses in divorce suits. The rule requiring personal appearances of plaintiffs, they recalled, was adopted more than 30 years ago to eliminate the cause of many scandals arising from divorce hearings in the private chambers of masters in chancery.

The Supreme court opinion was given in an appeal filed in behalf of Frederick Kinsley, a soldier in Italy, who had been refused a divorce by Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court last January because he did not appear in court.

Atty. Leo Bartoline of Chicago, representing the Illinois Bar association, led the fight to admit depositions for soldiers and sailors seeking divorces in Cook county courts. The Supreme court decision sustained his position. Bartoline said the bar will see to it that soldiers are represented in divorce actions.

STRIKE ON TWO SUBURBAN LINES HALTED BY F. D. R.

A threatened strike of 600 trainmen and operating employes of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad and the Aurora and Elgin railroad scheduled for 4 a. m. this morning was averted yesterday when President Roosevelt ordered an emergency mediation board to investigate the dispute.

This board was named: Justice Herbert B. Rudolph of the South Dakota Supreme court, Justice Ernest M. Tipton of the Missouri Supreme court, and William H. Spencer, dean of the University of Chicago school of business and regional war man power director in Chicago.

This order automatically "froze" the dispute for 60 days. J. A. Zanger, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Daniel D. Miller, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said a "status quo" would be maintained until after deliberations and the report of the special board was made.

The railroad companies have refused to grant a 9 cent an hour increase because a 14 cents an hour increase were granted to the employes in March.

MINERS CHARGE 'A ROTTEN DEAL' BY NEW DEALERS

Tell Ickes to 'Lay Off' Annoying Them.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 19 (AP).—The United Mine Workers, replying to an appeal by Interior Secretary Ickes for aid in preventing strikes by coal mine supervisors, asserted today that "it would be a rare act of sportsmanship on the part of the Roosevelt administration to lay off us until after the election."

The Technical and Supervisory Employes' union, a unit of UMW's district 50, is "getting a rotten deal from the government," said the reply, which objected also to the omission of an individual signature. "We are not sure," the reply said, "the telegram was not written by Abe Fortas, who, as you know, is evilly disposed toward coal miners and is our cold and calculating enemy." Fortas is undersecretary of the interior.

Blame New Deal Agencies.

"We note," the UMW reply continued, "what the message says about the legal strike of supervisors at certain mines. We have been trying to be helpful on this matter; and our officers, too.

"The trouble, as you know, is the pulling and hauling of the various government agencies, all at cross purposes and each issuing orders that conflict with the other. We think one of the main troubles is that Park avenue fellow, the big industry patent man, named Davis, who always has his knife out for our union and our officers. [This refers to William H. Davis, chairman of the war labor board.]

"He is always having the President sign something which causes more trouble. The clerical, technical, and supervisory employes in the mines are getting a rotten deal from the government. This, of course, follows the rotten deal which the government gave to all the coal miners in 1943 and 1944.

Told to "Lay Off."

"Why don't you ask the President to order Fortas, Hopkins, Frankfurter, Byrnes, Vinson, and the Park avenue patent fellow to lay off us for awhile, at least until after election?

"We know it would be a rare act of sportsmanship on the part of the Roosevelt administration to lay off us until after the election, but we would like you to try it once. You know, Mr. Secretary of the Interior, the coal miners are doing a job producing coal to win the war; they are buying bonds, too. We hope you will study the record on these facts.

"With nearly 300,000 less men employed in the anthracite and the bituminous industries, we will produce this year nearly 45 million tons more than was produced in the war year of 1918."

Safer Conditions Asked.

The miners' reply then went into a detailed discussion of coal mine casualties and called upon the government to give the miners better assurances of safety in the mines taken over by the government.

"We urge you to order a rigid forthwith inspection of each coal mine which the government has pretended to seize," it said.

The convention approved, with mild protest, a committee proposal to defer the next constitutional convention until October, 1948. The miners will hold a convention in 1946 but will not be able to amend the constitution until two years later.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By BEN MARKLAND

Sept. 19, 1944.

THE trees in the arboretum of the Wheaton farm provide a meeting place for all the birds of the area, and the robins seem especially active in the daily conventions on the grounds. Many of the trees and shrubs in the arboretum produce berries and fruits that provide sumptuous desserts for the birds, so at this time of the year they stick pretty close not to miss any special treats.

Last week, for example, the robins discovered the mountain ash tree supporting a full supply of orange-red berries. One or two of the explorers in the robin flock sampled the berries, evidently found them satisfactory despite their bitterness, and called the rest of the gang. In just one day the birds stripped the small tree of its fruit, leaving it like a Christmas tree without ornaments.

Eat Pears for Dessert.

After disposing of the ash berries, the robin congregation gathered on the ground under two Seckel pears trees that had dropped some of their small, sweet fruits. The birds had a fruit diet that day.

The robins used good judgment in following their raid on the ash with a visit to the pear trees. The ash berries have a bitter, acid taste that probably was counter-balanced by the sweetness of the Seckel pears.

Bird Taste a Puzzle.

If the birds want to return to a diet of fruits with a tang, they should try the ornamental crab trees growing in the arboretum. Several of these specimens, known mainly for their beautiful spring blossoms, are showing fruits that should interest the birds.

The Eley crab tree has large red "apples" with scarlet colored flesh and a taste far superior to that of the common wild crab. Near-by, an Aldenham crab supports a full load of russet colored fruits, and an Arnold crab is exhibiting hundreds of small yellow pomes about the size of thorn apples.

It's difficult to understand why some bird species feed on fruits that are so distasteful to humans. The mountain ash berries fall in this class, as well as the fruits of the high-bush cranberry and some of the other viburnums, yet they are consumed regularly by robins and other birds.

★ The GARDEN ★

A VEGETABLE that deserves wider planting in Illinois gardens next season is Chinese cabbage. Gardeners who planted seeds of this vegetable in mid-July now are harvesting mature heads for use in salads and for cooking as greens.

Despite its name, Chinese cabbage is a member of the mustard group rather than the cabbage family. It is easily grown, if planted from the first thru the third week of July to mature in September. It needs a fairly rich soil and a constant supply of ground moisture; it rarely is attacked by insects. Pe-Tsai variety is most commonly grown in this area, producing a solid head 12 to 15 inches tall. Chihli is similar to Pe-Tsai in growth habit, and Wong Bok produces a shorter, heavier head.

Chinese cabbage needs a cool weather maturity period, therefore should not be planted directly in the row in this area in the spring. It can be started in a hotbed three to four weeks before transplanting to the garden row.

HOW CHICAGOAN SAVED BUDDY IN ITALY REVEALED

The story of a Chicagoan who saved the life of a fellow soldier in the 34th [Red Bull] infantry division with the 5th army in Italy was released by censors yesterday. The Chicagoan is Pvt. Covel B. Bellis, whose wife, Laurena, lives at 431 Belden av.

Bellis was unloading shells and gasoline in a farm yard when German shells scored a direct hit on one of the trucks. The driver, seated at the wheel, was struck by fragments and his clothing was fired by burning gasoline. A pile of chemical mortar shells stacked near the truck ignited and filled the air with acrid phosphorus fumes.

Crawling on his stomach to the stricken man, Bellis ripped off his field jacket and tried to smother the flames. Unsuccessful, he rushed across the illuminated court yard, obtained water and extinguished the flames. He then carried the victim into a near-by building and gave him first aid until help arrived. Bellis, 31, entered the army in February, 1943, and went overseas in July of the same year.

The Line Is Busy...

You don't hear much about him . . .

When the front moves up, the Army Signal Corpsman is in there where the fighting's thickest . . . dodging machine-gun slugs and mortar bursts . . . stringing phone wires across the battered face of Europe . . . keeping foxhole outposts in constant touch with headquarters behind the lines.

And because of his quiet courage and cool-headed skill under fire, the Army's lines of communication keep busy . . . and keep going forward with every step our fighting men advance.

It's a job we of the railroads can appreciate and understand. For today our lines are busy, too . . . busier than they have ever been before. And as Victory comes closer, they will be even busier . . . the job will grow even greater . . . for men and guns and fighting supplies must keep flowing in an ever-swelling stream to all our fighting fronts.

It's the biggest job the railroads of any nation have ever tackled. But we know now . . . with the continued cooperation of shippers and receivers of freight and of the traveling public . . . it will be done . . .

And we know, too, that—with final Victory at last in sight—the new skills and knowledge that we have found in the urgency of war must quickly be turned to our next great task . . . the job of helping speed industry's conversion to production for peace . . .

And that this new-found strength will make it possible for the New York Central—side by side with all the other railroads of the nation—to provide finer transportation for America than the world has ever known.

The Suspicious Parent Indeed Date Problem

ON THE SOLID SIDE

"I'm 16 years old and yet my father won't let me go out with boys. I have never gone out on the sly so I don't know why he doesn't trust me. I've been asked to dances at school but my father wouldn't let me go and the boys think it's because I don't want to go with them. My father should realize that it's not doing me any good not to go on dates; as it is I am bashful with most boys. Is there any way I can make him let me go out on dates once in a while?"

Many young gals have the same trouble—their parents don't approve of their dating, the girls aren't willing to talk the whole thing over, and the dating future looks dark. Why not try to settle the problem at once; after all, how long can a girl go on dreaming? Most high school gals are dutiful young characters and wouldn't go out without permission but they never think of asking for permission in black and white! Instead of just pulling a long sulk and moving into the Cinderella department, why not tell your mother and father where you would like to go, with whom, and about what time you expect to get home, and see what they have to say?

If they veto arrangements because you are too young [and they may be right!], ask them when they will consider you old enough and hold your fire till that birthday rolls round. To most dads it seems only yesterday since they were picking up rattles and rubber dolls and they can't quite believe that their honeychiles are out of pigtails and pinafores and ready to date.

You might try a more subtle approach by inviting your tall, dark, and handy over to your home for an evening before going out with him. Let your parents get to know your friends, then they will not feel that you are being trusted to "strangers." Try letting your parents in on your dating plans; you may be surprised at how much they will understand.

Open lead 10 of hearts.

The spirit of "do or die" may be applied with as much frequency at the card table as on the gridiron. There is almost no such thing as an impossible contract. Even on hands where there is no possible holding that will permit the fulfillment of the contract, there is sometimes the hope that the opponents may be induced to commit some error, that will turn an empty pipe dream into reality. It is just as much a thrill to win a hand by hypnotism as to obtain your end by a three suit squeeze. In fact many players would rather win by deception than by proper technique. One of the outstanding bridge players of the day takes special pride in the descriptive phrase that has been applied to him. "The best player of impossible contracts in the world."

There is this to be said for bad bidding, it makes for better play. If the bidding were perfect, fewer impossible contracts would be reached, and less ingenuity required in their execution. I know a player, who, having been complimented upon the manner in which he had been playing his hands, replied, if you will pardon his rhetoric, "The way my partners bid, I have to play good."

The bidding of today's hand is recorded as it took place. The four no trump bid was used a la Blackwood and all aces were accounted for. The little detail about checking up for a possible trump loser was given only slight consideration. When the dummy was spread it was evident that the fulfillment of the contract was mathematically impossible, because on any holding a trump trick must be lost. There was one remote chance and that was that East held the jack and two small trumps and not realizing that they amounted to a trump trick, could be induced to ruff in on a heart.

The 10 of hearts had been the opening lead, won in dummy with the king, and the ace played immediately. East fell into the trap by ruffing with the four. South overruffed with the nine and now the trumps fell together. It is conceded that East should have smelled something rotten. As long as he was trumping he might just as well have used the jack, which would have defeated the contract. But that does not deprive South of the glory of having found the only way to make the hand.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D. C., has instructed procurement officers to recruit women for a variety of new jobs in the SPARS, to do duty at shore stations and relieve men for sea service.

Lt. Dorothy Beckwith, senior SPAR recruiting officer in Chicago, has announced openings for women in radio repairing, cartography, drafting, photography, typewriter repairing, tailoring, and transportation.

Radio technicians will replace men assigned to ships. Approximately 70 SPARS will be stationed in radio repair shops for training as soon as women with the required background can be recruited or found already in the service.

Thirty SPAR radio technicians already have been assigned to shops in several naval districts, working at repair four hours a day and taking class work for another four.

Women with an art background and skilled thru experience in drawing charts and plotting maps and graphs are eligible for cartography billets, provided they have lettering ability. Civilian experience in drafting qualifies potential SPARS for assignment to the engineering division.

College majors in geography, geology, and geometry, who are able to work with charting maps, plotting buoy positions, and similar operations, are eligible for photographers' ratings. Women skilled in repairing typewriters and in tailoring, sewing, and fitting are sought for Coast Guard jobs of that type.

All candidates will have boot training at the SPAR training school in Palm Beach, Fla., before receiving special training and being assigned to shore stations, air bases, or district headquarters.

Chicago's participation in a campaign within the army 6th service command to recruit 6,000 WACs in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan will begin Monday with the help of division No. 5 of the Chicago metropolitan area office of civilian defense.

Illinois' quota is 3,000 new WACs. The Belmont-Cragin, Portage Park, and Belmont Heights units of OCD will open the Chicago campaign, to be followed in a few weeks by the Milwaukee-Armitage-Western, Wrightwood-Fullerton, and Greater Logan Square offices.

Capt. Robert E. Lynch Jr., officer commanding WAC procurement headquarters in Chicago, has announced the recruitment procedure. Block captains will submit names of prospective WACs and information about them, by checking cards supplied to OCD personnel by the army. OCD workers will not make personal contacts. WAC procurement staffs will follow the OCD leads by interviewing prospective enlistees.

A step toward relief of the war time shortage of nurses will be made today when 80 students enter training in St. Luke's hospital school of nursing. Twenty of the 80 are Chicagoans, and 77 have enrolled in the United States cadet nurse corps, in which students receive accelerated training and free tuition, lodging, board, uniforms, and allowances thru funds alloted by the Bolton law.

Good Parents Are Loyal to Their Children

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Would you take your child's word against that of a grownup?

In the old days I believe 99 adults out of 100 would have answered "No." "Take the word of a child against that of an adult? How disrespectful that would be, especially if they were face to face. And you know you can't depend upon children," and so forth and so on.

I wonder what the answer would be nowadays. I'd like to become an "inquiring reporter" and ask about a hundred parents. What would your answer be?

Let's suppose your neighbor, Mrs. Jameson, and yourself and Billy are involved in the matter of Mrs. Jameson's big pet begonia plant.

"Billy broke my plant, Mrs. Brown. I heard a ball hit the porch, and as I dashed to the window I saw Billy run," says your neighbor.

"O, Mother, I didn't break it. I ran past Mrs. Jameson's house but I didn't even throw that ball."

"Are you sure, Billy?" you ask.

"Yes, Mother, I'm sure. I wasn't even playing. It was . . ." Billy stops abruptly, not wanting to tell on another boy.

"Well I never! breaks in Mrs. Jameson. "Are you going to take that child's word against mine, against a grown woman?" And she bridles and grows red with anger.

"I'm afraid I'll have to, Mrs. Jameson," you answer, I hope. "I'm sure you must be mistaken because Billy always tells me the truth."

Now Mrs. Jameson may have been honestly mistaken. She probably was. She may have been willing to take a chance by jumping at conclusions. Or, she may have been malicious, a little spiteful, or a trifle jealous because your Billy doesn't get into trouble and her boy does.

Grown persons are not always kind or fair to children. Sometimes they are guilty of unworthy emotions and will try to "face a child down," having the advantage of being older, and also knowing that it is hard for a mother to turn down an adult neighbor, friend, or relative. For some it does require social courage to take a child's word against an adult's.

But you must take your child's word, believe him, be loyal to him before the world. If he can't depend upon your belief in him, on whose can he depend?

Thru the Looking Glass

This appears to be a transitional stage in hair fashions. And maybe that's a good thing, because it means that individuality has greater rein than it has in those seasons when all women go hell-bent for one style.

The one rule about which you can be certain is that the towering pompadour is, at this moment, a distinctly unfashionable fashion. It is true that a great many women adhere to it, but it is not chic. In many circles, as a matter of fact, the high pompadour and the flower in the hair are considered utterly dreadful. It's an example of a fashion that became so widely popular it became stereotyped, and the smart women who wore it and met their sisters of all shapes and sizes wearing the same thing have abandoned it with what amounts to a bang.

Since the fashion pendulum so often swings to extremes, the revolt against the towering pompadour is expressed by the flat-top coiffure, with hair sleek and even taut across the crown of the head It's a distinguished style for the woman who can wear it—usually the woman with smooth brow, beautiful hairline, regular features, and strong, perfect mouth and chin contour. It is a fashion made for the professional models. For less flawlessly endowed women it can be trying.

It is in a hair arrangement with interest centered somewhere between the boresome extreme of high, lacquered pompadour and the youthful flat top that most of us will find what is most becoming. A modified fringe on the forehead is good when the features demand it; a feather cut, which is ageless in effect, is also good. But we have a hunch that what most women will want this year is a line of modified height in front and at the sides, with hair off the neck in back for the mature and down in shining glory for the very young with slim, unlined necks.

Clothes Shop for Career Girl Wins Approval

BY REA SEEGER.

One of the city's smart specialty spots, a shop stocked with fashions for career girls, is celebrating its first anniversary. It is a favorite haunt for busy junior executives and for girls just starting out in the business world. It carries everything in smart office wear and clothes for fun after hours or for week-end parties.

Suits and office dresses are the shop's specialties. These trim tailored outfits are tremendously important in the scheme of things for every budding business girl. The suit collections are outstanding for streamlined perfection, for figure flattery, for tailored or not-so-tailored details, and for service day in and day out. The well known team of jacket and skirt are highlighted, with special emphasis on the mix and contrast assembling tricks.

Winter coats, the kind for day time as well as dress parade, are out in tempting arrays. Some have fur trim, others have swank, simple lines, collarless, and ready for fur scarf, fur muff, or fur lapels and buttons. Topcoats of classic simplicity come in tweed mixtures, in vivid colors, and in sane neutrals. All are slick and slim of silhouette, cut with the greatly appreciated flair for youth and look like a million dollars on any girl. Prices on these coats, in fact on all the attire in this shop, are reasonably well within the limits of the career girl's clothes allowance.

Engagement of Roxa Lee Is Disclosed

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHEN Miss Roxa Emmons Lee returns to Chicago after spending the summer at Woodchuck Knoll, Emmons farms, Oneonta, N. Y., she will be wearing an engagement ring. Today in the east Mrs. William George Lee of Astor st. is announcing the engagement of her daughter to Edmund Wallace Peakes, son of Gilbert E. Peakes of Weston, Mass.

As Miss Lee and her fiancé plan to be married in January shortly after he receives his commission as an ensign in the naval reserve, she will not return to Bryn Mawr college this fall but will spend the next few months in Chicago. Mr. Peakes will be graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology as an aeronautical engineer the end of October.

Miss Lee's sister, Miss Mary Alden Lee, who shared her debut tea at the Fortnightly club a year ago last winter, spent the summer in Mexico studying at the Escuela Universitaria de Bellas Artes at San Miguel de Allande. She will be in Chicago until Nov. 1, when she is returning to Radcliffe college for her senior year.

The youngest of the three sisters, Ruth, has entered Vassar college as a freshman, having postponed her debut until next year. The sisters' mother and grandmother, Mrs. Kendrick E. Morgan, expected to return from Oneonta the end of this month.

Other Engagement News.

Also of interest is the announcement Ezra Sherman Taylor of Winnetka is making of the engagement of his daughter, Harriet Adele, to Staff Sgt. William Byford-Brown of New York, now stationed at Camp McCoy, Wis. The wedding will take place next month.

Miss Taylor, who is a sixth generation Chicagoan, attended the University School for Girls and the Rhode Island School of Design at Providence, R. I. She was introduced to society at a tea-dance at the Woman's Athletic club a few seasons ago. Sgt. Byford-Brown, whose parents now live at Compass Lake, Fla., is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Brown of Wilmette. He attended the American Academy of Fine Arts. Miss Taylor has two brothers, E. Sherman Taylor Jr., engaged in war work in Washington, D. C., and Pvt. Stuart Sherman, stationed with the army at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harold Rutherford of Highland Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Bruce Irwin, son of Mrs. William Frederick Gerdes Jr. and of Macauley Irwin, both of Quincy, Ill. Miss Rutherford and Mr. Irwin met while students at the University of Arizona, at which both have completed two years. This fall they have entered Northwestern university.

It's Not Eat What We Like but Like What We Eat, 'Tis Found

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Science has looked into the American icebox and ventured the guess that "people like what they eat rather than eat what they like." The discovery, if confirmed, is considered of importance in long-range plans to upgrade Americans' diet.

To find the answers to such gustatory puzzles as why New Englanders eat cold baked beans for Sunday breakfast and why old time Louisianans relish wild bird eggs in their jambalaya, the committee on food habits of the National Research council is conducting a continuing survey of American eating customs.

The committee, set up in 1940 by President Roosevelt as part of a national program for improving nutritional standards, sent investigators into selected areas to ask folks what they ate and why they relish those particular victuals.

One man, attempting to document the eating habits of pioneers in Illinois, was informed by an old timer that "we et ever'thing we could catch or kill except a turkey buzzard."

Times are changing, tho—an Iowa farm girl declined to eat cottage cheese on the ground it was "something for the pigs."

Interviews with selected housewives representing varied income brackets in a midwestern city disclosed that meat tends to be less frequently mentioned as a favorite dish as the income level drops. Vegetable dishes showed an opposite trend and were mentioned significantly more often by the low income groups.

"This may be interpreted as supporting the hypothesis that people like what they eat rather than eat what they like," a committee bulletin concluded.

Irish families as much as two generations removed from the ould sod take pride in maintaining the pork-potato-cabbage-tea food pattern of their ancestors.

Forty per cent of a test group of housewives regard fowl as a most fitting dish for company dinners.

Some night shift workers eat three meals a day, none of which is breakfast.

Kenwood Club Benefit Set for Friday, Oct. 13

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Members of the Kenwood Social Service club and their friends will have no difficulty in remembering the date of the club's annual benefit for the Infant Welfare society, for it is to be held on a Friday the 13th—next month. Called a "Lucky 13 Cocktail party," the event will be given at the Racquet club, where the same group had a similar and successful benefit two years ago.

Pinch-hitting for the benefit chairman, Mrs. Victor Essroger, Mrs. Ralph G. Johnson announced plans for the benefit, which will be a lucky day for every one, she assured guests at a committee luncheon yesterday at the Woman's Athletic club. Lucky for the guests who come, because they will have a lot of fun, lucky for the babies that the Infant Welfare society cares for the year around because the profits will go to them, Mrs. Johnson explained.

Yesterday was not a lucky day for Mrs. Essroger, however, for she was confined at home with a bad cold, and the dashing new hat and frock which she planned to wear to the luncheon hung unseen in her closet.

Other bright new fall costumes were out in full force at the luncheon over which Mrs. Kenath T. Sponsel, president of the club, presided. At least three past presidents of this oldest Infant Welfare branch were present, Mrs. Frederick Herendeen, Mrs. Wilson Killough, and Mrs. John Harwood. Receiving compliments on the clever invitations decorated with a horseshoe and four leaf clover was Mrs. Morton Brookes, whose husband designed them.

Mrs. James Hayes also was receiving congratulations on the successful summer season of the club's Thrift shop, which just has been moved to 1955 E. 55th st. and which will be open two days a week, Tuesday and Fridays, thru the fall and winter. It soon will have a shipment of household furnishings from two houses which a friend of another club member, Mrs. Frank Rogers, has sold and is dismantling.

Mrs. Nelson Utley will give a tea for members of the club Monday in her Kimbark av. home to discuss further plans for the benefit, and Mrs. Carl Defebaugh will entertain the young women who will assist at tea Oct. 9.

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

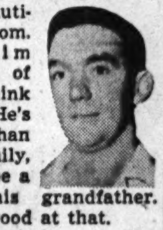
THE ANSWERS.

Corp. Israel Botnick, 1506 S. Albany av.—She's awfully tiny. I think she weighs only 3½ pounds. Our biggest problem is finding a name for her. She's rather thin and takes after me in that respect. I'm trying to figure out if her nose is as big as mine or as tiny as her mother's. She has all the family characteristics.

Gordon McKirchy, painter, 1133 E. 55th st.—I can't say she's any better looking than the other one we have at home. We've been trying to teach our little boy to say "baby sister" and all he'll say is "baby brother." She certainly is a chubby little rascal and looks a lot like her mother. I'm satisfied with her.

Martin Wieklinski, tractor driver, 1856 W. 45th st.—This is the first one we've had. She certainly is good looking. I think she'll make a good bowler—just like her father. At least she has a pug nose like mine. But she must have her mother's temper because she demands attention when she needs it.



Robert Barratt, railroad clerk, 7126 Lowe av.—Without a question, he's the most beautiful boy in the room. I've compared him with all the rest of them and I still think he's the best. He's better looking than the rest of the family, too. I think he'll be a policeman like his grandfather. He'll probably be good at that.

Charles Nelson, window washer, 4355 S. Honore st.—Of all the children we have had—three sets of twins and three other children—he is the only one that is a brunette. I'm glad it's another boy because now we have three boys and three girls [two sets of twins died]. He is a fine healthy boy and resembles his mother.

Corp. Morris Feldman, 5414 Ellis av.—When they brought the baby to me the first day I didn't know whether to take him or leave him. The first thing I said was "Hi fella," because they told me it was a boy. I've seen him only once with his eyes open. He looks just like all the other babies to me except that he sleeps more.

Small College Holds Ground Despite War

[This is the first of several articles on what war has done to colleges and universities. Will they be ready to meet the expected rush of veterans to the campus?

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Doleful predictions have been made for small, independent colleges, especially those holding only state or regional accrediting agency approvals. Commentators said war conditions would close most of them and that they would never reopen but no list of such colleges is available.

In fact, colleges which have been queried in the last few days have replied with astonishing optimism. Despite the lack of army or navy contracts to tide many of these institutions over times when almost all male students were in military service, these small schools, whose positions were relatively weak when the war began, in many cases report improved fiscal conditions. Others report satisfactory situations.

Two examples are Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., and Eureka college, Eureka, Ill. Neither has had lucrative army or navy contracts. Despite the war, Valparaiso has doubled its income from outside sources and has an operating surplus of $50,000, which has been put into additional housing and into publicity. The college will open this fall with the largest freshman class in the history of its Lutheran ownership and operation. One hundred acres of land has been bought for expansion, and money is ready to build two women's dormitories. Twenty honorably discharged war veterans will enter classes this fall.

At Eureka it was reported that "more than half of the indebtedness has been retired in the war period," and that new courses have been added.

Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia., reports complete liquidation of all debts and acquisition of funds to build a science hall when materials are available. Morningside had a 400 man unit of the army preflight corps.

Shurtleff college, Alton, Ill., has erected three new buildings since 1941 and has raised a $100,000 war emergency fund. A four quarter system, an industrial coöperative arrangement, and a single unit student cost plan, with no extra fees, have been adopted.

James Millikin university, Decatur, has moved forward to full accreditation by the strict Association of American universities. Including a $250,000 student loan fund, the endowment has passed the 2 million dollar mark.

Hanover college, Hanover, Ind., reports receiving a million dollars in gifts since 1940. It has had neither army nor navy contracts.

At St. Ambrose college, Davenport, Ia., a campaign for $400,000 netted $486,000, a new $150,000 library has been erected, and $90,000 is on hand for a new chapel. Like Millikin, St. Ambrose has had substantial war time training contracts.

The University of Dubuque, Dubuque, Ia., reports: "The fiscal year ending June 30 was in every respect the best in our history. In addition to a fairly substantial endowment income, we have fairly stable and regularly recurring gifts of about $50,000 annually. The university had a V-12 unit of 260 men."

Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., has reduced its indebtedness since 1941 despite the loss of male students and lack of government war contracts.

At the College of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill., which has had no federal training contracts, the curriculum has been expanded to permit students to earn degrees in science and arts.

St. Mary's college, Winona, Minn., reports no change in its financial structure. It has had V-12 and two preliminary naval training air corps units.

Aurora college, Aurora, Ill., which has adopted the four quarter system, also reports no change in its financial structure.

Poet-tree.

I often wish that I could be
As many-limbed as Kilmer's tree—
Then I could type and answer phones
While taking notes—there'd be no groans
Of "Haven't you that letter done?"—
I'd have my duties all in one!
But—there would be so much work, then,
I'd wish I were myself again!

What Prevails?

It's incredible! Who said there's a war going on? Who said there was an acute shortage of clerical workers? After an eight month struggle for a statement of availability from an office [and a position in which I readily could be replaced] I was all ready to seek a position for which I am much better suited. After an excellent interview and complete agreement on background and suitability for the work, the new "Mrs." in front of my name stopped them short. A service man husband spoiled my chances altogether for the job. As Jimmy Durante would say, "That's the situation what prevails!" Any suggestions on how to meet it?

For Scared Secretary.

Count out the number of carbons needed to make the number of copies wanted; put them between the papers, and then check to see that they are all facing correctly; put the top sheet on; put the whole outfit "into" the flap of a No. 10 envelope [usually 9 or 10 inches long]; insert into the typewriter, and then sail along.

Perhaps S. S. does not know that if she makes a mistake she can slip a small envelope back of the first sheet; then back of the second sheet, and so on, instead of putting it behind the carbon to get all messed up.

As secretary in an insurance office I often have to make 12 copies of very long forms. I usually add an extra copy—experience has taught that some one wants an "extra" after the regular ones were assigned.

S. S. might school herself by making six copies, for a while, of anything requiring four, and then four will seem easy.

Does S. S. check her work, paragraph by paragraph, when she has time [to catch mistakes before she gets to the end of the page]?

Diamond, diamond, who's got the diamond? That sounds familiar, doesn't it? Perhaps you remember it as buttons? Activities of this clever mystery comedy revolve around the theft of a world famous diamond which is stolen off the person of an ex-queen of burlesque [Marjorie Rambeau], its owner.

A resort hotel which she visits is simply swarming with international jewel thieves, and when the lights go out during a dinner party, and the stone is stolen, all characters are present to mix up the plot. And, to get you a little more ruffled, there are a few imitations of the jewel which also are stolen. So 'round and 'round the stones go, both real and imitation, but you get a gander at all concerned and find out who has which. Edmund Lowe, one of the thieves turned honest by the sting of cupid's arrow [Jean Parker is the girl], assists Detective Alan Dinehart recover the stone, and all is well, except that there is a surprise ending, which lets you down.

Marjorie Rambeau is colorful as the diamond queen trying to be a lady and evokes a laugh or two; Edmund Lowe is a convincing actor—but where did you get that soprano voice, Mr. Lowe? The picture is well directed and entertaining, but not the juiciest of meat for mystery epicures. O. M. G.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 19.—How about making "When the Lights Go On Again" a world anthem, when all countries of the globe are liberated? It's a wonderful song, and I'm told Leon Fromkess has made a fine picture from it, which will be released in 250 cities on Armistice day. Our old friend, Frank Craven, wrote the original story. Fromkess is looking for a new face for his next. Thursday he's interviewing Capt. Bob Hartzel, former Flying Tiger. He's charming. A more modest hero would be hard to find. The real ones never talk about themselves—only what their pals have done. . . . Phil Brown is leaving for Broadway and Laurence Stallings' "The Streets Are Guarded" with Jack Wilson. . . . Deanna Durbin thought her voice would have more "Schmaltz" in "Can't Help Singing" if she switched from blonde to brunet. . . . Gary Cooper is tops with co-workers. His business manager, who's been with him for years, got a huge bonus which was totally unexpected.

A Word of Free Advice for Errol.

Errol Flynn, back from Mexico, learned that an army captain had written a play called "Be Good, Sweet Maid" so Errol can't use it for his book. Might I suggest that Errol skip the book and print the letter Gene Fowler wrote him about it? [Am I a cad!] . . . Helen Mencken may [but I doubt it] take time out to play the missionary's wife in the musical version of "Rain." . . . Vivian Della Chiesa is to test for "The Spanish Main" at R. K. O. . . . Lauritz Melchior leaves Nov. 15, opens Dec. 4 singing his 200th performance of "Tristan." . . . Don't know why John Payne and Desi Arnaz should look sad at Ciro's. They're both free to date any pretty girls in town, and do.

Has to Learn to Toot, Toot.

Bill Goodwin has to learn to blow a trombone for "Fairy Tale Murder." Well, look what blowin' did for Harry James. . . . Darryl Zanuck is chuckling over Washington opening of "Wilson," where Sen. Vandenberg, Bernard Baruch [with Mrs. Wilson], Henry Wallace, Harry Truman, Jimmy Byrnes, Paul McNutt, and Sen. Connally sat almost shoulder to shoulder. . . . Went down to see Louis B. Mayer. While I was there, his nurse carried in a baby blue cradle filled with pink flowers, and when you started it rocking it played "The Merry-go-round Broke Down." . . . Mrs. Humphrey Bogart is in a hospital for a checkup. . . . Clark Gable is off on another fishing trip—or is it the same one? . . . Saw Mary Pickford dining with Mike Todd, which doesn't mean a thing.

Work Is Piling Up for Him.

After Tim Whelan kicks "Dinner Is Served" around on Broadway with Donald Cook, Binnie Barnes, and Alan Mowbray, he comes back to direct "Portrait in Crimson" for R. K. O. . . . Harpo Marx tells me Ben Hecht is writing a screen play for him without his brothers. He won't talk, but it will all be done in pantomime. Well, I wish Harpo would get to work. He's been away too long. . . . The junior Tom Mays wanted no publicity on party they gave for 200 guests. It went on from 6 p. m. to 4 a. m. but how could they know that Steve Crane would take Turhan Bey out in the garden and punch him, which would get headlines? I wonder if that wasn't Steve's last shot for publicity. His option wasn't lifted by Columbia. Rumor ran a few weeks ago that Sonja Henie would divorce Capt. Dan Topping and marry Crane. There wasn't a vestige of truth in that. So I'm thinking this punch was Steve's curtain, and his way of saying good-by.

are you bothered by the smell of wet paint?

You know how air-wick almost magically kills the odors of cooking...freshens closets, bathrooms, smoky living rooms. Well, why not use it also to help eliminate the smell of fresh paint? Simply uncap the bottle, place it near the source of the paint odor, pull out the wick...and that's all. There's nothing to light...nothing to burn. If the odor is unusually strong, it will take more than one bottle of air-wick to eliminate it completely ...but even one bottle will lessen the irritation.

air-wick contains activated chlorophyll...the miracle substance found in its natural state in green leaves. You will find air-wick at hardware, paint, grocery, drug, chain, variety and department stores.

There is only one air-wick. Remember air-wick is the only household product of its kind that contains activated chlorophyll

'The Key' . . . . By Patricia Wentworth

(Copyright: 1944: By Patricia Wentworth Trumbull.)

SYNOPSIS: Michael Harsch, about to enter the Ram for tea, wonders if he has seen a ghost. He turns and walks into the street but sees no one he knows. At Marbury station he waits for his train to Bourne. Next day Harsch, a refugee, comes out of a hut in which he has been working on his dangerous experiment. One of his legs had been crippled in a concentration camp. For a moment he is young again. There is power in the world and he has the key to it. He walks down the field to the house called Prior's End. Janice Meade is in the sitting room. Over a cup of tea he tells her his work is done. The men from the war office will come to make their tests. They can have his formula and put it to work. He telephones to Sir George Randal.

INSTALMENT III.

Sir George Randal leaned forward.

Maj. Garth Albany said, "Yes, sir—I used to spend my holidays there. My grandfather was the rector. He's dead now—he was pretty old then."

Sir George nodded.

"Well, a kind of a step. The old man got married three times, and two of them were widows. My Aunt Sophy isn't really any relation, because she's the first widow's daughter by her first marriage. Her name's Fell—Sophy Fell. My father was the youngest of the third family—" He broke off, laughed, and said, "I'm not awfully firm on the family history really."

"How long is it since you were there?"

"My grandfather died when I was 22. I'm 27. I've been down two or three times to see Aunt Sophy—only once since the war."

"Villages don't change very much," said Sir George. "They'll remember you, and they'll talk because they remember you. They won't talk to a stranger."

Garth Albany said quickly,

"What do you want them to talk about?"

"Ever hear of a man called Michael Harsch?"

"I don't think so—" Then, with a quick frown, "I don't know—I seem to have seen the name somewhere—"

"Yes—I remember. I saw the name in the papers, but I didn't connect it with Bourne. Who was he?"

"Harschite—that's why I didn't connect him with Bourne. I didn't know he was dead. There was a paragraph about this stuff harschite—about a fortnight ago. Yes, that was it—harschite—some sort of explosive."

Sir George nodded.

"We've been going on like cats on hot bricks about the stuff, and out comes a footling paragraph and gives the show away."

"Because you didn't know enough to put two and two together. But some one did, and so there's an inquest on Michael Harsch. He was a refugee—Austrian-Jewish extraction. He got away about five years ago. His wife and daughter weren't so lucky. The daughter was sent to a concentration camp, where she died. The wife was turned out of her house in the middle of a winter's night and never got over it. I saw him because he had an introduction from old Baer. He talked to me about this stuff of his. He swore it would knock spots out of anything we'd got. I wanted to oblige old Baer, so I told him to come back. That was four years ago. He used to come back once a year and report progress. I began to believe in the stuff. I went down, and he showed me what it could do. It was terrific. But there was a snag. The stuff was unstable—too easily affected by weather conditions—impossible to store or transport in any quantity. Then he turned up again. He said he had overcome the instability. He walked up and down this very room in a tremendous state of excitement, waving his arms and saying, 'Harschite—that is what I have called it! It is my message that I send back to those who have let the devil loose to serve him, and it is such a message that he will hear it and go back where he belongs!' Then he calmed down a little and said, 'There is only the one step more—the small, small step—and I take it now any day. It is the last experiment, and it will not fail. I am so sure of it that I can give you my word. In a week I shall ring you up and tell you that all is well—that the experiment has succeeded.' Well, he did ring me up to say just that. That was on the Tuesday. I was to go down next day, but on Wednesday morning I was rung up to say that Harsch was dead.

"How?"

"Found shot—in the church, of all places in the world. It seems he used to go down and play the organ—had a key and used to go in just when he liked. He was living out at a house called Prior's End with Madoc, the concentrated food man. It was he who rang me up. He said Harsch had supper with them—there's a sister, Miss Madoc, and a girl secretary—and after that he went out. Madoc said he always did unless the weather was too bad. When he wasn't back by half past 10, they didn't do anything. Madoc and his sister went to bed. They said Harsch had a key, and they never thought of anything having happened to him."

"Well, sir, you don't do you?"

"I suppose not. Anyhow they went to bed, but the girl sat up. By half past 11 she was really frightened. She took a torch and walked down into the village. No sign of Harsch. She called the verger and made him come along to the church with her. She said she thought Harsch might have been taken ill. Well, they found him fallen down by the organ, shot thru the head—pistol just where it might have fallen from his hand. I went down and found every one quite sure he'd shot himself. I am quite sure he didn't."

Garth Albany said, "Why?"

"Because I don't think he would. He'd made an appointment with me, and he was always punctilious about keeping his appointments. He was going to hand over the formula and his notes. I wasn't going down alone, either—I was taking Burlton and Wing. He wouldn't have walked out on us like that."

Maj. Albany looked up.

"I don't know, sir. He'd been working on the stuff a long time, you know. I expect it kept him going. Then when he'd finished he might have felt there was nothing to go on for. And as to his being murdered to stop your getting the formula—well, it doesn't stop it, does it?"

"That, my dear Garth, is exactly what it does do. Because three years ago Michael Harsch made a will which named Madoc his sole executor and sole legatee. He hadn't anything to leave except his notes, his papers, the results of any discoveries or inventions he might make. It's a pretty big exception, you see."

"But surely Madoc———"

"It's evident that you don't know Madoc. He is one of the most belligerent pacifists in England. He won't have anything to do with the war effort, and only pursues his very valuable researches into food concentrates because he feels it a duty to be prepared for a period of post-war starvation on the continent. Now do you see him handing over the formula of harschite?"

Formation Is Rich in Variations.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The technique of the T formation now engrosses the football world as once did the Rockne shift. But where the late Notre Dame coach and his pupils concentrated on a shift to the left or right from the standard three in a row alignment of backs, the T formation has so many variations that its most enthusiastic teachers are at odds over how the formation should be used.

The T formation, to Chicagoans who have watched the Bears in the decade since Ralph Jones laid the groundwork for subsequent development and additions by Clark Shaughnessy and George Halas, means one or more backs in motion before the center snaps the ball to the quarter back. Invariably, except for punts, the quarter back receives the ball. Thus, in addition to directing play, he handles the ball for deception and forward passes but never is a blocker or a ball carrier.

Seahawks Use Modified Plan.

Notre Dame has adopted the same general design. However, there are coaches who use the T formation without a man in motion and who also incorporate a direct pass from center to a half back for forward passing. The Iowa Seahawks, coached this year by Lt. Comdr. Jack Meagher, use this modified T system. Simplified probably is a better descriptive word than modified and it also embodies a criticism.

One fundamental reason for the man in motion in the T system of attack is to spread opponents' defense. No matter who is assigned to cover the man in motion, the defense immediately has a primary duty to see that this man does not catch a wide lateral pass and get away or go down field uncovered to receive a forward pass. The spread in the defense, if attacked properly, is favorable to quick opening plays.

Rockne Developed Quick Opener.

The quick opening play Rockne developed at Notre Dame was feared by opponents even more than Notre Dame's power play directed outside the defensive tackle. It was used without the shift, with the quarter back taking the ball under center and giving it to either half back to carry inside the defensive tackle. It was used when the tackle was outside the attacking end and thus provided the correct blocking angle.

One method of stopping this particular quick opening play by the half back is employment of a seven man line by the defenders. A seven man line means that the tackles may at least play in front of the attacking end and thus eliminate the favorable blocking angle the end must have. Last Saturday, the Iowa Seahawks' quarter backs repeatedly tried in the first half to make quick opening plays work against Michigan's seven man line and without any benefit of a fake by a man in motion. Two yards was the largest gain.

Seahawks Gain Around Ends.

In the second half, the Seahawks shifted their attack to strike at the ends of Michigan's line and they also attempted nine forward passes as compared to two in the first half. When the Seahawks scored their touchdown five plays covered 51 yards but Bob Smith accounted for 44 yards on two dashes around Michigan's right end.

Purdue and Illinois depended largely on the T formation last year. Wisconsin also used the style in conjunction with the shift Harry Stuhldreher has adopted in the years since he was Notre Dame's quarter back in 1924.

Saturday's conference game at Champaign matches the Illini T against the Hoosiers' single wing back attack. It is no final test for either style but by contrast of systems it will produce a better spectacle. Incidentally,

Rock-Olas Eliminated from Softball Tourney

HE'LL MAKE COLLEGIATE DEBUT FRIDAY

FIVE WILDCATS BATTLE TO WEAR GRAHAM MANTLE

Northwestern's efforts to develop a successor to Otto Graham, last year's great forward passer, have resulted in a battle between four freshmen and one veteran, all of whom will get a chance to reveal their skill in Friday night's opener with De Pauw under the lights of Dyche stadium.

The lone veteran who is trying his hand as a forward passer is Jack Harker, who won his letter at end last year. Harker, from Peru, Ill., was shifted to the back field in summer practice to help offset the dearth of experienced players.

One of the outstanding passers on the squad is Johnny Yungwirth, 5 foot 6 inch, 165 pound freshman from Fond du Lac, Wis., whose accuracy has been thoroly tested in practices. In addition, the Wisconsin youngster is a capable kicker and a hard runner. He may win the starting call at left half Friday night.

Other newcomers who have displayed promise as passers are Bill Roper of Napa, Cal., Bruce Bairstow of Waukegan, and Hap Murphy of Highland Park. All are members of the navy V-12 unit. These three players have also shown better than average ability as ball carriers.

ILLINI PAIR BRAY, YOUNG.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 19 [Special].—Eddie Bray and Claude [Buddy] Young, Illinois' two fastest half backs, were running as a tandem today, while the heavier Ed Jacobs and Paul Patterson were kept together as another combination.

Jacobs and Patterson, weighing 193 and 185 pounds respectively, started last week's game against State Normal and played the first quarter.

DEFENSE OCCUPIES HOOSIERS.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19—[Special]—Indiana's football team got down to work in earnest today for its Big Nine opener at Illinois Saturday, as Coach Bo McMillin sent the squad thru an intensive drill on defenses to be used against the Illini. Defensive formations to combat the Illinois T formation were given to the squad and most of the practice was taken up with work on them.

J. C. Coffee, injured guard, is improving and may be ready to play Saturday, McMillin announced. Mike Modak, freshman blocking back who has been suffering from a shoulder injury for two weeks, and Ralph Thompson, starting left half back who suffered an ankle sprain in the opening game last Saturday, also are expected to be available Saturday.

The defending champion Meister Braus will meet the Congress Arcades. In other matches which start at 9 p. m. Bill Flesch and his Monarch Beers cross lanes with Keeley Half and Half and Washington Shirts will attempt to better their standing at the expense of Sunkist Pies.

Schmidt Dies; Won Fame as Ohio's Coach

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 19 (AP).—Francis A. Schmidt, head football coach at the University of Idaho until last March and famous for his teams at Ohio State university and in the southwest, died tonight.

Francis A. Schmidt.

Schmidt's physician said the coach had been in failing health several months and he had been in a hospital here since early this month.

He was signed at Idaho in 1941, coming west from Ohio State with a 24 year coaching record of 170 victories, 47 losses, and 12 ties. A year ago Idaho joined other Pacific northwest colleges in suspending football due to man power shortage, and last March Schmidt's contract was not renewed.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The White Sox concentrated nine of their 13 hits in two innings last night before 4,921 Comiskey park fans to cool off the recent torrid Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 3.

The first explosive inning was the fourth, in which the Sox turned a 2 to 0 deficit into a 3 to 2 lead for Johnny Humphries. Three more runs in the fifth inning gave the big right hander a 6 to 2 lead which he skilfully protected until the ninth when the A's made their final run with the aid of an error.

Hal Trosky hit doubles in the two big innings while Jess Flores was operating. Then Hal hit his third successive double in the seventh off Carl Scheib. The Sox rested four of their varsity, but the freshmen replacements had little to do with the routing of Flores. Bill Metzig, an infielder from Little Rock, played second and went hitless. Cass Michaels, at short, had a single in a nonscoring inning, as did Catcher Tom Jordan. Grey Clarke, playing third, singled in the two big offensive innings.

The teams close their season's series tonight, with Orval Grove going after his 14th victory and Russ Christopher trying for his 13th. Each has lost 13.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19 (AP).—The Washington Senators scored six runs in the first half of the 11th inning after two were out tonight to win the first of a three game series with the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 0. The loss put the Browns one and a half games behind the league leading Detroit Tigers.

The uprising started when George Case dropped a single into short center, scoring Rick Ferrell from second base. Five more base runners crossed home plate before George Caster finally retired the side.

Browns Lose Chance in 10th.

A break of the game cost the Browns a chance to win in their half of the 10th. With the bases loaded and two out, Pitcher Denny Galehouse singled, but the ball hit George McQuinn, running between second and third, automatically retiring the side.

Johnny Niggeling, who yielded only four hits and struck out 11 in the 10 innings he worked, was the winning pitcher.

Ain't Science Grand?

Silken hose that will never "run"?

Furthermore, they'll stay in place—
Formaldehyde will grant this grace,
But what's a whiff of formaldehyde
To hose that slither around and slide?

For us, just see what they've gone and "cooked."
Pants that will never shrink or wrinkle

Will stay at the size it was when bought,
Won't this be news for the harum-scarem,
The old boy who still buys and wears 'em?

But, science, you have let us down,
One thing would most behoove me,
That's something to take the crackle out
Of the goodies folks munch at a movie!

It seemed so wrong to send him into war
And all his innate loveliness defile!

Who had imbibed with every youthful breath
Only the true, the beautiful, the good?

And quench the sunlight glowing in his eyes
And leave his body prematurely old,
Will not the ghost of his lost youth arise
To haunt us in the crimson of the dawn,
For beauty had been and now is gone.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—Hal Newhouser, 23 year old Detroit lefty, and a Tiger crew which shared his calm and skilful manners, beat the New York Yankees this afternoon, 4 to 1. It was Hal's 26th victory of the year, his sixth over the Yankees and his sixth straight in recent American league pennant drive competition. He saved further statistical space by missing his sixth shutout of the season when Johnny Lindell, with one out in the ninth, hit a homer for the only Yankee score.

Hal Newhouser.

When Newhouser executed his sixth strikeout to end the game—he whiffed Oscar Grimes—he knew the Tigers still were leading the American league, three games ahead of the third place Yankees. Thanks to Washington's 6 to 0 triumph over St. Louis in a night game, the Tigers will face the Yankees tomorrow with a one and one-half game lead over the second place Browns. And, by the way, tomorrow it will be Dizzy Trout, 24-12, vs. Mel Queen, 5-1.

Borowy Yields Five Hits.

Hank Borowy was the losing pitcher today. He yielded only five hits in seven innings, but they produced three of the victors' runs.

Eddie Mayo and Jimmy Outlaw were more than troublesome in the Yankees' scheme of things today. Three of the Tiger runs were scored by Mayo and he hit a single and a home run. Outlaw, the principal slugger of the day, had a triple, double, and a single.

Detroit started its run production in the first inning. With one out, Mayo singled and Pinky Higgins drew a walk. After Rudy York fanned, Dick Wakefield singled and Mayo scored.

It's Settled in the Sixth.

The Tigers settled the issue in the sixth inning with a pair of runs. Mayo reached second when Crosetti dropped his pop fly after running over into right center for the try. Mayo held second while Higgins was being thrown out by Crosetti and then scored on York's triple. Wakefield fanned, but Outlaw tripled and York scored.

BOILERMAKERS CONTINUE DRILL AGAINST PASSES

Purdue Opens Saturday Against Great Lakes.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 19 [Special]. —Purdue's probable lineup for the season's opener with Great Lakes at the naval training center on Saturday began to take form this afternoon as Coach Cecil Isbell sent the Western conference co-champions thru another intensive drill on forward pass defense.

Only two players who started against the Bluejackets last year as the Boilermakers launched their undefeated, untied season with a 23 to 13 triumph were included—Frank Bauman, right end, who will be the acting captain for the day, and Stanley Dubicki, left half back.

Dubicki, a 160 pounder who was the high point man of last year's victory as he scored a touchdown, field goal, and point after touchdown for a total of 10 points, is batting Chalmers [Bump] Elliott, marine trainee, for the left half back assignment.

Boris [Babe] Dimancheff, fifth in the Big Nine and 13th nationally in ground gained from rushing last season, held down the right half back post, while Ed Cody, discharged army veteran and a transfer from Boston college, appeared to be the choice at full back. Ray Schultz, minor letter man last season, probably will take over at quarter back.

SEAHAWKS STRENGTHENED.

The new players reporting were Bob Sullivan, former Holy Cross full back, who is being tried at left half; Bob Gerstenberger, two year letter man at Gonzaga, who may be the answer at quarter back, and Randall Rushing, an ex-Texas Tech back who rates as a potential full back.

ALDWORTH JOINS GOPHERS.

Aldworth has been working on a ranch in Montana and reported in fine physical shape, weighing 212 pounds. He will compete with Rubin Juster and Tom Reinhardt, also lettermen, for a starting tackle assignment.

WOLVERINES LOSE ELY.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 19 [Special].—The Michigan football squad today began intensive preparation for its game with Marquette Saturday with a lengthy scrimmage in which defensive play was stressed.

The Wolverine starting lineup will be the same as against Iowa Pre-Flight. X-rays revealed today that Roger Ely, a half back from Montpelier, O., suffered a broken left arm in a light drill held yesterday.

OPEN COACHING SCHOOLS TODAY IN SIX PARKS

The opening session of the six football coaching schools sponsored by the Chicago Sports association and the Chicago Park district is scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon, with three former star players and a host of other coaches in charge. Red Grange of Illinois, and Judge Jerome Dunne, of Michigan, will demonstrate the fundamentals of the sport to the youngsters at Welles park, while Duke Slater, of Iowa will head the school at Washington park, working with Sol Butler, former track star. Boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years are eligible to attend. The locations of the schools follow:

SOUTH—Tuley park, 91st st. and South Park av. Washington park, 5601 South Park-way.

Collegeville, Ind., Sept. 19 [Special].—The Chicago Bears today went into their pre-Green Bay mournful period in contemplating Sunday's game against the Packers in the Wisconsin town.

"We'll need all the breaks—and then we'll be lucky to win," said the chief mourner, Co-Coach Luke Johnsos, while his associates nodded grim assent. "You just can't hope to win with a lot of freshmen in the lineup. We'll have to start an almost all-rookie back field and that's no good when you add up all the veterans Curly Lambeau has at his command."

With Ray Nolting, regular left half, out for at least a month, and the physical condition of Ray McLean, the No. 1 right half, doubtful, added burden is placed on the backs. Henry Margarita probably will start at left half and it will either be Al Grygo or sophomore Doug McEnulty at right half. Johnny Long, Sid Luckman's successor at quarter back, will start, as will Full Back Gary Famiglietti.

Hunters: Clip These Rules, Save Trouble

BY BOB BECKER.

Mr. Sportsman, here's a condensed version of the 1944 hunting regulations in Illinois and two popular pheasant states, North and South Dakota. Better clip it and stick it in the hunting coat.

ILLINOIS—The water fowl season opens the morning of Oct. 14, starting one half hour before sunrise and continuing each day from one half hour before sunrise to sunset until Jan. 1. Limit is 10 ducks per day unless you shoot mallards, widgeons and pintails exclusively. One may take 15 of these species in the aggregate or 15 of any one of the three. If a hunter has 10 ducks [gadwalls, bluebills, teal or other similar species] he may shoot five extra mallards, widgeon or pintail for a total limit of 15 per day.

Pheasant Season Opens Nov. 11.

Pheasant season—The Illinois pheasant season opens Nov. 11. Same date for quail and rabbits.

Mudhens—The daily and possession limit is 25. Opening date same as ducks, Oct. 14.

Duck stamp—A duck stamp is required for all duck hunters or those who shoot migratory waterfowl of any species.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Pheasant season [also ducks] opens today. Limits vary according to county with some counties permitting the shooting of 10 per day. Some of the best duck and pheasant hunting will come next month when the duck migration starts. For places to hunt the following South Dakotan residents may be written: Irvin Krumm, Huron; F. X. Clarey, Sisseton; Leo Funk, Brookings, and S. S. Shaw, Watertown. Nonresident license is $20. Pheasant season continues for several months.

Maximum Bag is Eight Pheasants.

NORTH DAKOTA—Pheasant and duck season also opens today. Nonresident license is $25. Maximum pheasant limit in most counties is eight per day. Game shipments permitted. Key men who may be written about hunting arrangements: C. E. Hurst, Bottineau; W. Balsukot, Minot; M. J. Tobin, Mandan; A. J. Breitbach, Jamestown; Russell Duschinske, Devils Lake; I. P. Quam, Lakota, and J. A. Cooker, Steele. All these towns are in an area offering both upland game and duck hunting.

6 ELIGIBLES FOR $7,500 JUVENILE TO RACE TODAY

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

Six eligibles for Saturday's $7,500 added Juvenile handicap will go postward today in the fifth race, one of six sprint affairs scheduled for the 11th day of the 34 day Hawthorne meeting.

The race, set for six furlongs and carrying a purse of $1,500, has drawn Dr. Eslie Asbury's Blue Skimmer, a fast filly which probably will be the favorite; Mrs. Emil Denemark's Father Neptune, Brolite farm's Colonel Lee, Woolford farm's Expediter, Mrs. G. H. Emick's Hollyman, and Mrs. M. I. Richards' Rolling Bar, besides Golden Count, Valdina Streak, Bolo Miss, and Port Chester. The last four are not eligible for the Juvenile handicap.

The most notable event of yesterday's program was the juicy return of $415.80 to holders of winning daily double tickets.

The first half was taken by George Vasen's Helen Agnes, which won by five lengths from O. and L. Spitzer's Tom's Ladd in a field of 12 claimers. Helen Agnes, ridden by Stanley Freeman, paid $17.40 for a $2 win ticket. Willie Bailey accounted for the second race aboard Joe Maumus' Tee Maumus, a 15 to 1 shot in a field of 12 maiden 3 and 4 year olds. Tee Maumus beat Field d'Or by a nose and returned $33.

Misty Fox Wins Feature.

Lemar stock farm's Misty Fox, with Jack Martin up, won the feature event, a six furlong sprint for 2 year old colts and geldings. Mrs. Monte Weil's Conference was second and River Divide farm's Silent Play took the show in a field of seven running for a purse of $1,800. The winner paid $9.80.

The crowd was announced as 13,942 and the betting totaled $884,595.

Chipman and Cubs to Face Giants Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 19.—The fourth place Cubs will start operations tomorrow afternoon on the few bits of work that separate them from their winter vacation. They open their last tour against the Giants at the Polo Grounds and unless weather intervenes will be at it daily in one place or another until the finish line is reached Oct. 1 at Boston.

Many of the boys who don't have to go thru Chicago to reach their off-season hideouts will go direct from Boston. As for Manager Charley Grimm, he intends to take in the world series and then rest for a spell on his Missouri farm before taking up plans for next season.

The fight to keep trespassers off fourth place in the remaining 15 games may become a bit tough at times but, if nothing else, Grimm is fairly well fixed for pitchers and for the time being there are no worries about injuries, altho there is some concern about the way in which Bill Nicholson's bat has become silent. Bob Chipman will perform against the Giants today.

WPB Places Strict Limits on Work.

The first step in reconverting the automobile industry from war to peace production was taken yesterday when the war production board authorized Chrysler corporation, Ford Motor company, and Fisher Body division of General Motors corporation to start work on experimental models of new passenger automobiles.

These provided that no more than $25,000 may be expended by each company in a month for labor and materials; that workers involved be limited to planning engineers and technicians; that no more than 1 per cent of the company's employes be assigned to the work.

Types of Activity Specified.

Preparations were limited to these five types of activity:

1. Correction of weaknesses in 1942 models.
2. Bringing necessary material specifications up to date.
3. Planning plant layout.
4. Planning minor appearance changes to distinguish new production from 1942 models. [No functional changes are to be made under the authorization.]
5. Related preparatory work.

Permission to assign engineers and technicians to this work was granted by the war man power commission on the condition that the number be kept small and no handicaps be placed on war production.

Carsten Tiedeman, Detroit regional director of WPB, said that despite the limitations he believed the "time lag between the end of war contracts and the delivery of new cars can be materially shortened."

Expect Long Transition.

The automobile industry indicated in June that three to 10 months would be required from the start of production planning to delivery of the first cars. This estimate has been reduced, but manufacturers said the transition period would be relatively long unless special consideration were given the industry.

"We recognize that much of the work must be done in the auto industry ahead of 'Go day,'" Tiedeman said. "This involves not only experimentation with new models, but correction of faults of previous models; determination of use of new materials; rearrangement of machinery, and many other things. If this work can be done without interefering with war production we believe the time elements involved can be shortened considerably. The WPB and other government agencies are vitally concerned in shortening this time."

Buicks to Roll 3 to 4 Months After 'Go Day'

John W. Waddell.

Buick automobiles will start rolling off the production line three to four months after the go ahead signal is given, W. F. Hufstader, general manager of Buick division of General Motors corporation, said yesterday. He said the first post-war models will be styled within the limitation of the dies available, and he was confident the post-war Buick would be "well liked from a style standpoint."

John W. Waddell has been appointed Chicago zone manager of the Buick division, Hufstader announced. Waddell succeeds C. E. Childers, who resigned to operate the Boulevard Buick company, 2255 S. Michigan blvd., formerly owned by the late James Levy. Waddell has been with Buick in various capacities since 1929.

Plan Half Million Annual Output.

Hufstader told a meeting of Chicago zone Buick dealers in the Drake hotel that the company plans an annual production of 504,000 autos on a straight time basis after the war. He expected a demand for production to supply jobs to take up unemployment when European fighting ends and a "substantial quantity of cars within a reasonable time."

He termed recent relaxation of government curbs bright spots in the progress of planning the resumption of auto manufacture.

Asserting that Buick's war production gradually was nearing an end, he reviewed accomplishments in plants and on the battlefield.

He said that Buick dealers were in good financial conditions, that profits were running ahead of a year ago, and that their service business was increasing continually. Buick was the only General Motors division to show a yearly increase since 1934 in customer labor sales, he added.

Assured of Large Market.

The dealers were assured there would be a vast market for autos after the war, especially if prices were kept "reasonably in line." Hufstader said replacement demand alone would take a production capacity equal to that prior to the war.

"In 1941 the Buick dealers sold on the average more cars than any dealers in the business," he said. "This establishes the fact that dealers can expand with an expanding market.

"Service business is tremendously important, and we must not lose sight of the importance of the lesson of service during the war. Each dealer should get a higher percentage of the service business of Buick owners, which amounted to only 25 or 30 per cent in peace time."

He said dealers were stronger than two years ago from the capital structure standpoint, and that plenty of dealer capital would be needed after the war.

WARD PROFITS UP, SALES OFF IN SIX MONTHS

Avery Tells of Lack of Merchandise.

Montgomery Ward & Co., had increased profits despite reduced sales in the six months ended July 31, first half of the Chicago merchandise company's fiscal year, Sewell L. Avery, chairman, told stockholders yesterday in his semi-annual report.

Difficulties in obtaining merchandise were shown in the 6.7 per cent decline in sales to $265,361,882 from $284,372,025 in the corresponding 1943 half year, he said. Altho inventories were slightly higher than in the 1943 period, the company was unable to obtain merchandise in sufficient quantities to meet demand.

Store-Wide Sales Dropped.

"For this reason, store-wide sales events were temporarily eliminated; the customary midwinter sale catalog was not issued; the size of the general catalog was reduced, and the taking of mail orders by stores and order offices was temporarily restricted," Avery said. "These actions predetermined a sales decline, but overcame the great loss of handling orders which could not be filled."

Despite slightly less difficulty in obtaining deliveries from manufacturers, orders in the hands of manufacturers were 25 per cent lower on July 31 in consideration of the uncertainties which will accompany the end of the European hostilities, he said.

Tax Rise Cuts Profits Gain.

Earnings before taxes increased approximately 40 per cent to $15,786,736, or 6 per cent of sales, compared with $11,280,193, or 4 per cent of sales, a year earlier. Provisions for federal and state income taxes amounted to $7,805,000 in the 1944 half year, against an adjusted provision of $3,975,000 a year ago.

Net income totaled $7,981,736, equal to $1.39 per share, compared with $7,305,193, or $1.26 a share, after adjusting federal taxes to the final tax base.

Day's Earnings Reports.

Pan American Seeks Routes Girdling Globe

New York, Sept. 19 [Special].—Disclosing elaborate plans for linking every continent by air after the war, Pan American Airways today announced that it had filed applications with the civil aeronautics board for two transocean routes and for extensions of pre-war routes that would provide an American flag air line around the world.

One transocean route would link New York and Moscow, over 6,408 miles, by way of Newfoundland or Labrador, Iceland, Oslo, Stockholm, and Leningrad. The other would be from Seattle to Canton, China, over 6,831 miles, by way of Nome, Alaska; an intermediate point in the Kurile Islands; Tokyo, and Shanghai and would connect with another line thru Hanoi, China, to Calcutta.

Would Extend Pre-War Routes.

The globe girdling American flag route, a long time dream of Juan T. Trippe, Pan American president, would be attained by extending pre-war service to Lisbon thru Marseille, Rome, Athens, Cairo, Basra [Irak], and Karachi, India, to Calcutta, a total of 9,970 miles.

A new service between Tokyo and Wake Island, connecting there with the main central Pacific route, also would be established, and a new fork added to Pan American's South Pacific route to New Zealand. This fork would branch at Noumea, New Caledonia, and continue to Sidney, Australia, to provide for the first time direct air connection between the United States' west coast and Australia.

New York City would have thru, direct air connections with Latin America under still another application made by Pan American which would add to its present gateway ports of Miami, New Orleans, and Brownsville, Tex., those of New York, Charleston, S. C., Tampa, Houston, and Los Angeles, and effect certain cutoffs of existing routes.

Would Extend Pacific Route.

The line also asked CAB to grant a permanent certificate for operations between Manila and Singapore, carried on before the war under a five year permit, and for permission to extend this route south to Batavia, Java.

In other applications Pan American sought approval for extending pre-war Lisbon-London service to Paris, Berlin, and Moscow, and for extending its network south from Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, to Johannesburg and Capetown, South Africa.

TREASURY TO OFFER $\frac{7}{8}$ PCT. CERTIFICATE TRADE NEXT MONDAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau today announced that an offering of ⅞ per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness, series G, to mature Oct. 1, 1945, will be made next Monday thru the federal reserve banks to holders of similar certificates maturing Oct. 1, 1944.

The new issue will be offered on a par-for-par exchange basis. There are now outstanding $3,519,047,000 of the prior F-1944 certificates.

Wheeler Lays Rail Wrecks to ICC Laxity

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Failure of the interstate commerce commission and the nation's railroads to heed a 24 year old congressional demand for the installation of railroad safety devices is responsible for recent fatal rail wrecks, Sen. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, charged today.

In a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, Wheeler referred to last week's Chicago and Eastern Illinois wreck at Terre Haute, Ind., in which 29 persons, the majority of them army air forces combat veterans, were killed, as an example of wrecks which would have been prevented by available safety devices.

Says Mandate Was Unenforced.

"The railroads should be made to understand," Wheeler said, "that if they do not act within a specified number of days, then the government will act. Twenty-four years ago congress empowered the ICC to command the railroads to install safety devices. The commission has very largely left the matter to the companies.

"The commission should now quickly ascertain whether the railroads are going to place the contracts for these safety devices, how soon this will be done, and whether this time they will move in dead earnest. If the commission does not take such steps, then it may become necessary to repeat action taken against inadequate commissions in the past."

Congress May Investigate.

Wheeler told THE TRIBUNE action against the ICC could consist of a congressional investigation of the commission's part in increasing railroad safety.

"I am not criticizing the magnificent job done by the railroads during the war," Wheeler said.

"I do say the ICC has been lax in not forcing railroads to adopt safety methods and I think now is the time for the ICC and the railroads to work together for safer operation."

MOST OF GRAINS CLOSE HIGHER ON TRADER BUYING

Grain futures advanced 1 cent or more a bushel in early trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, but profit taking developed on the bulge and the best prices were not maintained. Wheat closed ⅜ to 1⅛ cents higher and oats ¼ cent lower to ¼ cent higher. September sold at 66 cents early, a new high since early this month. Corn finished ¼ to ⅞ cent higher, rye ⅜ cent lower to ¼ cent higher, and barley ¼ to 2 cents higher, September leading.

The early rally developed on short covering and commission house buying induced by strength in cotton, continued government buying of cash wheat, and recommendation by a senate subcommittee that the use of grain alcohol in the manufacture of synthetic rubber be continued after the war.

Erie Railroad Proposes 3¼ Pct. Interest on Bonds

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—The Erie railroad today sought interstate commerce commission authority to set the interest rate on a proposed 13 million dollar bond issue at 3¼ per cent and to establish a sinking fund.

STOCKS RECOUP LOSSES IN WIDE PRICE ADVANCE

Steels and Motors in Big Demand.

New York, Sept. 19 (AP).—Stocks rallied all along the line in today's market with leaders retrieving fractions to a point or more of recent losses. There was no buying rush, but sales were more than double yesterday's second lowest total in more than a year. Dealings slowed after midday and many advances were trimmed at the close.

Steels, motors, rubbers, and rails were prominent on the rise. Aircrafts were lower as the result of profit cashing most of the day, but steadied and generally closed higher.

Political Outlook Brighter.

Investors reinstated part of their commitments on the belief a quick end of the European conflict might find reconversion programs farther along than generally expected. Brightening of the domestic political outlook was a factor. Viewed as bullish also was the recent drying up of selling.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was up 0.4 at 54. The market was broader, 828 issues appearing against 705 yesterday. Of these, 520 were up, 114 down and 194 unchanged at the close. Transfers totaled 714,890 shares compared with 344,855 yesterday.

Prominent on the upside were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, Goodyear, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, and American Telephone. At peaks for 1944 were Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, and Lockheed.

RAILS LEAD BOND RISE.

New York, Sept. 19 (AP).—The bond market abandoned its recent indecisive behaviour today and advanced under the leadership of rails. Gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed over the main corporate list. Sales were $6,193,000 compared with yesterday's two year record low of $3,691,000.

CHICAGO PRICES GAIN.

Prices advanced in larger turnover of 25,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Volume leaders included Armour & Co., Chicago corporation, and Middle West corporation, each up ⅛, and Commonwealth Edison, unchanged. New 1944 peaks were set by Noblitt Sparks, up 2⅛; Aro Equipment, up 1¼, and Midland Utilities 7 per cent prior lien, up 1⅛.

People and Events

The Chicago Ordnance district announced yesterday the presentation of a $250 award to Robert W. Wright, 2705 Arthur av., an employe, for the development of a simplified administrative procedure for the transfer of government-owned machine tools. The new procedure will save the government an estimated $16,000 a year, it was said.

Mayor Kelly will congratulate members of the Chicago Association of Life Underwriters who won the American Trade Association Executives award for contributing more than any other trade organization in war bond sales promotion. The ceremony will be held Friday in the La Salle hotel. Honorable mention was given the American Meat institute and the Chicago Restaurant association.

Lawrence Ottinger, president of the United State Plywood corporation, announced the appointment of S. W. Antoville as director of sales, with headquarters in New York. R. W. Tompkins will succeed Antoville as vice president at Chicago in charge of midwestern operations.

Dr. L. M. Henderson, retiring chairman of the Chicago section of the American Chemical society, will discuss petroleum as a challenge to the chemist tomorrow night in the Medinah club at the association's opening fall meeting.

Hear Pullman Bids for Steel Products Firm

Tentative offers to purchase M. W. Kellogg company, 25 million dollar privately owned New York industrial engineering and contracting company, have been made by Pullman-Standard Car manufacturing company, it was reported yesterday. D. A. Crawford, president of Pullman, Inc., parent company of Pullman-Standard, reached in New York, would not comment on the report. Officials of Kellogg also refused statements.

The Kellogg company, which was incorporated in 1920, manufacturers welded and special steel products, oil stills, tanks, and receptacles for the oil, chemical, paper, and affiliated industries. It also supervises and installs high and low pressure piping and other products for power plants and oil refineries.

Early Reports Indefinite.

Altho it was admitted recently in the east that negotiations were being made for the sale of Kellogg, nothing definite was reported.

Should the purchase go thru it would be in line with Pullman-Standard's expressed wish to use its large cash resources to widen post-war operations. Several months ago Charles A. Liddle, president, indicated the company might be interested in buying smaller companies in other fields on the theory Pullman-Standard would fare better in the long run by acquiring well-established industrial companies than by entering industries in which it had no experience.

Pullman-Standard is the manufacturing subsidiary of Pullman, Inc., which is negotiating for the disposal of Pullman company, sleeping car subsidiary. The parent would confine itself to the production of railroad freight and passenger cars and other equipment as ordered by a court decree last May.

Reported by Dow-Jones.

The Kellogg company, of which M. W. Kellogg is president and chairman, has an authorized capitalization of 5 million dollars of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, 5,760 no-par class A shares, 100,000 no par class B shares, and 1,940 shares of $100 par common stock. Total assets as of Dec. 31, 1942, the last available record, were $25,137,457. Current assets at that time aggregated $19,751,642 and current liabilities were $10,535,326, the news service said.

The Kellogg plant is in Jersey City, N. J. The company on Dec. 31, 1942, listed the Canadian Kellogg company, Ltd., and Kelley corporation as subsidiaries and owned jointly with Diamond Alkali company of Pittsburgh the Diakel corporation of Ohio.

AVERAGE PRICE OF HOGS GOES TO 11 MONTH PEAK

The average cost of hogs at the Chicago stock yards yesterday advanced to the highest level in almost 11 months because of an abrupt change in the character of receipts which sent a larger percentage of the offerings over the scales at the $14.75 a hundred pounds top and fewer at the $14 heavy hog ceiling. The average at $14.45 gained 10 cents and was the highest since Oct. 26, 1943.

Prices remained unchanged in all classes offered. Packers continued to pay the $14.75 top for almost all stock weighing 240 pounds or less, but an increase in the precentage of 1944 spring crop pigs made sales at the lighter class ceiling price more frequent.

Cattle receipts were again small and strong demand at prices 15 to 25 cents higher resulted for many of the steer classes that were cut in value last week.

Lamb prices were weak to 15 cents lower, with the $14.50 top showing the full loss.

WLB Permits Christmas Bonus of $25 by Any Firm

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Employers may pay a Christmas or year-end bonus up to $25 to each employe this year without war labor board approval, the board said today.

SIMILAR SLUM LAWS UPHELD, COURT IS TOLD

Chicago's Attorney Asks Reversal.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19 [Special].—Supreme courts of 35 states have upheld legislation similar to the Illinois neighborhood redevelopment corporation law of 1941, William Wilson, attorney for the city of Chicago, told the Illinois Supreme court in oral arguments today. The city is seeking reversal of a Circuit court ruling that the law is unconstitutional.

"The case now before this court seeks to enlist the participation of private enterprise in the solution to the problem of slum clearance and rehabilitation without the use of public funds, tax exemptions, and public ownership of real estate," Wilson declared.

Use Held Determining Fact.

"It makes no difference whether the right of eminent domain [the power to seize private property for public use] is exercised by a public or private corporation. The deciding question is whether it is put to public rather than private use."

Judge Julius H. Miner of Cook county circuit court ruled the Illinois law invalid. He said under its slum clearance provisions "the purpose for which the property would be taken and used would be a private purpose for pecuniary profit and not a public purpose at all."

Judge Miner allowed an injunction sought by John F. Zorn, a taxpayer, to restrain the city of Chicago from enforcement of the act. The city appealed. Attorneys for Zorn will present their arguments before the Supreme court tomorrow. Arguments are confined to previously filed briefs.

Zorn's complaint declared that the city council on Nov. 5, 1941, enacted an ordinance creating the "redevelopment commission" of the city. This commission, he said, was to supervise neighborhood redevelopment corporations organized pursuant to the neighborhood redevelopment corporation law of 1941.

In his opinion Judge Miner stated:

"To justify the taking of private property from the owner without his consent, even for adequate consideration, the law must extend its control over the property after it has been condemned, to insure its devotion to the declared public purpose and uses."

Wilson said today that "restrictions provided by the law practically amount to a referendum on projects. The power to condemn property is controled thru these, by the municipality itself."

Sole Function Rehabilitation.

The city's brief said that "the neighborhood redevelopment corporation law is an attempt by the legislative branch of the state government to solve one of the gravest municipal problems which confront modern society.

"The act provides for the organization of companies to be known as neighborhood redevelopment corporations, whose sole function will be the clearance and rehabilitation of slum and blight areas.

"It contemplated that after rehabilitation the reclaimed properties will pass into normal and diversified individual ownerships."

MANDEL PROFIT LOWER DESPITE SALES INCREASE

Profits of Mandel Brothers in the six months ended July 31, first half of the company's fiscal year, were below those a year earlier altho sales increased substantially, Leon Mandel, vice president and general manager, reported yesterday. Sales rose 6.7 per cent to $11,081,219 from $10,386,348 in the corresponding 1943 period.

Net income, after estimated federal taxes of $186,211, was $125,802, equal to 43 cents a share, compared with $133,461, or 46 cents a share, in 1943 after tax provisions of $267,000.

SEC EXEMPTION BOOST PROPOSED BY VANDENBERG

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] today introduced legislation to change the level under registration provisions of the securities and exchange act from $100,000 to $300,000. He said the change would stimulate the flow of capital into small enterprises after the war.

The bill was in line with the comment of SEC Chairman Ganson Purcell last week that if "it should be deemed by congress to be sound policy to relax the registration provisions of the act in an effort to stimulate the flow of capital into small business enterprises, we believe it would be preferable to do so by raising to $300,000 the exemption provided, rather than by relaxing the disclosure requirements generally."

National Tea and Kroger Report Sales Increases

National Tea company yesterday reported sales in the four weeks ended Sept. 9 were $7,729,883, a rise of 16.63 per cent from a year ago volume. The number of stores in operation declined from 886 to 849 during the year. Kroger Grocery and Baking company in the same period had sales of $33,415,979, a 7.3 per cent gain.

OPA INTRODUCES EVIDENCE IN SUIT ON PORK TRIMS

The OPA yesterday introduced into evidence 28 exhibits alleging that the four largest meat packers sold pork cuts with excess fat, against OPA regulations, in the second day of a hearing on an injunction suit before Federal District Judge Barnes.

Joel H. Thornton, head of the meat, poultry and dairy products department of the New York regional OPA office, testified that he held numerous meetings thruout the midwest in January and February in an effort to explain OPA regulations to packers, wholesalers and retailers.

Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Bonds Offered Publicly

Shields & Co. and associates yesterday were high bidders for a new issue of 10½ million dollars of bonds sold under competitive bidding by the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio railroad. They bid 97.20, specifying a 3¾ per cent coupon. Reoffering at 98¾ was announced.

Saving of Alcohol Plants Asked

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—An appeal to President Roosevelt to prevent disposal of government financed industrial alcohol plants as surplus war property is planned by a senate agriculture subcommittee in a few days, Chairman Gillette [D., Ia.] disclosed today.

Gillette said the subcommittee was "gravely concerned" over reports that some administration officials were inclined to treat the grain alcohol plants, most of which are in the midwest farm belt, as war property to be sold in the same manner as munitions works for any post-war use the purchasers desire.

Urge Continued Output.

Earlier his group had made public a report recommending that the plants be kept in production to assure a market for surplus grains and to assure an alcohol supply for synthetic rubber manufacture.

Sen. Aiken [R., Vt.], a subcommittee member, suggested this plan could be carried out by requiring that congress review any industrial alcohol plant sale in the same way it will control synthetic rubber plant disposal.

The committee report recommended the appointment of a Presidential committee to survey the advisability of turning surplus grains in greater quantities into the industrial market.

Grain Can Be Replaced.

Altho synthetic rubber now is made from both grain alcohol and petroleum, the committee argued that grain "is replaceable and petroleum reserves are being depleted."

Clemens U. Brinkman of Chicago asked the subcommittee to intervene in obtaining war production board approval for conversion of an unused Chicago brewery into an industrial alcohol plant.

Brinkman said he represented a group proposing to incorporate as the Chicago Industrial Alcohol company. Loans were sought from the Defense Plant corporation to carry out a $383,000 conversion program at the Brand brewery, while the private group would put in "up to $250,000" as operating capital.

Brinkman said the DPC and other agencies would take no action unless the WPB approved, and that Dr. D. P. Morgan, head of the WPB's chemical branch, rejected the application on the ground that grain supplies were inadequate to justify the additional plant.

RECORD BUYING URGED TO BRING PEACE STABILITY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—The federal reserve board said today that people must buy more consumer goods and services after the war than they ever did if the United States is to maintain a stable economy.

In its monthly business review in the Federal Reserve Bulletin, the board said "in the early years of peace it is not to be expected that production will continue at the war time peak. Hours of work will be shorter, and many pressures for maximum effort will cease.

"But to provide jobs for all those seeking employment and to provide the high standard of living that the economy is capable of producing, output will need to be much larger than it was in any pre-war year.

"In the early post-war years it may be expected that consumer durable goods will be in great demand and the volume of residential building and other types of construction will be much larger than at present."

REALTORS TOLD OPA WILL FORCE DEPOSIT RETURN

Members of the Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders association were warned yesterday by John F. McCarthy, former OPA Chicago area rent office head, that he had received word from Washington that violators of the new OPA edict calling for return of "security deposits" would be prosecuted. McCarthy, who last Saturday resigned his job as rent control chief to resume private law practice, spoke at a luncheon of the association in the Builders' club.

Joseph E. Merrion heads a committee which will go to Washington Sunday to argue against the Sept. 1 ruling which not only prohibits builders from taking all security deposits with the exception of $10 to replace lost keys and the like, but demands that they refund all deposits already obtained.

ICC Denial of Suburban Rail Fare Boost Set Aside

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP).—The Illinois Supreme court today set aside four of five Illinois Commerce Commission denials of proposed increases in Chicago suburban area railroad commutation fares involving increases of approximately 10 per cent and remanded them to the commission. Involved were the Burlington, Rock Island, Milwaukee, and North Shore. A fifth commission order, affecting the Chicago and Western Indiana, was affirmed by the commission.

2 MINES SEIZED BY GOVERNMENT SHUT BY STRIKES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19 (AP).—Officials of the solid fuels administration said tonight two government seized bituminous coal mines have been shut by new strikes. The Smith-Connally act forbids any one to promote a strike against the government.

Members of the United Mine Workers—miners rather than supervisory employes who originally struck—walked out at a mine of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company near Beckley, W. Va., and one leased by the Ford Motor company near Stone, Ky. Officials did not know the cause of the Kentucky strike, but said the West Virginia miners struck after a foreman was demoted to digging coal on the ground there was an over supply of foremen.

Western Union Defers Refunding Debentures

New York, Sept. 19 (AP). — The Western Union Telegraph company today deferred plans for a 25 million dollar debenture refunding program after the New York state public service commission issued an opinion holding that the proposed program was not exempt from the commission's jurisdiction.

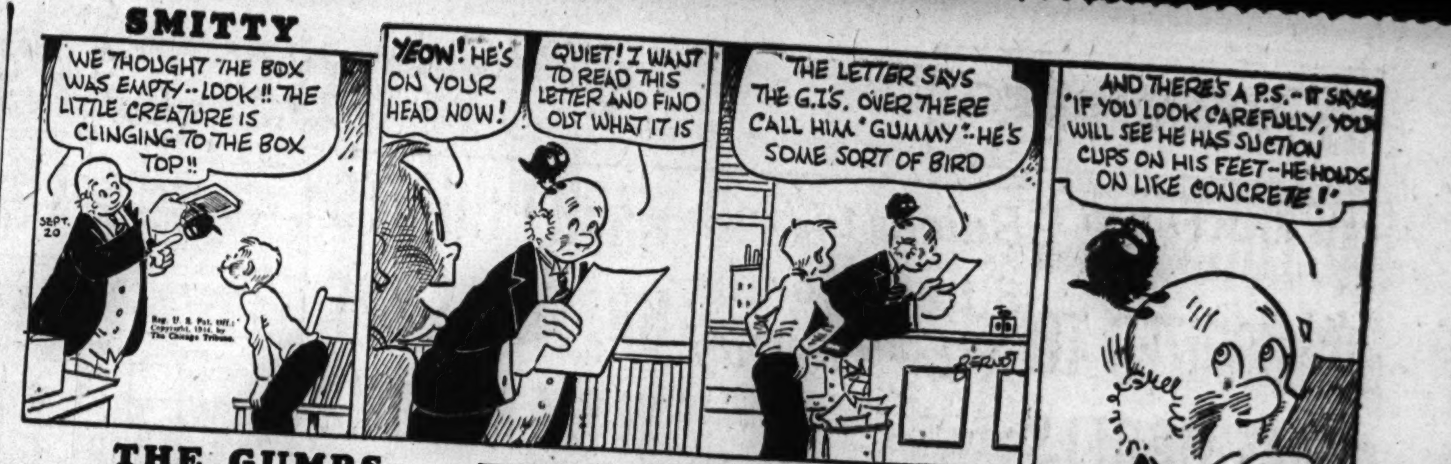
SMITTY



WE THOUGHT THE BOX WAS EMPTY--LOOK!! THE LITTLE CREATURE IS CLINGING TO THE BOX TOP!!
SEPT. 20
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1944, by The Chicago Tribune.
YEOW! HE'S ON YOUR HEAD NOW!
QUIET! I WANT TO READ THIS LETTER AND FIND OUT WHAT IT IS THE LETTER SAYS THE G.I.'S. OVER THERE CALL HIM "GUMMY"--HE'S SOME SORT OF BIRD
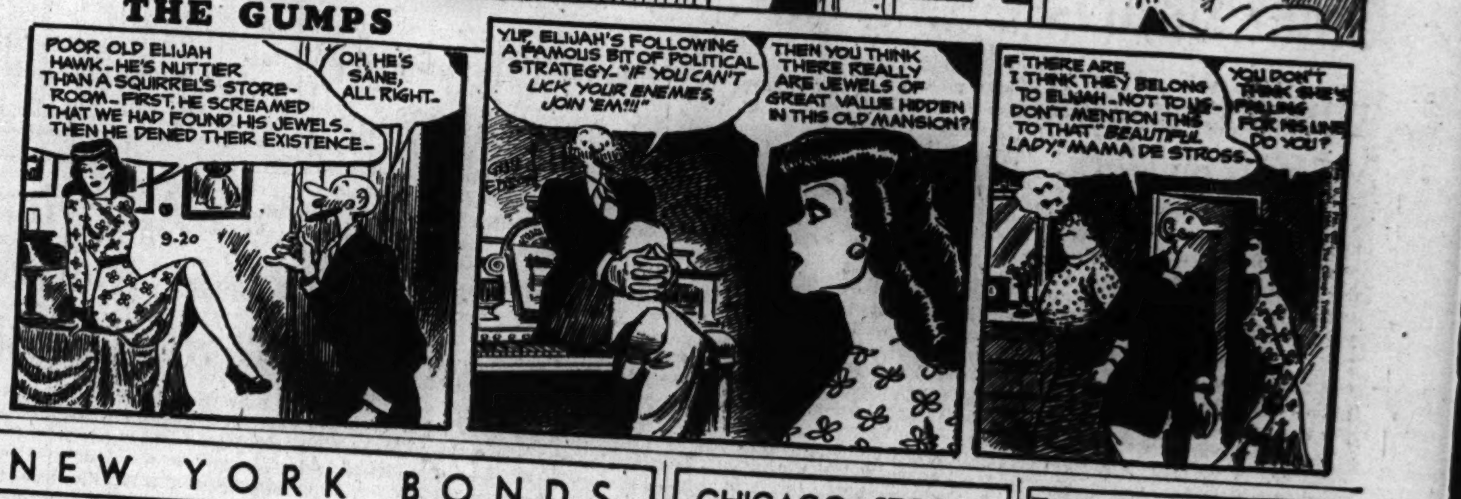
BERNDT
AND THERE'S A P.S.--IT SAYS "IF YOU LOOK CAREFULLY, YOU WILL SEE HE HAS SUCTION CUPS ON HIS FEET--HE HOLDS ON LIKE CONCRETE!"

THE GUMPS



POOR OLD ELIJAH HAWK--HE'S NUTTIER THAN A SQUIRREL'S STORE-ROOM--FIRST, HE SCREAMED THAT WE HAD FOUND HIS JEWELS--THEN HE DENIED THEIR EXISTENCE--
OH, HE'S SANE, ALL RIGHT--
YUP, ELIJAH'S FOLLOWING A FAMOUS BIT OF POLITICAL STRATEGY--"IF YOU CAN'T LICK YOUR ENEMIES, JOIN 'EM!!!"
GUS EDSON
THEN YOU THINK THERE REALLY ARE JEWELS OF GREAT VALUE HIDDEN IN THIS OLD MANSION?
IF THERE ARE, I THINK THEY BELONG TO ELIJAH--NOT TO US--DON'T MENTION THIS TO THAT "BEAUTIFUL LADY," MAMA DE STROSS--
YOU DON'T THINK SHE'S FALLING FOR HIS LINE, DO YOU?

CORPORATE TITLES.

Will you kindly inform me what the difference is between the following terms: company, company, inc., corporation, and John Doe & Sons, Inc.?—M. J.

Under state laws, the name of an incorporated business must, as a rule, clearly designate its corporate status. All these terms are employed for that purpose, and, in effect, there is no great difference between them.

In some states, the precise title form is optional with the incorporators, so long as it is in keeping with the general purposes of the corporation law. The law, for example, may provide that the name shall contain the word corporation, company, incorporated, or limited or shall end with the abbreviation of one of these terms, the choice being left to the company.

John Doe & Sons or John Doe & Co. is a form often used by unincorporated firms. When an incorporated business uses a name of that or similar form, the abbreviation, Inc., is added as a rule to indicate that it is a limited liability organization. Limited or Ltd. as a part of the corporate name serves a similar purpose and is generally so employed by British and Canadian companies.

BYRD ATTACKS F. D. R. DELAY IN PAY ROLL CUTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt's plan to wait until the end of the war before liquidating overstaffed war agencies and trimming a possible million and a half workers from the federal pay roll was attacked tonight by Sen. Byrd [D., Va.], who asserted that between 300,000 and 400,000 civilian employes could be cut loose immediately without impairing government functions.

Byrd, chairman of the joint economy committee and a frequent critic of New Deal pay roll loading and man power hoarding, made his attack in a statement issued after it was disclosed that the President had ordered a survey on plans for converting the government from a war to a peace basis. Byrd approved Mr. Roosevelt's order for the survey, but found fault with the President's observation that "most of the planning will probably have to wait for execution until the Japs have surrendered."

Bureaus "Overmanned."

"It is not necessary for the President to await the end of hostilities to materially reduce the number of federal employes, which has now reached an all-time high of 3,016,919," the senator said. "Virtually every branch of the federal government is grossly overmanned in civilian personnel. Not less than 300,000 or 400,000 civilian employes could be immediately relieved from duty without in any way impairing the public service."

Byrd charged that instead of personnel being reduced in the last three months, there has been an increase of 96,883. He has introduced a bill, on which hearings will be started soon, to compel an immediate reduction of at least 300,000 employes.

Pay Roll Tripled Since 1940.

Government civilian employment has tripled since May, 1940, when the arms program began. Then there were approximately 1 million employes, 133,000 of them in Washington. Today 270,502 of the 3 million odd civilian workers live in that city. The country ended World War I. with approximately 918,000 civilian government workers, 118,000 of them Washington residents.

Mr. Roosevelt's call for a survey of the war agencies was made in a letter to Budget Director Harold D. Smith. It called on Smith to reëxamine the programs, organization, and staffing of government agencies and to submit at the earliest possible date recommendations for adjusting the executive branch to the needs of peace.

SECRETARY.

In business circles, a stenographer-executive secretary is a professional sufferer without a Union Card. One who combines the qualities of a watchdog with the patience of a saint and memory of an elephant, is called a good secretary. To be considered executive timber, a secretary's boot-training must be under straw-bosses and presidents, some sane, some swivel-chair prima-donnas. From the maturity of such experience, unsung diplomats are born. A secretary of top-drawer efficiency who survives draft age gets about $250 monthly and this he splits between taxes and Aspirin. I'm looking for a major headache.
